BELGIUM READY TO QUIT GOLD, DEVALUE MONEY

Expect Parliament to Act Today.

BRUSSELS, March 28.—(AP)—Abandonment of the gold standard, a 27 per cent devaluation of the currency, and the tying up of Belgium's franc with the British pound were understood tonight to be provided in a declaration the new cabinet will make to parliament.

The general view expressed in financial quarters is that a devaluation program will be announced at a joint convocation of parliament tomorrow. The government completed drafting its statement of policy which is expected to require two hours to read and to touch off a stiff parliamentary battle with political groups still standing behind the gold standard.

The government closed all bourses for three days tonight to clear the way for announcement of its monetary policies.

Spending Spree Develops.

An overnight boom has developed in land sales and people seem to have gone on a buying spree in every kind of commodity from automobiles to groceries, all seeking to spend their money now while it is well above the figure that the government is expected to set for the belga tomorrow.

Premier Paul Van Zeeland also, it is understood, will suggest that the Bank for International Settlements call an international conference for currency stabilization as soon as possible and propose the denunciation of all commercial treaties. Belgium recently negotiated such a treaty with the United States.

Premier Van Zeeland's coalition cabinet, which this week replaced that headed by Georges Theunis, faces stiff opposition in parliament should it declare for devaluation. A considerable bloc of legislators favors retaining the franc [the belga, the unit of exchange established in 1926, is equal to five paper francs] at its present gold value.

Long hours appeared to be in store for the parliament after its leaders decided to keep it continuously in session until the anxiously awaited program is either approved or rejected.

Emergency Powers Sought.

Immediately after the government discloses its program it will introduce two bills, one of which will be a monetary measure fixing the percentage of devaluation. The second bill is expected to seek extensive powers for one year to enable the government to pursue a policy of guided economy somewhat after the methods of President Roosevelt.

Although the stock exchange was closed, banks remained open and were allowed to buy small sums of sterling at yesterday's official rate of 102.65 francs to the pound. They were prohibited from selling foreign currencies. The government issued restrictions requiring special licenses for transportation of gold by rail, air, motor or post. The newspaper Le Peuple this evening estimated last week's flight of capital from Belgium at 800,000,000 francs, with bank deposits off 1,000,000,000 francs.

French Fear End of Gold.

PARIS, March 28.—(AP)—A collapse of the gold bloc within a few months was feared by financiers today as a consequence of the reported imminent devaluation of Belgian currency, a sudden Swiss monetary crisis, and the increasing gravity of the French money situation.

Switzerland's problem became suddenly acute through the reported flight of 100,000,000 Swiss francs during the last few days. Exchange experts said this constituted a serious drain on Switzerland and was dangerous because of the tight situation of all gold bloc countries.

British Doubt Stabilization.

LONDON, March 28.—(AP)—Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, making a statement in the house of commons today a few hours after the closing of all Belgian markets in widespread anticipation of inflationary action in Belgium, declined to hold out any hope for international currency stabilization.

"I am not aware," he said, "of any steps which could at this moment be taken by the government to establish a common monetary standard."

Holland Renews Gold Pledge.

AMSTERDAM, March 28.—(AP)—Holland's financial structure is solid and the country "will continue its present monetary policy," Dr. Leonardus Jacobs A. Trip, president of the Bank of the Netherlands, said tonight.

Buttressing the banker's statement, a number of influential newspapers asserted the expected monetary devaluation in Belgium cannot shake the financial position of the gold countries of Holland, France, and Switzerland.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 28.—[Special.]—After the august senate had bogged itself down in a mire of preliminary and constitutional abstractions and had to vote its way out, it finally reached a vote today on the simple matter of the pink slip in income tax returns. The vote was 53 to 16 for repeal of the so-called snooper, or publicity, provision.

Vice President Garner, a shrewd parliamentarian, nevertheless ducked a ruling on a point of order on which the chair ordinarily rules automatically, and thus prevented prolonged debate on the substance of the La Follette amendment drastically increasing the individual income rates. The validity of the point of order was submitted to the senate itself, which limited debate to that fine question and nothing was heard about the necessity of more taxes to finance the New Deal's spending program.

Debate for Several Hours.

The senate, however, enjoyed itself for several hours debating whether an amendment to increase taxes could be added to an amendment to a revenue bill without invading the constitutional prerogatives of the house of representatives. The discussion was suggestive of a well fought high school debate on the hen vs. the egg.

Senator Pat Harrison [Dem., Miss.], chairman of the finance committee, made the point of order to the amendment of Senator La Follette [Radical, Wis.] and the debate started even before the chair ruled that he wouldn't rule.

This brought from Senator Neely [Dem., W. Va.], chairman of the rules committee, "a point of order that debate on a point of order is out of order."

This point of order was sustained, but Mr. Garner said he would leave the remaining constitutional question to the senate itself.

New Alignments Made.

The senate's propensity for debate—no matter what the question may be—was soon illustrated by one of the strangest alignments seen in that body in many days. Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg [Rep., Mich.], who probably would have voted against the taxing amendment, went to the support of Senator La Follette and was ably assisted by Senator Huey P. Long of Louisiana. Senator George W. Norris [Radical, Neb], who said he favored the amendment, argued vehemently that it was out of order.

"In 1916 Vice President Marshall ruled that notwithstanding a rule of the senate that legislation may not be attached to an appropriation bill, when the house opens the door to general legislation the senate may walk through it," said Senator Vandenberg.

Robinson Joins Debate.

"That referred to a senate rule and had nothing to do with the constitution," said Majority Leader Joseph T. Robinson.

"The question is whether this bill purports to raise revenue," said Senator Borah [Rep., Idaho].

"Isn't this bill known as the pink slip amendment a part of a bill, the 1934 act, to raise revenue?" asked Huey Long.

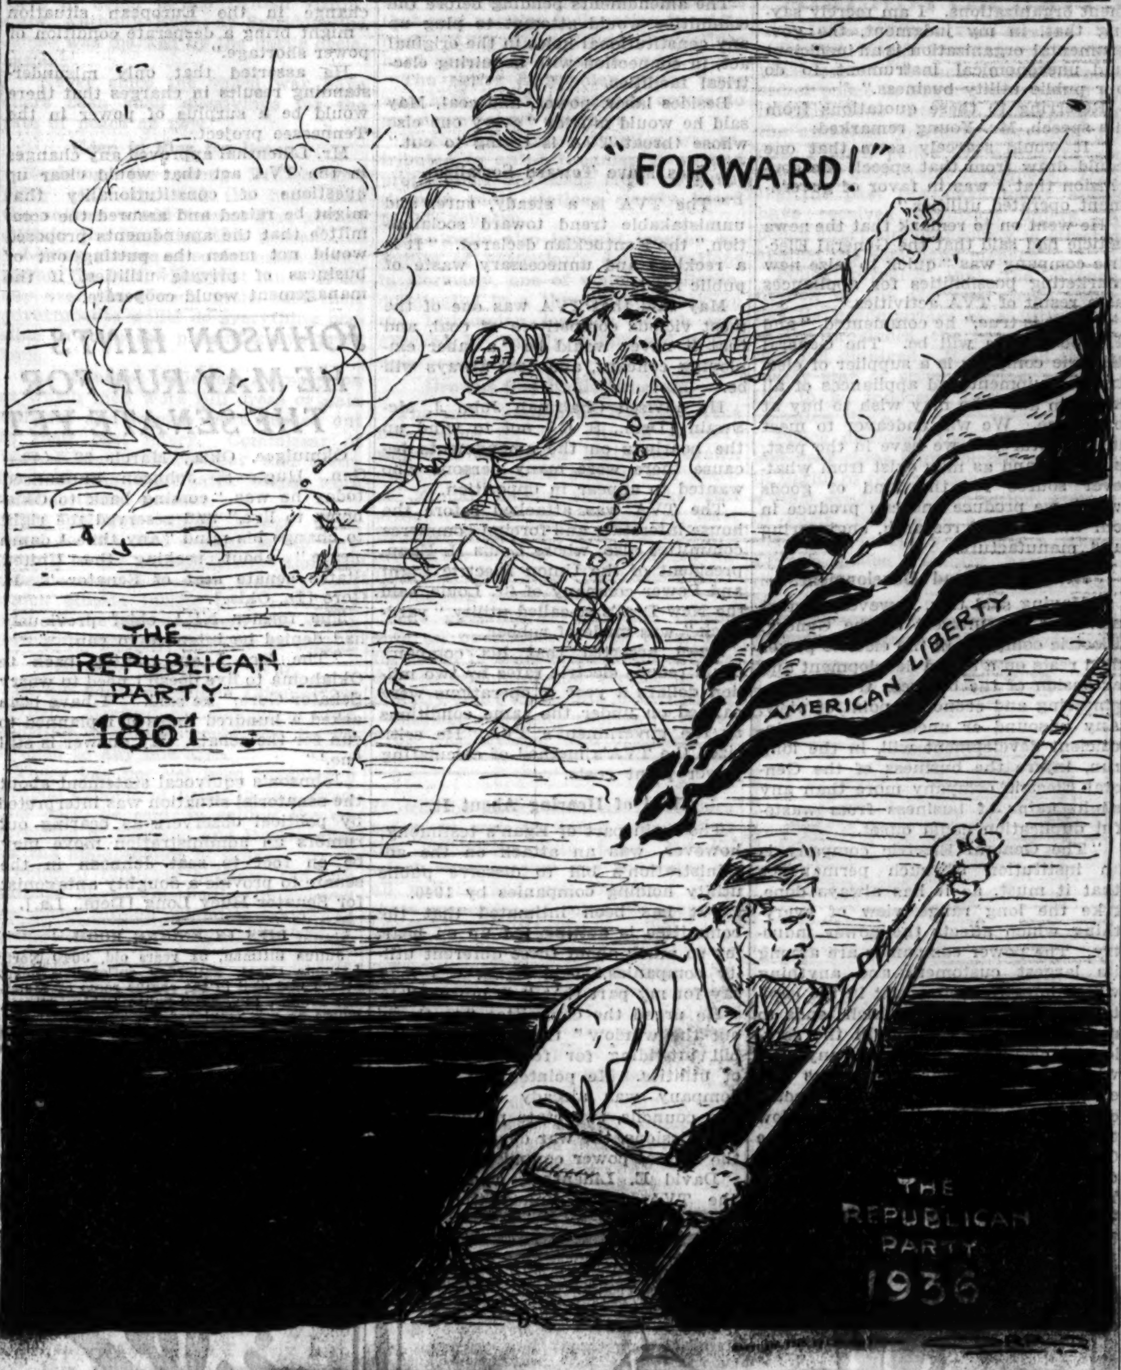
"O no," said Senator Connally [Dem., Tex.].

"O yes," chorused Huey Long and Senator La Follette.

When the vote on the point of order was finally reached it was sustained by a thunder of "yeas."

The bill now goes to conference with the house, which will determine the fate of the amendment submitted by Senator Costigan [Dem., Colo.] and accepted by Senator Harrison. It provides for inspection of tax returns by state and municipal taxing officials.

BORN TO SAVE THE NATION



All Wisconsin Kidnap Bandits Captured Here

The three robbers who were routed in their attempt to hold up the Bank of Mauston, Wis., on Wednesday were in custody at the state's attorney's office last night after their capture here.

Still a complete mystery, however, was the whereabouts of two men and two women whose car the bandits commandeered near Janesville, Wis., in their flight from Mauston, and whom they held as hostages during the ride to Chicago.

One of the captured bandits declared that the gang trio had left the car, a green Studebaker [license number not known], at 52d avenue and Ogden avenue, Cicero, telling their captives to "drive on." The three fugitives then separated, he declared.

Confess Part in Holdup.

The men in custody, who, according to police, have confessed their part in the attempted robbery, are:

Michael Monczynski, 21 years old, alias Mike Mahoney, 3231 South 50th court, Cicero, a former Wisconsin farm hand; Thomas Stopa, 23 years old, 3205 South 50th avenue, Cicero, said by police to have a record as an automobile thief, and Edward Cudecki, 22 years old, 3019 South 49th avenue, Cicero.

Monczynski's capture came on information furnished by John Meyers, a road grader living near Mauston, who knew him when Monczynski was working on a farm just outside that town last summer.

By chance Meyers was near the bank during the attempted robbery and saw his erstwhile acquaintance flee with the other two men. He communicated with authorities, and Sherif Morg Rider of Juneau county came to Chicago to enlist the aid of investigators here.

Captured at Sister's Home.

Policemen Patrick McNamara, Joseph Healy, and Lorimer Hyde of the state's attorney's office, Agent A. P. Barber of the federal department of justice, and the sherif went to 4408 West 28th street, home of Monczynski's sister. Hearing the men at the door Monczynski fled through a rear window.

He was captured hiding in an empty packing case in the rear of 4412 West 28th street and was taken to the state's attorney's office. In his overcoat, in the house, the police found a pistol.

After several hours of questioning at the state's attorney's office, Monczynski revealed the name of Stopa and led Policemen Healy and Hyde to his home. There they found him hiding under a pile of clothing in the attic.

Early this morning the third robber, Cudecki, was arrested at his home.

NAZIS ORDER SMALLER FLAGS BECAUSE OF SHORTAGE OF WOOL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, March 28.—Gen. Werner von Blomberg, minister of war, ruled today that the size of flags must be reduced wherever possible "because of the shortage of wool. Flags must be as small as possible, depending on local conditions. The number of flagstafs must also be reduced."

New regulations for the sale of woolstuffs were issued today, but firms making uniforms are promised preferential treatment.

School teachers are to be impressed into service to help speed up military training in Germany. Officers are confronted with the difficult task of providing training for the sixteen annual classes which were not allowed to do military service under the provisions of the Versailles treaty. All men up to the age of 35 will be trained.

Woman, 77, Weds Widower Over Daughter's Protest

Mrs. Mary E. Gray, 77 years old, of Aurora, and Charles W. Thompson, 61 years old, of Bellair, were married yesterday at Geneva by the Rev. E. Frazier Bell of the First Congregational church. Mr. Thompson is a widower with 13 children. The couple will make their home on his chicken ranch. Mrs. H. A. Rainsford of Aurora, daughter of the bride, said she had objected to the remarriage of her mother, but that the protest was disregarded.

One Last Hope for Saving Life of Girl Dancer

Miss Virginia Brown, 16 years old, is clinging tenaciously to life in the West Suburban hospital in Oak Park, while physicians are pooling their resources to aid her.

A call went out yesterday for blood donors who have recently suffered from erysipelas or scarlet fever, and whose blood is of a type with the girl's. Upon the discovery of such a person hangs the girl's main chance to live.

Gets Blister on Heel.

Virginia is the daughter of Mrs. Charles P. Howard, 1120 South East avenue, Oak Park, and is a senior in the Oak Park High school. She has studied dancing for several years, and on March 9 made her first professional appearance as a dancer in a downtown theater. During that evening her dancing slipper wore a blister on her left heel. Rather than miss her next appearance Virginia pricked the blister and completed her part of the program.

The blister failed to heal, and on March 13 Dr. Chester W. Trowbridge, 840 South Oak Park avenue, Oak Park, was called. He found Virginia had developed a serious streptococcus infection and ordered her to the hospital.

Prepare for New Treatment.

Amputation of the infected foot was discussed, but it was concluded that it was too late; the infection had become too general. Recourse was taken to a treatment that has been used successfully in the Michael Reese hospital.

Erysipelas and scarlet fever are fairly common streptococcic diseases. Physicians at Michael Reese learned that the blood of persons who are convalescing from these diseases, which contain anti-bodies to counteract streptococci, is beneficial in cases such as Virginia's. However, it must be of the same type as that of the patient who is to receive it.

Fifty physicians at the West Suburban hospital canvassed the case histories of their patients. A dozen prospective donors of blood were found, but none had blood of the same type as Virginia's. Yesterday Dr. Trowbridge sent out a call for other volunteers.

"Last Hope for Life."

"Gifts of the right type of blood from erysipelas and scarlet fever convalescents," Dr. Trowbridge said, "constitute the girl's last hope for life. Without such convalescent serum she cannot live much longer.

"Her disease is commonly swiftly fatal. She has fought bravely for life, but is becoming steadily weaker. Her tenacity has amazed us."

For nearly two weeks Virginia has been delirious with a fever which at times has reached 106 degrees. Yesterday her temperature was 105.2 degrees.

U. S. Debs Pay Their Money; See the King

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 28.—Six American damsels and two matrons, decked in the best dresses that New Deal dollars can buy, tonight made a bowing acquaintance with King George and Queen Mary of Great Britain in Buckingham palace.

Assorted congressmen and the American ambassador had previously certified the debutantes and matrons were proper products of democracy and quite fit for the discriminating eyes of their Britannic majesties. Proud papas and devoted husbands made the necessary financial arrangements so that the girls and matrons could pass the big gates which have usually kept democracy's daughters outside.

Be it said at once that royalty paid no attention to the financial aspect of the first court of this season. They were content that British dressmakers, jewelers, hotel keepers, court instructors, etc., made tidy sums, especially welcome in these hard times even though some of the dollars came from persons who once had been "in trade."

The Presentees.

Mrs. Robert Worth Bingham, wife of the American ambassador here, was accompanied by Mrs. Jesse Isidor Strauss, wife of the American ambassador to France, and seven of the wives of the American diplomatic corps whose special privileges included being presented to their majesties before the general circle was admitted to the palace.

Six American debutantes and two matrons among the general circle were Miss Mary Pye Hutcheson of Houston, Tex.; Miss Jeanne Millet, New York City; Miss Carolyn Nash and Miss Stellita Stapleton, Washington, D. C.; Miss Anne Richardson, Hyeres, France; Miss Jean Watts, Lynchburg, Va.; Mrs. Gaspar Bacon, Jamaica Plain, Mass., and Mrs. Medley G. B. Whelpley, Greenwich, Conn.

The Presentation.

Wearing the obligatory three ostrich plumes for the prince of Wales and dresses made according to the queen's own wishes, the American women tripped lightly into the throne room to win the coveted decoration known as "PC"—presented at court. Each in turn took a few slow steps forward to the throne where the king and queen sat in customary splendor with various princes, dukes and earls in the background and minor dukes, duchesses, marquesses, marchionesses, earls, countesses and lesser fry filling the rest of the room.

Before she had time to get a good eyeful, each presentee, obeying rigid instructions, plopped down in front of the king, bumping one dainty knee against the polished floor. That was curtsy No. 1—a far cry from the breezy handshake customary in an uncouth democracy. Then there were three steps more forward and each girl plopped a knee against the floor in front of the queen.

If the king and queen noticed these goings on, neither batted an eye. They just sat and looked majestic in the very best British manner.

And So On for 2 Hours.

Those two curtsies done, each woman backed out of the room—no one dares turn his back to the king and queen—and joined the other holders of the desirable but wholly useless PC.

Things went on like that for two hours until the king and queen, who were presiding over a court numbering ninety-odd, gave the signal for all present to make a polite dash toward the refreshments. The dukes and duchesses eased the crowns or coronets on their tired heads, swords clanked, jewels flashed, scarlet clad officers eased sore feet, and the show was over except for the eats.

They were deeply appreciated, as practically none of the women presented at court had a chance to get a square meal before lining up in the Mall leading to the palace to await the opening of the gates. They started gathering soon after dusk and waited

FIND ROOSEVELT OWNS GENERAL ELECTRIC STOCK

TVA Creates Market for Products.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Schenectady, N. Y., March 28.—[Special.]—The General Electric company, which has reported a steady increase in earnings under the New Deal power expansion program, numbers among its stockholders President Roosevelt and the President's mother, Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt.

The combined holdings of the President and the elder Mrs. Roosevelt total 5,792 shares of common stock in the company. President Roosevelt alone holds 1,792 shares as trustee with Frederic A. Delano and others for Mrs. Roosevelt, and the latter holds an additional 4,000 shares in her own name.

Examine Stockholders' List.

This disclosure came today after an examination of the stockholders' lists at the headquarters of the company here. Revealed also were the names of the largest stockholders in the company. The names of some of the most wealthy families of New York and Boston are on the list.

Owen D. Young, chairman of the board of General Electric, was quick to point out that nearly 29 million common shares have been issued and that no one stockholder holds more than 1 per cent of the stock. The Roosevelt holdings, he declared, date back many years and multiplied to their present total mainly as a result of stock dividends.

The stock at present is quoted at $22 a share. The shares held by the Roosevelt family have a present market value of about $127,000. A regular dividend of 60 cents a share was paid during the last year. The President and his mother received a dividend check for $3,475.20 from General Electric. This was a substantial increase over the preceding year, when a dividend of 38 cents a share, or $2,200.96, was paid on the Roosevelt shares.

Stock Fluctuates Widely.

When President Roosevelt took office March 4, 1933, the stock was quoted at 11⅞. It had been down to 10½ only a few weeks previously. During 1933 the stock fluctuated widely, going as high as 30¼ at one time. It sagged in 1934, ranging between a low of 16⅞ and a high of 25¼.

The Roosevelt holdings were thus worth only $68,780 when the President assumed office. The shares closed today at 22⅛, their total value being $128,148. Their increase in value under the inspiration of the New Deal has been $59,368.

Last Monday the company reported a net profit of $19,726,044 on 1934 operations. This compared with a net of $13,429,739 in the preceding year. Sales were up 21 per cent during the year.

Both Are Leading Democrats.

Both Mr. Young, the chairman, and Gerard Swope, president of General Electric, are prominent Democrats and are reported to be close to the administration. Mr. Young was mentioned as a possibility for a cabinet post when Mr. Roosevelt became President.

Among other shareholders in the company are Chief Justice Frederic Kernochan of New York, who, with Whitney Kernochan, is listed as the holder of 400 shares as executors of the estate of their father, Joseph Frederic Kernochan. Judge Kernochan at present is one of President Roosevelt's companions on Vincent Astor's yacht, the Nourmahal.

Held in Brokers' Name.

Donald R. Richberg, head of the National Industrial Recovery board and sometimes termed "assistant President," owns 50 shares, the records showed. Carl A. Bock of Knoxville, Tenn., who, as coördinator of the Tennessee Valley Authority, has much to do with the big power development there, purchased 10 shares in July, 1934, according to the records. John H. Fahey, chairman of the Federal Home Loan bank board and the Home Owners' Loan corporation, is listed as the owner of 50 shares.

About 1,000,000 shares with a present market value of 22 million dollars are held in the names of various brokers, the records revealed. Persons wishing to speculate in the stock could deal through brokers under assumed names and thus conceal their identities, it was pointed out.

The largest single block of shares is held by the General Electric Employés' Security corporation, controled by company employés. The corporation owns 352,000 shares

The largest individual corporation holder was disclosed as the Sun Life

Miss Annie B. Jennings, Boston, 40,000.
Trustee for Willis H. Ames, Boston, 17,000.
Trustee for Oakes Ames, Boston, 16,000.
Winthrop Ames, Boston, 5,000.
Trustee for Mary A. Frothingham, Boston, 15,000.
Adrian Archbold, 26 Broadway, New York, 8,000.
Anne Archbold, New York, 21,400.
Armor Archbold, New York, 4,000.
May B. Archbold, 9,280.
Trustee estate of Charles G. Thompson, New York, 24,000.
Trustee estate Elizabeth Thompson, New York, 12,000.
Louis G. Banker, Schenectady, 12,783.
Harriette M. Arnold, New York, 32,800.
Hobart Ames, Boston, 34,784.
George R. Gardner, Boston, 65,000.
Gerard D. Swope and family, 70,346.
Owen D. Young, 7,900.
Herbert C. Pell Jr., 10,676.
Mary S. Harkness, New York, 24,000.
Edward S. Harkness, New York, 50,000.
Olga E. Monks, Boston, 50,000.
Emma B. Auchincloss, New York, 37,000.
Florence E. Baldwin, Greenwich, Conn., 8,205.
Trustee estate of Henry C. Swords, New York, 9,000.

Proof of Majority Holders.

Number shares.	Number stockholders.
5 and less	33,200
6 to 10	42,000
11 to 25	37,800
26 to 50	25,400
51 to 100	16,900
100 and more	23,700
Total	179,000

The figures are estimated and as of April, 1934, it was stated.

A reporter first sought access to the records of General Electric stockholders last December. Several officials at that time asserted that such records were private and could not be disclosed. When THE TRIBUNE commented editorially on this refusal and remarked that the names of the owners of General Electric would make interesting reading, Chairman Young wrote to THE TRIBUNE, commenting:

"This editorial creates the kind of reaction in me which comes to any normal human being from a statement which he thinks is unjustified and unfair. I do not know what effort THE TRIBUNE made to discover who are the owners of the General Electric company. Certainly no inquiry has been made of me. It may be sufficient to say that the General Electric company has nearly 200,000 stockholders and, so far as our largest records show, the largest individual holding in the name of any person, institution or corporation is aprpoximately 1 per cent of the total number of shares outstanding. The average holding is approximately 150 shares per stockholder."

Asks to See Stockholder List.

A reporter then visited Mr. Young and again asked permission to see the stockholder lists. Mr. Young suggested that the reporter buy a share of the company's stock, thus becoming a stockholder of record, and gaining the right under the New York law to see the records. This was done and, with Mr. Young's approval, the records were opened to inspection.

Mr. Young also took note of a news story in THE TRIBUNE of Dec. 30, which pointed to the rising quotations on the stock of General Electric since the previous July.

The story stated that the gains in the stock had focused attention "on the part that Owen D. Young, the company's chaiman, and Gerad Swope, its president, have been playing in the New Deal's schemes for building big hydro-electric generating plants and financing the sale of househlod electric appliances with government money."

"The article then proceeded to call attention to a speech which was made in 1928 at the annual convention of the National Electric Association," wrote Mr. Young, "in which I advocated that dams on navigable streams for the primary purpose of aiding navigation and controling floods were clearly government activities; that public ownership of them could not be objected to, and if such dams created an incidental power supply some program of coöperation between the government and public utilities should be found by which such power could be made useful in the service of the public."

Chairman Young pointed out that in the same speech he had made the following statement regarding government operation of utilities:

"It seems to me that the experience of the last quarter century shows that efficiency and economy of operation are best accomplished by private ownership. I have had opportunity during the last few years to observe the operation of publicly owned enterprises in most of the principal countries of the world. By and large their efficiency in service is markedly less than the private companies. Indeed, it is scarcely too much to say that the best publicly owned enterprises are comparable only with the worst of the privately owned concerns. In many cases no one but the government would dare to give such inadequate and inefficient service as I have seen.

Not Responsive to Public Opinion.

"It may seem strange but it is true nevertheless that there is no agency in our civilized organization which is less responsive to public opinion than a government bureau. It is true in our country and in all. It results largely from the fact that government offices, once created, can only with the greatest difficulty be abolished and that a government bureau, once set up, can only with difficulty be corrected.

"The public does not know, even members of the legislature do not know, frequently even governors or presidents do not know how these bureaus function or how their powers may be curbed or dislodged. If such a bureau is in charge of a public activity, it may go on for years giving inadequate or unsatisfactory service and yet not be ousted.

"I know of some countries where the government has owned telephone service, for example, and is universally condemned both for inefficiency of service and inadequacy of extension, yet the people seem helpless to bring about a change through their political machinery.

"I know of publicly owned utilities which became the dumping grounds for employés until they were so waterlogged with employés that their own people said quite frankly they were the mere agencies for the distribution of doles by the government. What can be said of economy of operation in the face of experience like this? Let no man think that a government bureau in the management of such an enterprise is either an economical or an efficient instrument. There may be exception to the general statement, but by and large all of us who have watched with any degree of care the function of government know it to be true.

"I say again, and I wish to emphasize it, that I make no reflection upon the men who are in charge of these bureaus. They are faced with the greatest handicaps and limitations. Legislatures, unfamiliar with their business in a rage of economy, cut their appropriations and curtail their activities. Other legislatures, having a substantial and perhaps unexpected surplus balance dump large sums on condition that vast enterprises be begun and many for long periods may be left unfinished.

Refers to Quotations in Speech.

"I admire the patience and fortitude as well as the ability of many of the men who man these government organizations. I am merely saying that, in my judgment, the governmental organization is an inefficient and uneconomical instrument to do our public utility business."

Referring to these quotations from his speech, Mr. Young remarked:

"It would scarcely seem that one could draw from that speech the conclusion that I was in favor of government operated utilities."

He went on to remark that the news article had said that the General Electric company was "quick to seize new marketing possibilities for appliances as a result of TVA activities."

"That is true," he commented, "and I hope always will be. The General Electric company is a supplier of electrical equipment and appliances of all kinds to any who may wish to buy at our price. We will endeavor to meet in the future, as we have in the past, such demand as may exist from whatever source for the kind of goods which we produce and can produce in our own field of research, engineering and manufacture.

Rests on Sound Development.

"Having said this, however, I must add that the interest of the General Electric company in the electric power field rests on a sound development and extension of the business from an engineering and economic point of view. Any unsound or uneconomical or inefficient development will, in the long run, injure the business of the General Electric company more than any slight gains of business from wasteful duplication could offset.

"The General Electric company is an institution of such permanence that it must, as it has always done, take the long range view of everything which affects the power industry. The power companies are among its largest customers and anything which impairs their credit in the capital markets, anything which tends to make them less efficient in the service of electrical customers, anything which impairs their courageous and energetic development of the electrical field is necessarily a great blow to the business of a concern like the General Electric company and all other electrical manufacturers similarly situated."

NEW WAR ON TVA IS THREATENED BY HOUSE DEMOCRAT

May of Kentucky Sees Socialism Near.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 28.—[Special.]—The house military affairs committee today was warned by Representative Andrew J. May [Dem., Ky.] that he would call upon labor, power companies, and the coal industry to fight proposed amendments to the Tennessee valley authority act.

The amendments pending before the committee would attempt to plug up any constitutional holes in the original act, in connection with acquiring electrical facilities.

Besides labor, power, and coal, May said he would muster "every one else whose throat TVA is trying to cut."

Sees Move Toward Socialism.

"The TVA is a steady, sure, and unmistakable trend toward socialization," the Kentuckian declared. "It is a reckless and unnecessary waste of public funds."

May said that TVA was one of the most vicious competitors of coal, and that it never would be "a labor employing concern, and coal always will be."

He advised Chairman John J. McSwain [Dem., S. C.] not to wind up the hearings on the amendments because there were many persons who wanted to appear in opposition.

The TVA was attacked before the house interstate and foreign commerce committee also, where Louis H. Egan, president of the Union Electric Light and Power company of St. Louis, said the New Deal's so-called utility "yardstick" was made of rubber.

Egan asserted that his company could reduce electric rates by two million dollars a year if operations were carried on under the same conditions as the government's TVA. He criticized the TVA's method of calculating power plant costs.

Tired of Hearing About It.

The main part of Egan's testimony, however, was an attack on the administration's bill to dissolve public utility holding companies by 1940.

"It has been intimated that the committee is getting fed up on hearing so much about these different utility companies," said Egan. "I may say for my part that it is mutual."

He urged the committee "to throw out the window" that section of the bill providing for federal regulation of utilities. He pointed out that his company was already regulated by city councils, two state public service commissions, the war department, and the federal power commission.

David E. Lilienthal, a director of the TVA, today linked the project with national defense, telling the House military committee that a change in the European situation "might bring a desperate condition of power shortage."

He asserted that only misunderstanding results in charges that there would be a surplus of power in the Tennessee project.

Mr. Lilienthal approved any changes in the TVA act that would clear up questions of constitutionality that might be raised and assured the committee that the amendments proposed would not mean the putting out of business of private utilities, if the management would coöperate.

JOHNSON HINTS HE MAY RUN FOR THE SENATE YET

Okmulgee, Okla., March 28.—(AP)—Gen. Hugh S. Johnson announced today he was "coming back to Oklahoma to live," and reserved the right to change his mind "any time I damn please" about seeking the United States senate seat of Senator T. P. Gore [D., Okla.].

The former NRA chief previously had denied he intended to run.

"The fact I am coming back to Oklahoma to live doesn't need to worry Senator Gore," he said. "I have been asked a hundred times if I planned to run for the senate. My answer is still 'no.'"

Johnson's equivocal statement about the senatorial situation was interpreted by political observers as bearing out rumors an administration move may be on foot to seat Johnson in the senate to provide a doughty antagonist for Senator Huey Long [Dem., La.].

BOY, 3, AND TWO MEN ARE KILLED BY MOTOR CARS

Robert Klimczak, 3½ years old, 1514 North avenue, was killed yesterday when he was run over by a coal truck near his home. John Lueders, 44 years old, 5455 Melrose street, the driver, told police the child darted in front of his truck.

This death and two others yesterday increased the 1935 Cook county motor death toll to 216. Until 4 p. m. yesterday 177 had been killed in trafic accidents within the Chicago city limits and 3,408 had been injured. The other deaths:

Jacob Kramer, 64 years old, 415 South 21st avenue, Maywood. Fatally injured when he was struck by the automobile of a hit and run driver while crossing Washington boulevard near 18th avenue, Maywood.

Frank Fronson, 43 years old, 6514 South Lincoln street. Died in the Southtown hospital after he was struck at 63d street and Ashland avenue by a truck driven by George Benchak, 5211 South Campbell avenue.

BAILIFS DEPART AS MRS. FORGAN PAYS LIQUOR BILL

A detail of Municipal court bailifs last evening ended their vigil outside the apartment of Mrs. David R. Forgan, society matron of 209 Lake Shore drive, and today Attorney Samuel G. Rautbord, counsel for the Marco Liquor company of 153 North Wabash avenue, will appear before Municipal Judge Michael Kasper to ask that an attachment for Mrs. Forgan be quashed.

The whole affair was "straightened out," in the words of Attorney Rautbord, yesterday when Mrs. Forgan sent a messenger to his office with a check for $127.50. The money was sent to satisfy a judgment for $110 and court costs of $17.50. The judgment had been obtained by the liquor company after efforts to collect the balance due on a $299 bill for champagne and other alcoholic refreshments had failed.

The judgment was obtained several months ago and, after Mrs. Forgan had ignored three orders to appear before Judge Kasper, the attachment was issued on March 20. Last evening Mrs. Forgan would not discuss the matter.

BRITAIN GLOOMY; SEEKS NEW PLAN TO CALM EUROPE

Simon Admits 'Wide Divergence of Views.'

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 28.—Optimistic reports reached London tonight from Moscow concerning the visit of Capt. Anthony Eden, British lord privy seal. The dispatches featured the pledges made in the name of the British and Russian governments to exert strenuous efforts to maintain peace in Europe.

The cheery tone of the dispatches, however, was not reflected among officials in London. A rather gloomy view of the situation was indicated by Sir John Simon, foreign secretary.

Simon Reports to Commons.

Simon appeared in the house of commons and made a brief statement about his visit to Berlin. That Germany and Great Britain are hopelessly at odds on even fundamentals of the collective security plan worked out by the British and French in February was revealed by Simon's words:

"A considerable divergence of opinion between the two governments was revealed at the conversations."

In the next breath the foreign secretary added:

"But the result of the meeting was undoubtedly valuable because each side was able to thoroughly understand the view of the other, which was essential to any further progress."

The "considerable divergence of views," authoritative sources said, means simply that Britain is entirely convinced that there cannot be any further progress toward collective security until Hitler reverses his present policy. No such reversal is expected.

"Britain, France, and Italy must find some other means of maintaining peace at their conference at Stresa, Italy, on April 11," one observer said.

Await Report from Eden.

The British government is not expected to draft a new security scheme in its effort to compose the differences between Germany and the other powers until Eden returns from Moscow.

Simon in his report to the house of commons clearly intimated that Germany would not be invited to participate in the Stresa conference.

The seriousness with which the British greeted the failure of the peace envoy's talk with Hitler is shown by the fact that King George called in Simon this morning and asked for a complete report on what had happened. Ordinary foreign affairs come under the king's eye in written reports, and it is rare that he summons a minister for supplementary information.

Germany, it was disclosed here, rejected all the Anglo-French security proposals except the proposed air Locarno, by which England, France, Germany, and Belgium with Italy as a side partner agreed to take mutual action against any aerial aggressor.

Offers to Become Ally.

Instead of the eastern security pact with Russia, Hitler invited Simon to align England with Germany in a military alliance against the "Red Russian peril." Britain has no desire to do this.

Worse still from the British and French point of view, Hitler, it is understood, named his own price for returning to the league of nations—nothing less than return of colonies lost in the war by granting Germany mandates over them.

Hitler did not go as far as to say that he demanded the return of Poland's Pomorze [Polish corridor] and other lost territories. He did indicate Germany felt aggrieved by the losses of these territories, but reiterated he would not seek a readjustment by force of arms.

Britain and France both agreed the Anglo-French security proposal had to be accepted as a whole. The air Locarno pact is not enough and a competent British authority today repeated that England stood firm for collective security in Europe—in the east as well as in the west—whereas Hitler's statements to Simon show he is against collective security and wants to play a lone hand in the affairs of nations.

France in Warning to Germany.

GENEVA, March 28.—(AP)—Foreign Minister Pierre Laval has notified Germany that France will not permit the Nazi Brown Shirts of Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler to occupy the demilitarized Saar, the league of nations revealed today.

The warning of France was contained in an exchange of correspondence between her foreign minister and Roland Koester, German ambassador to Paris. It was published by the league.

Laval's letter said that France "enters the fullest reservations" if at any time Storm Troopers or compulsory labor service formations enter the demilitarized Saar. The Saar basin territory became German as a result of the Jan. 13 plebiscite. The foreign minister likewise warned against the development of Saarland highways or railroads except for economic purposes.

He recalled that the treaty of Versailles "prohibits in the Rhine area all permanent works for mobilization." He announced that should any difficulty arise in this respect France will urge its viewpoint through diplomatic channels "or by recourse to the procedure provided for in the treaties in force."

The German letter reiterated that the reich considers the Saar a part of the demilitarized zone and announced that the police in the Saar will total 1,500. This will make the maximum police strength on the demilitarized Rhine left bank 11,500.

The German letter added that to the four airports already in the demilitarized area, Germany will add an airport in Saarbruecken and a landing ground at Saarlouis for civil aviation. This will make a total of 16 landing grounds in the whole demilitarized area.

French Chamber Refuses to Adjourn.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, March 28.—The French government suffered a rebuff tonight when the chamber of deputies three times voted against immediate adjournment for the traditional spring parliamentary holiday.

On a Socialist motion the chamber voted 342 to 238 to meet Saturday for debate on reappoinment of the municipal districts of Paris. The fiery nationalist deputy, Henri Franklin-Bouillon, insisted that parliament should not be adjourned at a time when several important issues "affecting national defense still must be settled."

RUSSIA PROMISES TO HELP BRITAIN MAINTAIN PEACE

Eden Is Guest of Honor at Brilliant Banquet.

MOSCOW, March 28.—(AP)—Over tables groaning with the richest food in soviet Russia, British and Russian statesmen tonight pledged their respective governments to bend every effort toward solution of the present European crisis.

A brilliant banquet Maxim Litvinov, soviet commissar for foreign affairs, gave in honor of his British visitor, Capt. Anthony Eden, at Spiridonovka house was marked by the host's declaration:

"Never since the world war have there been such misgivings for the fate of peace as now."

Eden in Plea for Peace.

Replying, the young British lord privy seal expressed the hope that the nations would "stand firm and so sustain the cause of this peace."

Lifting glasses of soviet made champagne, the two, who spent much of today over the council table, said their governments would do everything possible to solve the present grave problems.

The banquet followed a reception at which men wore full dress or gala uniform and women were decked out in their best finery. Commissar of War Klement Voroshilov and members of the diplomatic corps were among those present.

The mission which brings Capt. Eden to the Red capital is an outgrowth of the stalemate over the proposed eastern European security pact which Russia insists is a necessary part of the peace system but which Germany has been refusing to accept.

Stresses Danger of War.

In his address tonight Litvinov repeatedly stressed the danger of war, insisting hostilities could not be restricted to any one area.

There has not yet been invented a weapon capable of firing in one direction only, he said, in calling the coöperation of England and Russia vital for the maintenance of peace.

Political relations between the two nations have "distinctly improved," the soviet foreign commissar said, and then, turning to his guest of honor, remarked:

"I believe your visit to Moscow, Mr. Eden, is not merely the beginning of such coöperation but a pledge of its continuation.

"The coming months, perhaps weeks, will show whether the statesmen of Europe who cannot fail to see and understand the ominous consequences of any infringement of peace in any part of Europe and feel their enormous responsibility will show themselves capable of organizing peace in the way urgently required by the international situation."

Urges Exchange of Views.

Replying, Eden said:

"It is my firm belief, a belief that in no sense was weakened by the visits [to Berlin] which I lately paid, that this position can only be improved by a frank exchange of views through personal contacts between representatives of the great nations of the world.

"Herein lies the element of prime importance in my present visit.

"After my return from Moscow, from Warsaw and from Prague there will be further consultations between the foreign secretaries of the United Kingdom, France and Italy at Stresa. It will be their task, as it is ours today, to seek to find a way out of the difficulties that beset Europe which shall be just and honorable to all nations and yet consistent with those principles of collective security in which we all believe.

"That is the common ground. Whatever differences of outlook there may be between us on other issues, upon that common ground I hope and believe we shall stand firm and so sustain the cause of peace."

Friendliness Is Stressed.

The British diplomat, receiving the press after his two hour conference with Litvinov this afternoon, confirmed statements previously made by the Russians that the talk was carried on in an atmosphere of marked friendliness.

However, he added, the discussions had been merely started and therefore he was not ready to make any really informative declarations.

The talks will be resumed tomorrow morning and tomorrow evening Eden will be received by Dictator Josef Stalin at his office in the Kremlin.

Eden's visit will be followed by the coming of Pierre Laval, French foreign minister, probably in late April, after he has brought the German question before the extraordinary session of the league of nations council called for April 15.

AUSTRIA ACTS TO AVERT CLASH OF POLITICAL ARMIES

VIENNA, March 28.—(AP)—Growing hostility between Austria's Catholic peasants and the Fascist heimwehr [home guards] preoccupied the Schuschnigg government tonight as the Upper Austria heimwehr men sent their leader, Prince Ernst von Starhemberg, this bellicose message: "Whenever our leader calls, and may that be soon, we are ready."

Simultaneously nine selected regiments of the Vienna heimwehr, playing at warfare, evidenced their preparedness with booming cannon, barking machine guns and wheeling airplanes. The message from Upper Austria, expressing the heimwehr's determination to resist opponents' demands for its dissolution, apparently convinced Von Starhemberg, vice chancellor in the cabinet, that the time had come to talk matters over frankly.

Consequently Chancellor Kurt von Schuschnigg called the ministers into session this evening. It was reported the threatened Catholic-heimwehr clash was the main topic of discussion. Josef Reither, minister of agriculture and leader of the Catholic peasants, recently demanded restoration of military conscription in Austria to permit the disbanding of the "private" armies.

At heimwehr massmeetings in Linz sharp opposition to the clerical influence in politics was expressed tonight. One speaker said, "The time to strike is now."

Lithuania to Protest to League Against 'German Interference'

KAUNAS, Lithuania, March 28.—(AP)—Luthuanian officials tonight disclosed their decision to protest to the league of nations against "German interference in Lithuania's domestic affairs."

This was the immediate outgrowth of anti-Lithuanian meetings held throughout Germany last night to protest the conviction earlier this week of 81 Germans on charges of plotting to seize the former German territory of Memel, now held by Lithuania.

A military court which tried 126 Nazis on charges of conspiring to bring about an armed uprising in Memel condemned four of them, who were convicted of murder, to die and sentenced 77 others to prison terms ranging from 1 to 12 years.

Struggle to Maintain Order.

A state of feverish excitement gripped this little country as the result of bitter propaganda campaigns that sent popular indignation to white heat. Authorities found themselves hard pressed to maintain order.

The entire Lithuanian police force was held under emergency orders to put down feared disorders.

Much of the tense situation was attributed to anti-Lithuanian news and propaganda broadcast from powerful German radio stations clearly heard in this country.

The radio also brought lengthy accounts of yesterday's demonstrations in Germany, one of which, at Berlin, culminated in a threatened attack on the Lithuanian legation, which was checked by hastily summoned police reënforcements.

Drowns Out Radio Program.

The radio station at Klaipeda [the new name for the city of Memel] waged a successful battle to drown out the big Berlin station and started similar action against the still stronger station in Koenigsberg, East Prussia, which long ago was declared an outlaw station by Lithuanian authorities because of its alleged anti-Lithuanian propaganda.

The government tightened censorship on newspapers. The press was forbidden to issue extra editions Tuesday to announce the verdict of the military court trying the Memel Nazis.

Kaunas university professors forced Prof. Stankevicus, who defended the Germans during the trial, to give up his chair, declaring he was "unworthy to teach." They locked the doors of his lecture room and declared a boycott against him. Police reserves were called out to patrol streets adjacent to the university.

General Returns His Medal.

DRESDEN, Germany, March 28.—(AP)—Maj. Gen. Schroeder, a retired German officer, who was decorated by the president of Lithuania for conspicuous services with the Lithuanian army in 1919 against Bolsheviks, returned the medal today. In a note he explained he declined to wear the decoration longer in view of Lithuanian verdicts against Nazis.

FIND NAZI POLICE IN FRANCE; START ALIENS FOR EXITS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, March 28.—Alarmed by the presence of a branch of the German secret police in France, as revealed by investigations into the kidnaping of the anti-Nazi journalist, Berthold Jacob, French police are acting to get rid of all undesirable foreigners. During the past few days many aliens have received expulsion orders. A police effort simultaneously is directed against the espionage menace.

Police revealed that the French branch of the German secret police has its headquarters in a little town in the provinces, the name of which was not divulged. It is stated that a major staf of sixty persons, pretending to be innocent Jewish refugees, operates there.

Police disclosed that on March 14 last year three high officials, all chiefs in Berlin of the Deutsche Arborlsfront, a Nazi syndicate organization, arrived in Paris, then were accompanied to the village by Hans Wesemann, whom French police recently have questioned. They were the founders of the branch.

BRITAIN REFUSES JAP ARGUMENT IN OIL GRAB DISPUTE

LONDON, March 28.—(AP)—Official quarters said today that the British government does not accept Japan's argument in her note replying to the British protest of last November against the Manchukuan oil monopoly.

It was stated that the next move is up the foreign oil companies [of the United States, Great Britain, and the Netherlands] which are negotiating with Manchukuo and Japan against the monopoly. After these negotiations, it was said that the government may again take action.

Japan's argument included the statement that the Japanese open door policy does not apply to those nations which do not recognize Manchukuo.

Expands Market for Farm Products.

MAKE CHICAGO THE FIRST CITY IN THE WORLD

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

The soy bean has given Chicago one of its newest industries which already is expanding a market for a farm product. The enterprise is a depression baby and it is akin to the new approach to the farm problem which contemplates the development of new products from what the farmer raises, new uses, new consumers, larger markets, and the application of modern laboratory methods to agriculture.

On the west side a $650,000 plant has been built by the Glidden company for the extraction of soy bean oil from Chicagoland soy beans. A lot of these beans are raised in these parts, especially near Chicago, Peoria, Bloomington, Decatur, and points in Indiana and Wisconsin.

130 Tons of Beans a Day.

The plant went into operation about three months ago and is now running five days a week, continuous process twenty-four hours a day. It is producing three tank cars of oil a week, 100 tons of soy bean meal a day, largely for cattle feed; also a flour for edible purposes which adds to bakery products a fluffiness and a flavor all its own, and likewise has a bleaching value.

Capacity of the plant is 130 tons of beans a day, or over 4,000 bushels. Total annual capacity of the plant is about 1,250,000 bushels.

This depression baby has grown so fast that within three months after it landed in the cradle the company is now expanding its plant and equipment to double capacity at a cost of half a million dollars.

About half the soy bean oil goes into paints, varnishes, and enamels. Most of the remainder is for salad and other edible oils. The beans yield about 18 per cent of oil.

In paints the soy oil is said to turn yellow less rapidly than other oils, such as linseed, and it holds its original color longer. It displaces linseed oil, and Illinois soy beans are thus displacing some of the flaxseed imports from Argentina.

Paint Center Shifting Here.

Likewise it displaces tung oil, or wood oil, from China. As one of the drying oils, soy oil appears to owe much of its popularity to Henry Ford, who has been extoling the soy bean as affording an outlet for a farm crop into the field of quick drying lackers and enamels for automobiles and other industrial purposes.

Here's another piece of news: The center of the paint and varnish industry has shifted definitly from Cleveland to Chicago, so the experts say. To indicate the trend, the Glidden company is a Cleveland concern.

The Sherwin-Williams company, another Cleveland company, is expanding its Chicago plant, which occupies 30 or 40 acres, in the Calumet sector. It is now moving in a research laboratory branch from Cleveland, with twelve or fifteen specialized chemists.

In the field of paints and varnishes and the synthetic lackers and enamels, vast quantities of which are used in the automotive and house furnishings industries, Chicago, by virtue of its transportation facilities, land, water, and air, is the gateway to the greatest volume of consuming power.

Romance of the Depression.

One of the depression romances is that of a man who started in 1930 with $4,000 and a merchandising idea for selling a fast drying enamel. Last year he did a gross business of more than $5,000,000 and had more than 8,000 dealer outlets.

Oddly enough both the soy bean and the tung oil originated in China. Now the tung shrubs or trees planted in Florida eight or ten years ago are producing some tung oil, while the soy bean grown here is also displacing Chinese tung oil.

Another trade item yesterday was typical of Chicago's growth as a center of scientific apparatus manufacture. The Central Scientific company exported to the Pasteur institute in Paris a photelometer, the latest device to measure hemoglobin in blood. It was conceived by the Mayo clinic of Rochester, Minn., and developed by Chicago instrument makers.

The same apparatus is used in industries in detecting impurities in any sort of material that can be put into solution, if it makes in the solution a characteristic color. The electric eye does it.

EN ROUTE WEST

SOUTH DAKOTA IN DUST STORM FOR THIRD DAY

Pierre, S. D., March 28.—[Special.]—For the third successive day duststorms swept over sections of South Dakota today, limiting visibility, endangering transportation, and laying down a covering of silt inside buildings as well as out of doors.

Meanwhile, other areas of the plains country were getting some relief from the "black blizzards" that have beset them for more than a week. Though dust clouds still hung in the air, cooler temperatures and diminished winds favored the harassed residents.

Poor visibility caused by the soil laden air was blamed for an automobile accident in which Charles Swift of Dupree was injured when his car went off the grade on a curve. In Dupree and Shelby visibility was limited to 100 feet.

Nearly suffocated Texans were digging themselves out of the season's worst duststorm in the southwest.

Although there was a strong, cold wind, the dust did not hit the southern part of Texas until last night.

GOVERNOR PLANS WASHINGTON TRIP TO TALK RELIEF

Gov. Horner will go to Washington as soon as Relief Administrator Hopkins can confer with him on the "operation" of public works grants in Illinois, as the governor phrased it last night.

He had been quoted as saying that he would make the trip to ascertain what portion of the $4,880,000,000 federal work relief grant would be apportioned to Illinois.

"I'm not always quoted correctly," the governor said.

Mr. Hopkins went to Florida with President Roosevelt.

CHASE LEAVES FOR LIFE TERM IN U. S. PRISON

Manacled hand and foot and guarded by three deputy United States marshals, John Paul Chase, accomplice of the slain "Baby Face" Nelson, started last night for the federal prison on Alcatraz Island in San Francisco bay. There he will serve a life term for the murder of Inspector Samuel P. Cowley of the department of justice.

Chase and Nelson slew Cowley last November 27 in the gun battle at Barrington in which Nelson and Federal Agent Herman Hollis were also killed. Sentence was pronounced on Chase yesterday by Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan, in accordance with the verdict returned by a jury Monday night.

Motion for a new trial was overruled, and Chase was given into the custody of the marshal. He was taken aboard the North Western railroad's Overland Limited, and will arrive in San Francisco at 8:30 a. m. Sunday.

LAWRENCE VAN NORMAN DIES.

Lawrence Van Norman, 32 years old, real estate broker and son of the late Ald. Harry Van Norman, was found dead yesterday, apparently of a heart attack, in his home at 436 South Irving avenue.

DAKOTA BOY, 12, CALLS HIS ARMY HORSES 'BEAUTS'

Old Artillery Team from Chicago Arrives.

Volin, S. D., March 28.—[Special.]—"I sure never thought this would happen. I'm the luckiest boy in the world—and I bet I'm the happiest."

That's what 12 year old Leroy Johnson, Volin farmer lad, today told the men who brought him the team of army horses he had asked Uncle Sam for—but hardly expected.

As the big, brown army truck from Chicago, bearing the "old team of artillery horses that are too old to be of any use," which Leroy asked for turned into the gate on the Johnson farm near Volin, this morning, Leroy's eyes bulged.

With tears streaming down his cheeks he ran to meet the truck—and the horses that are to be his very own from now on.

Thrilled by First Glimpse.

He clambered up the back end of the truck, got his first glimpse of the horses, and gulped:

"Gosh, ain't they beauts!"

Leroy said he and his brother would use the horses to ride back and forth from school.

The father, Charley J. Johnson, was proud of his son, exclaiming: "I guess its better for boys to have ideas—even crazy ideas—than nothing at all."

Ten year old Roger, whom brother Leroy had mentioned in his letter, was more interested in the truck. He toyed with the steering wheel and asked about this and that while Leroy petted the horses.

While newsreel photographers ground out the occasion for posterity, Leroy climbed upon Reno, the big bay, and then upon Judge.

The two army men who accompanied the horses on the long journey from Chicago were Private [first class] Carl Bobb and Private John Nelson, both stationed at Fort Sheridan.

Bobb, in charge, made the 550 mile journey in exactly 18 hours. They stayed last night in Sioux City, Ia.

He said the horses made the trip in fine shape, although unaccustomed to such traveling.

Bobb warned Leroy that he'll have to "go easy" with the horses for a while, because they will be using a new type of collar. They have never been used in the field before.

Makes Appeal to Washington.

The unusual gift was made upon Leroy's pathetic plea to the war department for "an old team to help my dad do some farm work this year."

"My dad has a farm here of 300 acres, with a big mortgage on it," he wrote army officials, "and we have only one team of old mares. My dad says he cannot afford to buy any horses, so I thought I would try and see if I could not help him some way."

Unable to grant the request outright because the government requires the sale of horses, Maj. Gen. Upton Birkie Jr., chief of the field artillery, inducted officers and enlisted men in the corps to subscribe an average of 3 cents each to buy the animals for Leroy. The team was sold at auction for $35, a newspaper representative buying the animals in accordance with the gift plan.

YOUTH SLAIN, PAL SHOT BY POLICE IN 4 MILE CHASE

An automobile chase extending over more than four miles of Oak Park and River Forest streets, in which two youths in a stolen car were pitted against three Oak Park policemen, ended last evening with the killing of one of the youths and the wounding and capture of the other.

Raymond Duchene, 17 years old, 4851 Iowa street, was the one killed. He was the driver of the fugitive car. The one wounded is Jack LaRocca, 16 years old, 2706 Wilcox street. Struck in the abdomen, he was taken first to the Oak Park hospital and later to the Bridewell hospital. His condition was regarded as critical.

Youths Flee Police Car.

The chase started at Jackson boulevard and Taylor avenue, in Oak Park. There the policemen, Clarence Mau, Anthony Brown, and William Jones, riding in search of robbers who have held up a number of Oak Park residents in the past week, approached the small car in which the youths were sitting. Duchene at the wheel apparently saw them and put on speed in an effort to escape.

He first drove south in Taylor avenue to Van Buren street, west to Lombard avenue and north in Lombard to Augusta street, where the police drew close enough to begin firing. The fugitives continued west in Augusta street, however, until they reached Thatcher avenue in River Forest.

With the police car in close pursuit, the youths slowed down and leaped out, attempting to escape on foot. Both were struck by the police bullets and fell. Duchene was hit in the mouth and died almost instantly.

Find Gun Beside Road.

There was no weapon in the car, but beside the road the River Forest police found a pistol that had been emptied of its six shells. Brown and Mau asserted that La Rocca had fired at them repeatedly during the chase. La Rocca denied he had had a pistol, and declared neither he nor Duchene fired on the pursuing policemen.

"We stole the car, all right," he said, according to police. "We picked it up at Central avenue and Lake street, late in the afternoon. But we were just out for a ride, not to stick people up."

WILL SEN. LEWIS RUN AGAIN IN 1936? IT ALL DEPENDS, SAYS HE

Washington, D. C., March 28.—(AP)—Will James Hamilton Lewis run for reëlection as United States senator in 1936?

His answer:

"Kings are dethroned and empires crashed, thus causing a nation to change within 30 days. My own fortune has caused me no worry. If any one else wishes the office, and proves capable of winning it, I wouldn't want any statement of mine to discourage him.

"Whether I shall run for reëlection is a matter of conjecture. I do not wish to be committed as far in advance as this. Many things might happen within the coming year. It remains to be seen whether I run for reëlection or for obscurity."

FEAR NEW GREEK UPHEAVAL OVER TRIAL OF REBELS

ATHENS, March 28.—(AP)—Greece faced the danger of another serious political upheaval tonight as a result of the trial by courts martial of those responsible for the recent revolt.

While military groups demand death sentences for 35 rebel leaders, the government itself is sponsoring leniency in order to avoid further bitterness and possible bloodshed. This led today to the postponement of the verdict in the trial of 28 men here.

Some army officers said if the government failed to carry out the execution of the rebel leaders the army itself would take matters in its own hands. This might mean the overthrow of the Tsaldaris government and the creation of a military dictatorship.

FARMERS DUMP 50 CANS OF MILK; PLANT AT ELGIN GUARDED

Fifty cans containing nearly 400 gallons of milk, the property of farmers who formerly were allied with the Pure Milk association, but have been selling their product recently to an independent concern, were forcibly dumped yesterday in route 58, two miles east of Elgin.

Carl Rasmussen, president of the Modern Dairy company, 1002 North Liberty street, Elgin, to which the milk was being taken, asserted that the automobiles used by the dumpers belonged to members of the Pure Milk association. At his request the Kane county sherif and the Elgin police furnished guards for the plant.

A meeting in the plant last night was attended by the farmer patrons of Rasmussen, by John Case, president of the PMA, and Arthur Hartman, Kane county director of the association. Rasmussen asserted that the farmers would continue to deliver to him. Case and Hartman argued that all the farmers had contracts with the association and that these were valid and could be enforced until next November,. No agreement was reached at the meeting.

MAYOR'S RIVALS MAKE LATE BIDS FOR LIMELIGHT

Jenkins Files Racial Blast —Wetten on Radio.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Emil C. Wetten, Republican nominee, and Newton Jenkins, the candidate of a proposed new party which he has labeled "The Third Party," both sought the mayoralty limelight yesterday by means of press releases.

The few Republicans around the Wetten headquarters were inclined to give loud cheers over an announcement from their candidate. It was that he will make five radio talks today, tomorrow, and Sunday. These are the only appeals for votes scheduled for the G. O. P. nominee, who has declined to make the rounds of ward meetings.

Jenkins Makes Racial Attack.

Mr. Jenkins startled even some of his own handful of followers around his headquarters by issuing an attack on a "small band" of Jewish office holders.

Following this arraignment he named Jews who now or in the past occupy offices in the city and state government and on the bench.

"I agree with Edmund Burke," he continued, "that you can't indict a whole people and I do not desire to do so when I know that the great mass of the Jewish people are not to blame. Not all of these Jewish public officials are corrupt. Among them are shining examples of persons who are loyal to the public interest. These have a right to be distinguished from those who are not.

"The Jews deliberately move in to assume political domination as they have in Chicago, in Cook county, in Illinois and in the nation; they must take that domination upon the same terms as others always have taken public reponsibility.

"Must Learn to Take It," He Says.

"They must be open to public appraisal and criticism. When, after they have been in public office, they fail and betray the people, when they turn in to line their own pockets, when they make a spectacle of themselves by political corruption . . . many of these Jews seek to divert attention from themselves and yell 'Hitler' and 'anti-semitism' at those who expose their villainy. Jews must learn to take it like other people."

Jenkins said that his utterance was prompted by an attack made upon him at a meeting of the Jewish charities held early last week.

The radio schedule announced for Mr. Wetten was as follows:

Friday—WMAQ, 6:30 to 6:45 p. m.; WCFL, 7:15 to 7:30 p. m.

Saturday—WENR, 6:45 to 7 p. m.; W-G-N, 10 to 10:30 p. m.

Sunday—WLS, 11 to 11:15 a. m.; WCFL, 6:30 to 6:45 p. m.

Mr. Wetten's time on W-G-N was donated in accordance with the practice of giving opponents equal opportunities to present their arguments to the voters.

HOUSE GETS BILL TO CURB 'PEWEE' RUM BOOTLEGGER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 28.—[Special.]—Congress will be called upon this session to act on the "pewee" bootlegging of rum from the West Indies and the elimination of strip bottle stamps, which in many cases are said to be counterfeited.

Representative Emanuel Celler [Dem., N. Y.] introduced in the house today a bill limiting tourists to one quart of liquor duty free upon their entrance in the United States. The bill is an answer to a customs court decision that tourists may bring in wines and liquors valued at $100 or less without payment of duty.

"This ruling permits Carribean sea tourists to bring in ten to twenty cases of rum," explained Celler, "for a case costs from $5 to $10 in the West Indies. A tourist, or bootlegger, could escape payment of United States duties and imposts of $336."

According to Celler, the Carribean sea tourist trade involves at least 100,000 persons of whom more than half bring back liquor with the government losing five million dollars in revenue.

Another section of the Celler bill dealt with the elimination of bottle strip stamps. These have been a boon to the bootlegger, Celler said.

"Furthermore, the need of strip stamps seems unnecessary," Celler contended, "because the bulk of illicit whisky, gin, rum, and brandy as merchandised by the smugglers, bootleggers, and illicit distributors are being placed in the market by refilling bottles."

The Celler bill also provided that whisky may be bottled in bond after two years, changing the present limitation of four years.

MAYOR ASKS CITY TO UNITE IN DRIVE FOR PROSPERITY

Tells Chicago Triumphs in Radio Address.

BY PARKE BROWN,

Mayor Edward J. Kelly last night described to a radio audience the triumphs of Chicago over tremendous difficulties in the last two years. He said he knew the redemption would be further advanced materially because he had definite assurance of a direct grant of federal money for his $228,000,000 public works program. Details of this program were announced yesterday and will be found on page 8 of this paper.

The mayor spoke for half an hour over a hookup of five local stations and during that time did not mention his candidacy for reëlection next Tuesday. His plea was not for votes for himself but for a united Chicago.

His statement of certainty that the federal government will provide the funds for a municipal maternity hospital, a water filtration plant, an addition to the Municipal Tuebrculosis sanitarium, the reconstruction of sewers and other projects in his own program was his first public utterance of this character.

No New Realty Taxes.

"Let me impress you as strongly as I can," he said after outlining these and other improvements, "that not one penny of the money required for the improvements I have told you about will be raised by taxes on real estate or personal property.

"No special assessments will be levied against property to pay for the construction of these improvements. No owner of property need be alarmed over an increase in his tax bill because of these improvements."

"The money will come as a direct grant from the government without the necessity of repayment from general taxes or special assessments."

Blow at Unemployment.

At another point, he said:

"I have the assurance that a sufficient amount of money will be allocated to Chicago's ventures to relieve, if not entirely eradicate, unemployment."

At almost every opportunity, after discussing each of the projects he favors, he used such expressions as: "Funds for that purpose will be forthcoming," "I am confident of funds for this great work," or "Funds will be supplied."

Mayor Kelly took as a sort of text the attempt early last Sunday morning to assassinate State's Attorney Courtney. From that he drew the lesson that Chicago cannot relax the fight it has been making in recent years—not only the fight against the gunman and hoodlum, but the fight for better government throughout its structure.

Constant Vigilance Vital.

"'Eternal vigilance is the price of safety,'" he quoted and continued: "We must never relax our efforts because when your officials do not receive your full support or when they themselves relax in their vigilance, the lawless element is quick to take advantage and renew its depredations.

"When such conditions arise, they destroy the morale of all our people as well as their public servants.

"Of what value is it to have efficiency and economy in government if crime exists, destroying the very values we worked to attain. Such a condition eats into the very fiber of governmental activities in addition to those against crime.

Not a Crime Capital.

"I know that the men and women of Chicago have determined that we shall not be known as the crime capital of the world because they understand that with a background of crime, efficiency, and economical government cannot be maintained."

He asked his hearers if they remembered the condition of Chicago a few years ago, the days of defiant criminals, of unpaid city and school employés, of the threatened collapse of the "whole structure of our city government." Then he told of the present.

"Chicago has come back," he said, "and a record of accomplishment in her journey to happiness has been written. It is known—not only to every one in Chicago—but to the entire world."

Honored by Veterans.

Mayor Kelly was the guest of honor at noon of the most remarkable turnout of service men ever accorded a Chicago candidate for office. Fifteen hundred veterans including many men of prominence, Republicans and Democrats alike, overflowed the Hotel Morrison Cameo room and adjoining rooms.

Representative of the nature of the gathering was the speakers' table. Mayor Kelly was flanked by Milton J. Foreman and Howard P. Savage, former national commander of the American Legion, both Republicans. Other Republicans there were Abel Davis, John V. Clinnin, and John J. Garrity.

Introduced by A. A. Sprague, who spoke of the meeting as nonpartisan, Mayor Kelly was received with a cheer that brought all present to their feet. He spoke briefly, thanking the service men for their faith in him.

NUDE PARADE IN HIS HOME NONE OF GIRL NEIGHBOR'S BUSINESS

New York, March 28.—[Special.]—A man's home is his castle, and if he chooses to promenade in its confines without benefit of clothing, no one, not even his immediate female neighbors, can stop him, Magistrate Mark Rudich ruled today in Bridge Plaza court, Brooklyn.

Rudich dismissed a charge of indecent exposure brought against Carl Drews, a Brooklyn gentleman, by Diana Retas, an attractive girl who lives just across the street.

"In any man's home he is privileged to go around naked if it pleases him," said Magistrate Rudich.

"I have no objections to his nudism, Your Honor, if only he would pull down the shades, so I won't have to see him," she returned.

"If he doesn't want to lower the shades he doesn't have to," ruled the court. "If you don't want to see him, young lady, pull down your own shades."

Drews' case involved a delicate point of law. If he were aware that others saw him he would have been guilty, but if he exposed himself without knowledge that he was being exposed, no charge could be brought.

1,506,350 IN CITY QUALIFIED TO VOTE TUESDAY

The exact number of Chicagoans qualified to vote in the mayoralty election next Tuesday is 1,506,350. That figure was announced yesterday as final by the board of election commissioners following the erasure of the names of 611 men and women who failed to answer suspect notices. This is the largest total ever registered in the city except that for the spring primary of 1932, which was 1,643,839.

IGOE WILL ARRIVE TODAY TO SOUND COUNTY LEADERS

Congressman Michael L. Igoe will arrive in Chicago today to take part in the mayoralty campaign and also to discuss with leaders of the Democratic organization the question of whether they will indorse his candidacy for the office of United States district attorney now held by Dwight H. Green.

In Washington yesterday Senator Lewis denied reports that he carried back to the capital with him an indorsement of Igoe by the Cook county organization. It is understood here that Igoe has not discussed his candidacy with P. A. Nash, county chairman and national committeeman, Mayor Kelly, or State's Attorney Courtney.

That there will be no decision by the local organization until after the election next Tuesday was forecast by Washington dispatches saying there would be no action of any kind on the appointment until after the return of Attorney General Cummings to the capital, scheduled for April 12.

SWANSON WAGES ACTIVE FIGHT FOR TREASURERSHIP

G.O.P. Candidate Pledges Yearly Audit.

Continuing the aggressive campaign which he is making as Republican nominee for the city treasurership, Charles W. Swanson yesterday reiterated his platform for the office and pledged that if elected he will devote his entire time to his duties.

The candidate promised publication of an annual audit of the city's books, protection of the pension funds, and an honest, businesslike conduct of the treasury. He is young—31 years old—he pointed out, and is seeking public office for the first time. Mr. Swanson added that the latter circumstance was also true of his Democratic opponent, Gustave A. Brand. Mr. Brand, the Republican noted, is 73 years old.

Outlines His Ideas on Office.

Before a large massmeeting last night sponsored by the Young Republicans, Inc., in Carpenter's hall, 6414 South Halsted street, Mr. Swanson outlined his ideas on how the office of treasurer should be conducted. He is a strapping 200 pounder, six feet one and one-half inches tall, and formerly was an athlete at Senn High school and the University of Illinois. He is now associated with the New England Mutual Life Insurance company.

"I was drafted to run for the office of city treasurer by a group of young business and professional men in Cook county who realize that Chicago needs a revival of American action," Swanson told his audience.

"I was drafted to run for this office as an American citizen who would secure the votes of thousands of American citizens despite ancestry or color, and because I was actively interested in Chicago affairs and was believed to be qualified to fill the duties of city treasurer. My credentials are a definite program to help the city of Chicago if elected.

Pledges an Annual Report.

"The people of this city have a right to know the condition of their city's finances and obligations just as the stockholders of a corporation have the right to a periodical report.

"You and I are stockholders in the city of Chicago. Why are we not able to examine a balance sheet, a statement of income and loss in our company—Chicago? When there is a statute which requires city officials to render a report, why is the law ignored?

"I am informed that the city cannot afford an audit. If elected city treasurer I solemnly pladge to have conducted through a disinterested outside company periodical audits and to have these audits published at the end of each fiscal year.

Promises to Uphold Credit.

"If the city cannot afford to pay for an audit I shall ask certain civic minded and public spirited citizens to help defray this essential expense.

"I further pledge to do everything in my power to maintain the credit of Chicago, and I promise to prevent the improper use of pension funds. This money shall be judiciously invested and painstakingly accounted for when I am your city treasurer."

Mr. Swanson was born in Chicago. He is unmarried and lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Swanson, at 4235 North Winchester avenue. His father, a lawyer, was formerly an assistant Illinois attorney general and assistant United States attorney.

'WHAT THE TRAFIC WILL BEAR' IS U. S. RELIEF FORMULA

Legislators Find Answer to Big State Load.

The sort of mathematics employed by the Federal Emergency Relief administration in deciding that Illinois should contribute three million dollars monthly for relief of the state's unemployed has finally been revealed. It required a legislative junket to Washington to find the answer, and yesterday Representative Benjamin S. Adamowski [Dem., Chicago], who headed the delegation, relayed the explanation after the group's return.

Adamowski and three other representatives went down to the capital believing that they had an appointment Wednesday with Relief Administrator Hopkins. They found, however, that Hopkins had gone to Florida with President Roosevelt, so the interview was with Hopkins' assistant, Aubrey Williams, and a statistician by the name of Upson. Upson supplied answers to the question which has been puzzling the legislature for weeks.

It's a Matter of Formulas.

"As he explained it to me," Adamowski said, "several formulas are followed in arriving at what the FERA thinks states should pay. All states, it seems, are divided into classes, according to wealth. Illinois falls in class 2, and it was decided that the annual per capita contribution should be five dollars.

"On that basis Illinois would be required to contribute about thirty-five millions.

"The next step is to compute the amount of auto, real estate and other miscellaneous tax revenue in the state in question. The statisticians found that these would total about thirty-four millions for the state. Formula No. 3 was to take a 10 per cent levy on all real property. That, we were old, would total thirty-eight millions for Illinois. Then, the average of the three formulas was struck and it was decided that Illinois should contribute thirty-six millions.

"I asked whether the amount Illinois pays to the government in taxes was taken into consideration. No, they said, it could not be done that way because the richest states would be getting the most relief and the poorer states would be slighted.

Some Examples Cited.

"States like New York, Michigan and North Carolina, for example, they told us, turn over large revenues from customs, auto taxes and tobacco taxes respectively. But the taxes are paid by persons from all over the country, they said, and therefore the sums should not be considered entirely as individual state contributions.

"Some one asked if the FERA approved cash relief instead of grocery orders. Williams said that they had no objection to it, but that it generally cost more than the present system. And if it did cost more, Washington could not be depended upon to pay the difference, he added.

"I told Williams that we were very hard up for money in Illinois and asked what they would do if it was impossible to raise thirty-six millions? What if we could only find twenty-four millions? What would the FERA do then?

State Commissions Favored.

"'We'll cross that bridge when we come to it,' he replied, 'but I should imagine that we would reduce the federal allocation. Otherwise states would sit back and do nothing.'

"Finally we asked if the FERA would approve a change in relief administration in our state so that county officials, instead of the Illinois commission, would distribute relief? Williams replied that they preferred a central authority like the state commission because it prevented squabbles with local officials."

Adamowski was accompanied by Thomas P. Sinnett [Dem., Rock Island], Lawrence F. Arnold [Dem., Newton], and Minority Leader Leroy M. Green [Rep., Rockford]. The junket cost about $450, the chairman said, and the committee will report its findings to the house, perhaps next Wednesday.

Former City Employe Sues for Reinstatement

Joseph Gubbins, former head of the northwest park district, yesterday filed in the Superior court a petition for a writ of mandamus to compel the city civil service commission to reinstate him to his former position as a water superintendent in the department of public works. The suit said that Gubbins was dismissed in 1931 without trial or hearing, although he was a civil service employé.

WAY IS CLEARED FOR PASSAGE OF 5 BILLION BILL

Conferees in Agreement; Silver Rider Out.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 28.—[Special.]—The senate and house conferees reached an agreement on the 4 billion 880 million dollar work relief bill tonight and it is expected to pass the house in its final form tomorrow. Final action in the senate probably will not be reached before Monday.

The only major alteration in the bill, as it was passed by the senate after two months' of debate last Saturday, was the dropping of the Thomas silver inflation amendment. This rider, which provided for a billion and a half expansion and a half billion dollar inflation of the currency, was not supported by the senate conferees and never was expected to get through the conference.

Silver Amendment Rejected.

The inflationists in the senate, led by Senator Elmer Thomas [Dem., Okla.] and assisted by Huey Long [Dem., La.], had threatened to filibuster against passage of the bill if the silver amendment was rejected in conference, but this talk died today. Senator Thomas concluded that such an effort would be futile.

Representative James P. Buchanan [Dem., Tex.], chairman of the house appropriations committee, obtained unanimous consent today for the filing of the conference report up to midnight, which will permit bringing up the bill tomorrow, instead of requiring it to lie over a day under the rule. The bill, however, cannot be brought up in the senate without lying over a day, and since the senate is expected to recess over the week-end, action there will not be reached before Monday.

Educational Aid Provided.

The senate conferees receded on an amendment requiring all sanitary plumbing work to be let by contract and on another earmarking $40,000,000 for assistance to states in keeping their schools open during the remainder of the term. This was offset, however, by a clause covering educational work in the 300 million dollar allocation for assistance to professional and clerical persons.

The conferees fought strenuously over the amendment of Senator George [Dem., Ga.], authorizing the President to use relief funds to finance AAA bounties to farmers, but the amendment remained in the bill.

The amendment of Senator McCarran [Dem., Nev.], requiring senate confirmation of all officers or employés receiving $5,000 or more was altered, whereby all administrative officers or members of any central board or other agency, as well as state administrators not already serving under law, must be confirmed by the senate regardless of their salaries.

Wage Provision Altered.

The amendment of Senator Russell [Dem., Ga.] requiring prevailing wages on all permanent public buildings, such as courthouses and postoffices, was altered to require that such prevailing rates be pre-determined.

A whole section of the original bill giving the President vast powers to establish and prescribe the duties of governmental agencies and delegate powers to them was stricken out by the senate but restored in a small degree by the conference. The President is authorized to "establish and prescribe the duties and functions of agencies within the government." The controller general ruled that this would be a sharply limited power.

The bill as it now stands will be adopted by both houses.

EDWARD SINGLETON.
[Acme Photo]

Released from the state penitentiary at Michigan City, where he served four years for a crime committed by another man, Edward Singleton, 44 years old, went yesterday to Hammond, scene of his alleged crime, to seek employment.

He will be aided by Police Captain Sandor Singer, who was instrumental in securing his release, and by Mike Johnson, for the robbery of whose grocery store Singleton was sentenced early in 1931.

Singleton's first call in Hammond was at police headquarters, where he thanked Capt. Singer for his assistance in gaining Singleton's release. The captain, never certain that Singleton was guilty, continued to work on the case after the conviction. The result was the arrest this week of Ralph Harwood, 24 years old, who subsequently confessed the robbery.

"I helped put him away," Capt. Singer said of Singleton, "and it was up to me to help get him out."

REVEAL DETAILS OF $228,714,337 CITY WORKS PLAN

Mayor Drafting Request for U. S. Cash.

Mayor Kelly announced yesterday the details of a $228,714,337 public works program which he hopes to carry out with federal aid and which will provide jobs for nearly 100,000 persons during the next four years.

The detailed program is a part of a general city public works project expected to total well over $300,000,000. As soon as the $4,800,000,000 federal public works bill has been passed by congress and signed by President Roosevelt, Mayor Kelly will go to Washington to seek federal funds for his program.

Almost every city department and every ward will benefit specifically from the construction and rehabilitation plan revealed yesterday. Of the 228 millions, $149,409,000 will go to the department of public works, $54,847,500 to the department of streets and electricity, and $24,457,837 to other departments.

Cash for Fair Not Included.

The detailed project does not include $20,000,000 to be sought for the creation of a permanent Chicago fair in Burnham park, approximately $7,000,000 to be asked for the outer drive bridge, nor funds to be sought for a superhighway and airport program on which the mayor is now working.

Of the total $228,714,337, it is estimated that $117,625,721 will be spent for labor alone, furnishing 120,115,125 man hours of work.

Major items in the program are the construction of three water filtration plants at a cost of $24,000,000 for the north district, $18,000,000 for the south district, and $18,000,000 for the central district. Also in the water project, $10,900,000 will be spent for a crosstown connecting tunnel, and $11,200,000 for a tunnel and crib to supply south and west suburbs.

Police and Fire System.

The fire alarm and police telegraph system would be rehabilitated at a cost of $12,633,200, and $20,254,000 would be spent resurfacing old macadam pavements in all parts of the city. A plan for the addition of another floor to the city hall to relieve overcrowding there calls for the expenditure of $200,000.

"All of the projects, including those not yet listed, will be pay dirt projects," the mayor said. "By that I mean they will provide a maximum amount of labor and will serve in the end to reduce city taxes. Also this program should give a tremendous impetus to business in the Chicago area.

Following is an itemized list of the works program as completed to date, giving the estimated cost of each project and the man hours of work to be provided:

HEAD OF LEGION DISAVOWS PLAN FOR INFLATION

The American Legion is not interested in inflation and the currency expansion "rider" in the Patman bonus bill, but seeks only the immediate payment of the adjusted service certificates of world war veterans. This was the declaration of Frank N. Belgrano Jr. of San Francisco, national commander of the Legion, before members of the Union League club at a luncheon yesterday.

Although disowning in its present form the Patman bill, which has passed the house and is pending before the senate, Commander Belgrano urged its adoption as an equable liquidation of the nation's obligation to its ex-servicemen and a measure for speeding economic prosperity.

"The American Legion has no place in politics," Commander Belgrano said, "but if the government sees fit to spend billions on so-called relief and recovery, then the Legion can say something about how that money is to be spent. We urge the use of this money to pay the adjusted service certificates, paying off an obligation of the nation."

Evanston Gets Certificate for 1934 'Safe City' Record

Evanston was formally presented yesterday with its certificate of honorable mention in the 1934 "safety city" contest of the National Safety council, which was won by Milwaukee. W. H. Cameron, director of the council, made the presentation to Lieut. Frank Kreml, director of the Evanston police safety bureau, in ceremonies in the North Shore hotel in the suburb. Chief of Police William O. Freeman bestowed individual medals of the safety council on six members of the police safety bureau for their work in first aid and resuscitation.

ROOSEVELT'S SON FLIES TO FISHING PARTY IN SOUTH

President Finds Luck and Weather Good.

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Miami, Fla., March 28.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt today leisurely flicked bait over smooth Carribean waters to tempt the fighting bone fish. Under an azure sky his luck was good.

On the third day of his annual fishing excursion the President was joined by his eldest son, James, who came from Washington by plane and was transferred from a tender at sea to the Nourmahal, Vincent Astor's yacht.

The President cruised slowly through the placid waters aboard the Nourmahal. Shortly after he dropped his line he battled a fish.

Heading Toward Cuba.

The President is headed for Great Inagua island, which is about ten miles east of the Cuban shore line. In its voyage the Farragut is wending through the many bays of the Bahama and Cuban waters.

This morning the Farragut was at Cayo Lobos, where young Roosevelt joined the party. Cayo Lobos is north of Nuevitas, Cuba, and about 300 miles west of Great Inagua island.

The arrival of James Roosevelt was bulletined by radio by Capt. Wilson Brown, chief White House naval aid, to Assistant Secretary Marvin H. McIntyre. McIntyre has set up temporary executive offices in the Miami-Biltmore hotel.

"Jimmie arrived all well and plane landed and took off without difficulty," the bulletin read. "We are spending the day having good fishing off Lobos and tonight will proceed to Great Inagua Island."

Son Flies Through Night.

An earlier bulletin read: "Jimmie Roosevelt left San Juan on regular Pan American plane at 5 o'clock in the morning and was dropped off on a special stop on the lee of Cayo Lobos, landing 2:10 p. m. The plane taking off at 2:18. He is aboard the Farragut.

"Cayo Lobos is in British waters off the coast of Cuba, near Nuevitas."

In the late afternoon and evening the President is devoting himself to governmental problems. Radio messages of Washington affairs, received here by the special wire to the White House, are sent regularly to the Farragut.

RAILROAD WAGE CUTS WILL BE RESTORED TO 1931 LEVEL MONDAY

Washington, D. C., March 28.—(AP)—Railroad union men will receive an $80,000,000 wage increase next Monday.

At that time the pay of railroad workers will be restored to the 1931 level, returning the last five per cent of a ten per cent cut in 1932.

A year ago the railroad brotherhood and the standard railroad unions in negotiations with the management of the railroads obtained an agreement for gradual restoration of the old wage scale. One-fourth of the cut was restored last July and one-fourth on Jan. 1.

After federal negotiations broke down a year ago the managers and union chieftans got together and settled their differences in two days.

The agreement provides that no notice of any change in the wage scale shall be given for at least a month after the restoration, but there have been rumors that railroad management will endeavor to have the wage scale reduced again.

GEORGIA SENATOR CALLS WALLACE UNFIT FOR POST

AAA Program Blamed for Loss of Markets.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 28.—[Special.]—Senator Walter F. George [Dem., Ga.] today delivered a denunciation on the floor of the senate of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace and the whole agricultural adjustment program. He said the farmers had sold their markets for a "mess of pottage."

Referring to a statement made by Wallace yesterday that George's amendment to the 5 billion dollar works bill would encourage farmers to "dip their hands in the federal treasury," the Georgia Democrat said it demonstrated the secretary's "unfitness to be a member of the cabinet of the President of the United States."

Senator George also assailed Wallace's observation, made in a press conference, that the processing tax on cotton would be increased rather than decreased if the present price slump continued. This reflected an increasing sentiment among southern congressmen that the processing tax is responsible for the loss of foreign markets and the shutting down of textile mills at home.

Metcalf Blames Tax.

George's attack was followed by a statement from Senator Metcalf [Rep., R. I.], blaming the cotton reduction program and the processing tax for the loss of foreign markets and the wholesale shutting down of textile mills.

"The declaration of the secretary that the cotton processing tax will not only be retained but may be increased," said Senator Metcalf, "demonstrates a colossal ignorance of conditions in the cotton growing and cotton textile industry. Such a statement of policy by the head of the AAA is in complete harmony with the academic utterings of economic quack doctors, many of whom have never seen a cotton field or a textile mill, and are unable to understand why mills cannot run while foreign markets are underselling them."

The outburst on the senate floor was regarded as particularly significant, inasmuch as Senator George has been a consistent supporter of the administration policies.

"When the secretary of agriculture says this amendment will cause farmers to dip their hands in the federal treasury, while this most monumental appropriation in the history of the world is inviting everybody to do the same thing, he demonstrates his unfitness to be a member of the cabinet of the President of the United States," Senator George said.

Should Never Have Had Power.

"The secretary even says it may be necessary to raise the processing tax. Here is a man clothed with the lawful power to fix the tax on a necessity of life required by 125 million people and he is threatening to raise that tax.

"I am now convinced that this congress ought never to have vested in any one man or group of men the power to fix taxes on the necessities of life. If the secretary had sought to drive down the price of cotton still further he could have used no more effective language.

"Already the number of textile workers thrown out of work is approaching 50,000, and that means 200,000 on the relief rolls. How could an increase in the processing tax help this situation?

"The secretary of agriculture is paying benefits to plow up cotton, kill hogs, and reduce wheat acreage, but he is doing it by persuading the farmers to sell out their business. Our cotton farmers have depended upon foreign markets for more than 50 per cent of their production, yet we have sold our foreign markets for a mess of pottage—for two or three years of benefit payments.

"Submitted for Pay."

"If the secretary and Mr. Tugwell believe the American farmers are fools and have submitted to this program because they wanted to, they have a sad awakening coming. The farmers submitted because they were told they would be paid for it."

Senator Elmer Thomas [Dem., Okla.] followed Senator George with the declaration that Wallace's statement had sent the price of cotton still further down by $1 a bale. He said it seemed that every time the price of agrcultural commodities started going up the secretary of agriculture or somebody in his department came out with a statement that sent the prices down.

SHOOTS SELF TO DEATH.

WAGE MEDIATION IS FORCED UPON COAL PRODUCERS

Fear Strike Would Tie Up Other Lines.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 28.—[Special.]—Fearing that a walkout on Monday of the nation's 350,000 bituminous coal miners might cripple the steel and automobile industries as well, Donald R. Richberg, NRA chairman, today forced government mediation of the wage squabble between mine operators and workers.

Threat of a strike in the automobile industry developed, however, even before Richberg was able to smooth out the coal troubles. Francis J. Dillon, American Federation of Labor organizer, told the senate labor committee this morning that automobile workers will strike unless congress passes the radical Wagner labor disputes bill.

With threats of strike involving 1,222,000 men in the coal, automobile, textile, and tire industries hanging over the recovery program, Richberg chose to strike first at the coal impasse.

Threat and an Offer.

Summoning a committee of mine operators and union chieftains before him today, Richberg made one offer and one threat in an effort to bring them together before their existing wage agreements expire Monday.

To win over the operators Richberg held out the offer of more rigid enforcement of the price fixing provisions of the coal code. Price fixing for the industry and means of it would be drafted into the new NRA act now pending before congress, he promised.

To keep the United Mine Workers in line, on the other hand, Richberg threatened to issue an executive order arbitrarily continuing the wage rates now set in the coal code unless the union acted reasonably.

Moves for Speed.

Having made these opening moves during a two hour conference with mine owners and union chieftains today, Richberg gave them until tomorrow afternoon to report back to him. Publicly, he explained that he had acted because, although direct negotiations between the United Mine Workers and operators have been going on since Feb. 28, "very little progress" has been made toward an agreement.

Possibility of an automobile strike, despite Dillon's threat voiced before the senate committee today, appears remote because the A. F. of L. commands only a small part of the 417,000 automobile and automobile parts workers. An A. F. of L. strike at best might tie up some parts plants, thus preventing the large manufacturers from obtaining necessary accessories.

Trouble in the textile and tire industries appears more probable. The United Textile Workers are threatening to strike over the NRA order permitting the textile mills to cut production by 25 per cent, thereby cutting work and wages by that much. Tire unions are seeking recognition and wage adjustments. They will take a strike vote Sunday.

Chicago Midshipman Wins World History Test Prize

HOUSE GROUP SPURS PLANS TO REOPEN NAVY STATION HERE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 28.—[Special.]—Reopening of the Great Lakes Naval Training station, north of Chicago, appeared assured today when a house appropriations subcommittee took favorable action on a proposed $250,000 expenditure for this purpose.

Representative James McAndrews [Dem., Ill.], a member of the appropriations committee who obtained insertion of the item in the annual appropriation bill for the navy, declared that the funds would restore the station to its previous strength. Under an outlay of $42,000 the station has been in skeleton operation for the last year.

During consideration of the proposed reopening Representatives Ralph Church and John Buckbee, Illinois Republicans, have urged its rehabilitation before the subcommittee headed by Representative Glover H. Cary [Dem., Ky.].

CHICAGOANS HIT WAGNER BILL AT SENATE HEARING

Business Leaders Protest 'Forced Unionism.'

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 28.—[Special.]—Chicago and Illinois industrialists today threw their solid weight against the proposed Wagner labor disputes bill which would strengthen the hand of outside labor organizations.

Appearing before the senate labor committee, where the bill is pending, six business men from Illinois urged that the bill be rejected lest it sanction "unscrupulius" labor tactics and disrupt existing labor relations.

Present Labor Board Protest.

In addition Mr. Cunningham presented a telegram which he and seven of his fellow members of the Chicago Regional Labor board had addressed to President Roosevelt attacking the bill as based on "the false premise that the employers are the enemies of their employés." These besides Cunningham signing the telegram were Homer Bang, Kent S. Clow, Lester Armour, Warren Jones, Gen. Thomas Hammond, and C. W. Bergquist.

"By this bill employés are specifically given the right to use all means they may conceive, including strikes, boycotts, coercion, terrorization, and all other of the common means of unscrupulous organizers and labor unionists to force an employer to do their bidding, but it is made unlawful for the employer to so much as raise his hands or his voice to protect himself, his business, or his employés," Mr. Donnelly said in his testimony.

Mr. Cunningham contended that under the cloak of protection of the bill agitators within a plant, who might be destroying morale by urging employer-employé conflict, would be able to take the attitude they could not be discharged because the government would protect them on the ground that they were being fired for legitimate labor activities.

Calls Premise a Delusion.

Mr. Craigmile told the committee the proponents of the bill were "laboring under the delusion that employer-employé relations are always antagonistic." Mr. Muir said the interference and disturbance which the bill would cause within industry would be harmful to trade and predicted "a serious increase in the cost of living." He contended that trade unions were not as much interested in the good of the workers as they were in the dues they paid.

"If industry is forced into the closed shop and employés are forced into unions, as they will be under this bill, it will be the last straw in driving many industries into bankruptcy," Mr. Pierce warned.

Mr. Sherwin said the bill "tends to emphasize a separation of employers and employés."

Federal Agent Fined $2; 'No Right to Break Law'

Federal officers have no more right to break the law than an ordinary citizen, declared Municipal Judge John Gutknecht in the Trafic court yesterday as he imposed a fine of $2 on Bernard Steen, 35 years old, 1347 Eddy street, an employé in the federal immigration office here. Steen, charged with parking in a restricted area at Michigan avenue and Madison street, said he had expected special consideration because he was a federal agent.

U. S. WOMEN GET BIG THRILL; BUMP KNEES FOR KING

Daughters of Democracy Crash Gates of Royalty.

patiently for the supreme moment. Some played cards, some talked, some got last minute advice from mamas or tutors. Some read and others just sat.

The common herd passed in front of the cars whenever the police let them halt, and there was a big crowd outside the palace gaping.

U. S. Contingent Largest.

As usual the American contingent outnumbered the presentees from all other countries save England. It seems to be one of the necessities in the lives of many American debutantes, though no one so far has been able to say what privileges being presented at court gives the American girl.

There is a suspicion it boosts their marriageable value, but American experts deny it. It does not mean they can pop in and see the king and queen of a rainy afternoon for tea. It does not get them invited to the British official functions as it does the English presentees.

"It's the honor, man," as a cop said tonight.

That must be it.

Names Kept Secret

Naturally the American embassy, which has been busy as a whole new deal professariat for several days, refused to give out the names of the senators and congressmen who recommended the women for presentation. It is not done. It might make the other congressmen jealous. The embassy admitted, however, that "many called but few were chosen." One cannot be too particular for their majesties. Suppose a real democrat wandered into court.

A second court will held tomorrow night at which the following American women will be presented:

NEW HIGH IN GLAMOR

BY ANN WHITTINGHAM.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 28.—The first court of the silver jubilee celebrations, held tonight at Buckingham palace, was one of the most glamorous state events since the coronation in 1910.

Five thousand guests made obeisance to their Britannic majesties, King George and Queen Mary. Ambassadors, ministers, and attachés of all nations of the world were present in full regalia.

The real gorgeousness of the occasion was created by archbishops and bishops in official robes of flaming crimson, lord mayors in gold braided robes and flowing lace, high sherifs in robes of purple velvet and rich blue, judges in black satin and navy and army officers in crimson coats encrusted with gold braid and shining buttons, and wearing white chamois trousers with jeweled swords.

Shimmering Satin, Soft Lace.

Against this multicolored magnifirence as a background moved the shimmering satin and soft lace of matrons and the white tulle of debutantes and above it all nodding plumes—the three little prince of Wales feathers tied with a wisp of white tulle and worn by all the women as a requirement of court dress.

The gowns of the gorgeously dressed women who passed through the ornately decorated throne room tonight carried out the jubilee idea, reflecting frills of 25 years ago adapted to modern fashions.

Queen Mary wore a gown of opalescent paillettes with the blue ribbon of the Order of the Garter. She was all aglitter with diamonds and emeralds in her corsage and hair.

The king's closely trimmed beard was set off by the bright scarlet of his uniform as colonel-in-chief of the life guards, the show regiment of British cavalry. About the thrones were the prince of Wales, the duke and duchess of York, the earl of Harewood, Prince and Princess Arthur of Connaught, the duke and duchess of Beaufort, and the marchioness of Cambridge.

AT FIRST COURT

[Acme Photo.]

Miss Hutcheson's Ensemble.

Miss Hutcheson, a daughter of United States District Judge Joseph C. Hutcheson, made her curtsey in a charming, girlish, all white ensemble of taffeta. Designed as a period frock, it had a pointed bodice and fell off her shoulders while the full skirt was in basque effect with round insets of white tulle.

Mrs. Hiram Bingham Jr., wife of the third secretary of the embassy and niece of Senator J. Hamilton Lewis [Dem., Ill.], was presented "on marriage" in the diplomatic circle, having gone to court last year as a debutante. She wore a softly draped all white brocaded Chinese silk with a slight train to her flaring skirt. She wore diamond ear rings and bracelets. A narrow bandeau of diamonds held her head dress.

Miss Nash, daughter of Capt. Francis S. Nash, U. S. N., retired, was sponsored by the senators from Virginia and South Carolina.

Miss Nash's gown was a white silver princess creation with a train of silver lamé, which note was repeated in her slippers. She wore diamond jewelry and a small diamond tiara. Miss Nash and her parents have been wintering at Monte Carlo.

Has Never Lived in U. S.

Miss Richardson holds the distinction of being the only American debutante who has never lived in America. She is the daughter of Norval Richardson, American diplomat and writer who has served in all corners of the globe. Born in Rome, she now lives permanently in France. Her gown was of pale green cellophane lace with a train of the same shade of green satin with slippers to match. She wore very long white gloves and carried a bouquet of many kinds of white flowers.

To her brilliant debut in Washington this last winter Miss Stapleton added the presentation at court tonight. She chose a gown of white satin with a court train of the same material, which in compliment to the silver jubilee was lined with silver lamé. Her slippers matched and she wore her debut pearl necklace.

Mrs. Gaspar Bacon is the wife of the former lieutenant governor of Massachusetts and daughter-in-law of Robert Bacon, former United States minister to France. Her gown was of pale turquoise blue faille with a velvet train of the same tone lined with silver. Silver slippers and a blue feather fan completed the ensemble.

Mrs. Whelpley's court gown was a Molyneaux creation in peche and silver lame with the court train en suite and lined with cloth of silver. She wore diamonds and pearls.

At the first, or diplomatic, court Mrs. Bingham does not make the actual presentations as these are made by the doyenne of the diplomatic corps, at present the wife of the Brazilian ambassador, Senor Raul Regis de Oliveira. Mrs. Bingham wore an old world period frock of blue taffeta with a flaring skirt in which were inserted panels of blue silver lace. A Nattier blue and silver lace train was held at the shoulders with diamond clips and she wore a diamond tiara and necklace.

Mrs. Straus wore a simple gown of ice blue silver lame with a train of the same material. It was form-fitting with long flowing lines. She wore diamonds and pearls and carried a white ostrich feather fan.

SPONSORS OF PRESENTEES.

Incumbent senators of the home states of those women who curtsy before the king and queen are usually credited with sponsoring them. On this basis the following Democratic senators would be considered as having received the political plums which allows them to sponsor the presentation of the nine members of the American group tonight.

WESTCHESTER GETS A BURGLAR AFTER 7 YEARS

Mr. George Williams, colored, of Chicago has a criminal record dating back to 1907, and has served several terms in Joliet penitentiary.

Consequently, it was nothing new for George when he was captured yesterday and held to the grand jury for robbing the home of Robert Millward, 1612 Manchester avenue, Westchester.

But it was something new for Westchester.

George now has the distinction of being the first burglar captured and sent on his way to justice in the entire history of the incorporated life of the village of Westchester—that is, seven years.

George was caught by Chief of Police Roy Zehner and held to the grand jury by Police Magistrate James McBride of Bellwood.

BEDFORD-JONES' TRAVELS TRACED AT BALM HEARING

Social Leaders Testify; Pants Saga Ended.

Two leaders of the fashionable world of Evansville, Ind., testified yesterday in the federal court of Judge William H. Holly in behalf of Mrs. Mary Bernardin Bedford-Jones, defendant in a $200,000 suit for alienation of affections filed by Mrs. Helen Bedford-Jones. The affections in question are those of Henry Bedford-Jones, adventure story writer, former husband of the woman who is suing and present husband of the one who is being sued.

The testimony of the social leaders was countered by Mrs. Helen Bedford-Jones' side with statements by the owner of a pants pressing shop in Evansville and by a colored musician who used to tootle a horn in a speakeasy in Lima, O.

Traveled Alone? Or—

Much of the controversy of the day centered on whether Mr. Bedford-Jones, after writing his then wife, Helen, a farewell note on Christmas eve of 1928, went to Chicago or somewhere else by himself or with Mrs. Mary Bernardin.

Mrs. Mary Sargeant, one of the Evansville witnesses, declared that she had seen Mrs. Bernardin in bed ill the night before Mr. Bedford-Jones wrote the note. But when Attorney Royal W. Irwin put the musician, George Willett, on the stand, he testified that on Christmas day of that year Mrs. Bernardin was in the Lima speakeasy with a man referred to as Mr. Bedford-Jones. And, he added, they gave the musicians $60 to play from 10:30 p. m. to 4 a. m.

Betty Marlette, the cleaning shop owner, declared that on Christmas eve of 1928 the author left a pair of blue serge pants to be cleaned and ordered that they be forwarded to him.

"Send them to the Seymour apartments, Santa Monica, Cal.," he was quoted as saying, "in care of Mrs. Mary Bernardin."

John C. Hutchinson, another socially acceptable from Evansville, was placed on the stand by Attorney Earle Ewins for the defendant. His testimony was to the general effect that Mrs. Bernardin had not made aggressive advances to the author while he was married to Mrs. Helen Bedford-Jones.

The "New Philosophy."

Mrs. Helen Bedford-Jones, testifying in her own behalf, asserted that in 1928 Mrs. Bernardin had attempted to explain to her a "new philosophy."

"I asked her what she meant," testified the former wife. "She said: 'Times have changed. Just because a woman is married to a man, she can't regard him as her personal property any more. Any married man is just as open to the attentions or aggressions of a woman as an unmarried man.'"

Over the protests of the defendant's lawyer this testimony was permitted to remain in the record. It is expected that Mrs. Mary Bernardin Bedford-Jones will go on the stand today.

for the best statements of 100 words, or less, on

"WHY I THINK DOUGLAS ALL-LEATHER CONSTRUCTION IS BEST"

YOU'VE worn shoes all your life. Certainly you've learned something from all the pairs you've bought—expensive, cheap, or medium-priced. The knowledge you've picked up—the experiences you've had with various shoes—will go a long way toward helping win one of the 745 prizes in this contest!

The main idea behind the contest is very simple. For hundreds of years, leather has been recognized as the best possible material for making shoes. In spite of that, many shoes today are built partly of inferior substitutes. However, W. L. Douglas Men's Shoes for many years have been made on the Douglas ALL-LEATHER standard!

The official title of this contest is "WHY I THINK DOUGLAS ALL-LEATHER CONSTRUCTION IS BEST." Simply tell us why it is to your advantage for Douglas to use leather instead of flimsy substitutes that rip, crack, tear, and hurt your feet.

Of course, we don't say that Douglas rubber heels are leather . . . nor do we claim that the patented, Beckwith box-toe is leather. But we do say that Douglas gives you leather in every place where leather should be!

Think what you could do with $1000 and three pairs of shoes every year for the rest of your life! For that matter, think what you could do with any one of the cash or merchandise awards in this contest—start to buy a car, fix up your home, buy new clothes, pay the doctor's bill, or spruce-up your appearance with a new pair of Douglas Shoes!

READ THESE EASY, LIBERAL RULES

1 Write a hundred-word statement, or less, on the subject: "WHY I THINK DOUGLAS ALL-LEATHER CONSTRUCTION IS BEST."
2 All entries must be made on an Official Contest Blank which is obtainable at any W. L. Douglas Shoe Store.
3 Submit as many statements as you like. But each one must be written on a separate Official Contest Blank.
4 Although the contest is open to men and women alike, your statement must refer to Douglas Men's Shoes only.
5 All statements must be written in English. But grammar, spelling, and punctuation will not necessarily be a basis for selecting the winners. Just use clear, simple words and the judges will understand you. After all, your ideas are what we want—not a demonstration of literary ability.
6 Sign your name and address clearly on each entry.
7 Contest opens March 25, 1935, and closes May 31, 1935. No entry mailed later than midnight, May 31, 1935, will be permitted to compete for the 745 prizes.
8 Mail all entries to: Contest Department, W. L. Douglas Shoe Company, Brockton, Massachusetts.
10 Cash and merchandise prizes will be awarded by the judges in order of merit for the best 745 statements on the subject: "WHY I THINK DOUGLAS ALL-LEATHER CONSTRUCTION IS BEST."
11 All decisions of the judges will be final. In case of ties, duplicate prizes will be awarded.
12 Contest is open to every one except employees of the W. L. Douglas Shoe Co. and their families, W. L. Douglas Dealers and their families, and employees of our advertising agency.
13 No entries will be returned.

BANDITS KIDNAP SHERIF, DISARM POSSE IN CHASE

Ray Hamilton Believed to Be in Trap.

Jackson, Miss., March 28.—(AP)—Two bandits, one of whom was tentatively identified as the desperado Raymond Hamilton, climaxed a reign of terror tonight by holding up and disarming a posse of fifteen men twelve miles north of Prentiss as Mississippi National Guardsmen were mobilized to hunt them down.

The bandits started their mad dash through the south Mississippi countryside after robbing the Bank of Bluntville at Prentiss this morning.

One woman was wounded, Sherif Ennis Crawford of Covington county was reported hurt slightly in a gun battle, and numerous others were kidnaped in the trail of smoking guns.

Disarm Posse of Fifteen.

The two men, streaking along country roads at a dizzy pace, surprised a posse of fifteen men 12 miles north of Prentiss, took all their guns, kidnaped M. E. Smith, county farm agent, and forced him to drive them in his car.

Deputy Sherif W. J. Lee said after a pistol battle with the men that he had tentatively identified one of them by pictures as Raymond Hamilton, the No. 1 desperado of the southwest.

After the posse was disarmed Jefferson Davis county requested Gov. Sennett Conner to mobilize militiamen. The governor instructed Adjt. Gen. Thomas Grayson to call out the troops immediately.

Sherif Hit in Head.

Deputy Sherif Lee said Sherif Crawford was "creased" in the head with a bullet when a party of officers and the bandits exchanged shots at a point between Prentiss and the spot where the posse was held up. He said the sherif was not seriously wounded.

Earlier this afternoon Mrs. Rodney Polk of Prentiss was shot in the left arm when the desperadoes commandeered her automobile in their flight.

Deputy Lee said that one of three women arrested today had been identified as the woman who accompanied the two men in the robbery of the bank. Approximately $1,100 was taken in the holdup.

One Believed Shot.

One of the youthful bandits was believed wounded in the face by a charge of birdshot by a farmer who resisted an attempt to take over his automobile.

W. C. Thomas, cashier of the Bank of Collins, Miss., E. L. Dent, attorney of Collins, and Sherif Crawford were abducted shortly before the posse was overpowered.

The men were made to stand on the side of the car as shields. Speeding along, the group overtook the posse and the bandits started shooting.

About six miles farther they ran into another group and started firing again. The possemen were forced to retreat because they were afraid of wounding the bandits' hostages.

Two Men Escape.

During the excitement, however, Thomas and Sherif Crawford escaped.

The bandits were last reported in the neighborhood of Georgetown, Miss., in Copiah county. They held up a filling station at New Hebron a short time before.

The three women arrested, who were booked as Ashleen Smith and Cleo Edwards of New Orleans, and Mrs. Birdie Hynycut of Carson, Miss., were caught near Prentiss as they were fleeing across a field.

It was difficult to check on the number of persons kidnaped in the flight, but officers said the men changed automobiles at gun point at least six times during the day.

Trapped Inside Square.

The Mississippi highway commission sent out its crews to block all highways in a quadrangle, extending over an area about 50 miles in diameter. It was believed the bandits would be trapped within the barriers. Posses from numerous counties were stationed at the barricaded roads.

Officers at Jackson reported late tonight that the bandits released two hostages, Smith, the farm agent, and Ralph Davis of Prentiss.

Finding their progress by automobile blocked, the bandits scurried from the car and headed on foot towards the Pearl river.

WINNETKA CITY OFFICIAL REWED TO FORMER WIFE

Harold J. Bohnen, superintendent of light, water power and streets in Winnetka, and his divorced wife, Lillian, 983 Vine street, Winnetka, are honeymooning today. Divorced last Dec. 15, they were remarried yesterday by Justice of the Peace Michael J. Haney in Waukegan.

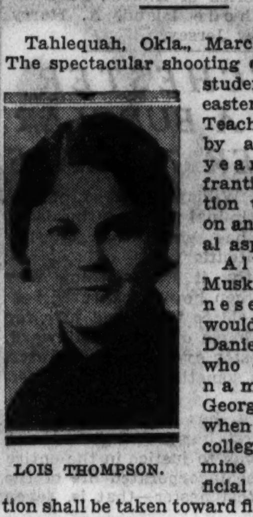
Each gave the age as 39 when they applied for their license in the afternoon. Both were in high spirits as they awaited the justice of the peace, who married them in the Lake county courthouse.

Mrs. Bohnen was granted a divorce in Chicago last December by Superior Judge Francis B. Allegretti on the ground of cruelty, and was awarded $200 a month alimony and custody of their two children, Gladys, 7 years old, and Muriel, 5. They were first married Jan. 29, 1926.

EXTORTION PLOT VICTIM SHOOTS CHINESE STUDENT

Girl Chases Oriental Across Campus.

Tahlequah, Okla., March 28.—(AP)—The spectacular shooting of a Chinese student at Northeastern Oklahoma Teachers college by a pretty 19 year old co-ed frantic over extortion threats took on an international aspect tonight.



LOIS THOMPSON.

Albert Eng, Muskogee Chinese, said he would confer with Daniel Shaw, 27, who changed his name from George Hing Siew when he entered college, to determine whether official Chinese action shall be taken toward filing charges against Lois Thompson. She remained in jail tonight.

While authorities pushed an unexplained search for "two men students and another co-ed" Shaw, wounded seriously, told County Attorney Sanford Martin he could not account for the girl's attack. He was shot in his chest.

"The young lady called me out of the college administration building," Shaw said. "She asked me about extortion notes. Then she shot me."

Jack Horn a student, told officers Miss Thompson pursued the screaming Chinese across the campus yesterday shooting and shouting:

"I know he's one of them and I'm going to kill him."

"The tragedy of it is," the prosecutor said "that we have no information which would indicate the Chinese is implicated in the plot."

He said Miss Thompson, daughter of a widow living near Cherokee, Okla., has received "10 or 12" extortion notes since Feb. 27. The extortion demand started at $100, gradually increasing to $3,000.

Martin questioned a number of persons tonight.

"The whole thing is so queer the more I know about it the less I know about it," he said. "She does not appear to be the kind that others would play pranks on."

Sherif Grover Bishop said he believed the notes were written to the girl in the belief that she was the daughter of Jim Thompson, mayor of Tahlequah.

Shaw enrolled at the college Feb. 14. His passport shows he was a student at Malayan seminary in Singapore and was a missionary worker in 1929 near Hong kong. He was admitted to the United States at Seattle, Wash., Feb. 4, 1931. He came from the University of Kentucky.

"take it from me Gas Heat is ideal for this changeable weather"

Mr. Del Hamelen, orchestra leader, 7719 South Wabash Avenue, Chicago, tells why he no longer fears the ups and downs in the weather.

Mrs. Hamelen will tell you how much easier it is to clean the house since gas heat was installed. Walls and woodwork are no longer covered with soot and grime, curtains and drapes stay cleaner, rugs are never filled with fuel dust.

You Invest Nothing!

To Try Gas Heat!

Gas heat can be installed without your investing one cent for equipment. To prove that every home can now afford to heat with gas, we'll install it at our expense, remove it at our expense, if you don't like it. Accept this startling offer. Phone your nearest gas office TODAY.

"GAS HEAT is ideal for this changeable weather," says Mr. Hamelen. "It isn't necessary to have the furnace on all the time. It saves running up and down basement stairs a dozen times a day." The Hamelens are thoroughly sold on gas heat. It has been such a wonderful convenience to them all through the heating season. Mr. Hamelen adds, "Gas heat is perfect for me because, being an orchestra leader, I'm away a great deal in the evenings, and I know that my wife won't have to wield a shovel, chop kindling or nurse a fire. Gas heat gives me plenty of time to fill my engagements and rehearse my orchestra."

Freedom of time is only one important feature of gas heat. It gives freedom from furnace worry, freedom from dirt and grime, soot and dust. Thousands of gas heat users say that their houses are cleaner, decorating costs are cut way down. Gas heat is so trouble-free, in every respect. No shoveling, no furnace tending, no dirt, no extra cleaning.

Investigate the liberal offer to try gas heat. Now is the time to do it—to save yourself bother and worry during this changeable weather. For full details of this trial offer call your nearest gas company office.

DON'T MISS THE BETTER HOMES EXHIBIT

The Chicago Better Homes Exhibit, which opened on March 15 on the Bank Floor of the Straus Building, Michigan Avenue at Jackson Boulevard, offers you a chance to see what's newest and best in homes, home furnishings, and home equipment.

It will suggest to you through attractive exhibits the improvements you can make in your home with money borrowed under the Federal Housing Act. Practically every home betterment, from a new and modern gas range, to save hours in the daily task of preparing the family's meals, to a built-in wall mirror or an underground lawn-sprinkler—and how to get it—is illustrated in this show.

Don't miss the Better Homes Exhibit. If you were unable to see the model homes at the World's Fair last Summer—or even if you did see them—this is your opportunity to see for yourself how easy it is to make your home more attractive and comfortable to live in, and how easy it is to get the money to do it.

SUCCESS MARKS ICE BREAKING IN LAKE MICHIGAN

Shipping Season Will Be Moved Forward.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Aboard U. S. S. Escanaba, March 28.—[Special.]—Progressing at speeds of from one to two miles an hour this steel sheathed cutter today broke a considerable channel for commercial shipping through Mackinac Straits ice, thus assuring the opening of great lakes shipping a month earlier than usual this year.

Darkness closed about the ship at 7 o'clock tonight and the craft was halted in the ice pack five miles west of White Shoals. Commander Perkins, who considers the project highly successful thus far, had planned to work through the night with the aid of White Shoals light, but decided against the effort when progress was slowed to about a mile an hour and the craft struck a windrow of 24 inch ice. The windrow was reached after passing through an open lead two miles long.

Hits Ice at Full Speed.

The Escanaba entered the ice pack at 9:35 o'clock this morning. Mackinac Island lies 20 miles beyond the center of the ice pack. Near Lansing Shoals the ice was 14 to 16 inches thick. Here the cutter plunged forward at full speed and made about three boat lengths before being stopped. Sixty tons of ballast had been emptied from the forward tanks to increase speed of the ship.

When the ship is stopped by the pack ice, it is reversed for a new start and then plunged ahead again at full speed. This wearing procedure was continued throughout the day. When halted for the night the ship was 24 miles from Mackinaw City. It is impossible to tell when the ice will be broken to that point.

A view from the ship resembled the polar regions. Aside from those aboard, fish, duck, and gulls offer the only sign of life. In every direction stretches the immense field of ice, covered with snow. A gale bringing sleet covered the ship's decks last night. Today the weather was bright with a light wind from the southwest.

Season 229 Days Long.

Trafic men are keenly interested in this effort to push forward the ice clock of the Great Lakes by two weeks. The average navigation season does not begin until April 15, due to this blocking of the Straits of Mackinac. It lasts until Nov. 30, when the icy hand again closes down. This gives a season of 229 days.

It costs from $85,000 to $150,000 a year to operate each boat of the fleet. If the season is extended by the work of this expedition to 244 days, from April 1, it adds this much efficiency to each boat and affects trafic rates. Grain, coal, flour, oil, paper, and stone are waiting for the opening of the season all along the coast line.

In 1929 the channel was opened by natural forces by April 1, but in 1934 it was not open until April 29. This uncertainty is reflected in all trafic offices of the big shipping companies. Inland Steel, Standard, Shell, D. Sullivan & Co., ship operators, watch the weather signals with the anxiety of a farmer over a harvest.

Tribune Boats Damaged.

Last year two boats of THE TRIBUNE paper fleet were damaged in trying to plow through the ice and break the way for trafic. This year the trafic department of the Shell Oil company called H. A. Laird, TRIBUNE trafic head, and asked him if the paper boats were going to make another attempt to get through early. This led to a discussion and the suggestion by THE TRIBUNE on March 1 that the coast guard steamer Escanaba might make the attempt, as it was equipped with a double plated steel bottom especially constructed for ice breaking.

The paper cargo boat, The Chicago Tribune, costing $275,000, waits at Thoreau, Canada, for the word to start through the lakes for Chicago. When the boats start the trafic departments will hum with activity. There will be constant messages and telephone calls between offices.

"What is the latest report?" they will want to know. "Can the captain see the end of the ice?"

"What is the drift? Which way is the wind?"

Watches Program from Shore.

Up at Mackinac the lighthouse keeper will skim along shore in his little car, keeping track of the progress of the boats in the channel and reporting to Chicago. It is the most exciting time of the year on the lakes. Every day added to navigation reduces the cost of operation. As the result of the Escanaba's trip THE TRIBUNE traffic chief has decided to start four boats out from the mills on April 7 instead of April 15.

It is hoped that as a result of this trip the government in the future will keep an ice breaker in the Great Lakes for channel work. The Canadian government has such a vessel in the St. Lawrence and Russia keeps ice breaking fleets in her arctic waters.

The Great Lakes are growing in trafic importance. During the 1934 navigation season 80 million tons of trafic were carried. There is a total of nearly 2,000 miles of main line and branch trafic in these waters, and the volume of tonnage moved is equal to 10 per cent of the freight originated by all the railways. From the trafic standpoint it is the busiest long distance thoroughfare in the world. In 1929 the Suez canal carried 34½ million tons, the Panama canal 30½ million and the Soo canal 92⅓ million tons.

Coal leads in this lake tonnage, with 35,476,000 tons loaded in vessels at the ports along Lake Erie for destinations on other lakes. The iron ore movement from Duluth is next in importance, with 24,919,552 tons represented.

The grain movement from the northwest including Canada is 7,951,145 tons. There is an important movement of limestone from the quarries in Michigan, oil from the refineries at the foot of Lake Michigan, and package freight between Chicago and Canadian and American ports on Lake Erie.

COLLETTE FRANCOIS.

[Associated Press Photo.]

New York, March 28.—[Special.]—Colette Françoise, pretty and vivaciously French, told today of her four year struggle to get Arthur M. Loew, 46, theater millionaire, to accept responsibility for a little girl born to her when she was 17.

Twice in the last four years she has confronted the millionaire and demanded that he do something, Mlle. François said today. Each time, according to her story, Loew said:

"You can't do anything. I am stronger than you."

In the suit the mother alleges Loew met her 16 year old daughter on a cruise in 1930. She alleged he promised the girl a cinema career and enticed her to the Hotel Majestic from April 16 to April 23, 1930.

U. OF C. STUDENTS HOLD RALLY TO ROUT RADICALISM

Members of the newly formed Public Policy association, organized with the purpose of combating communism on the University of Chicago campus, held the first of a series of meetings last night in Mandel hall. The movement is sponsored by the fraternities at the university.

Col. T. A. Siqueland of the 317th cavalry was the speaker at the first gathering and was introduced by Roland H. Bradley, secretary of the Paul Revere league. Col. Siqueland attacked the teaching of subversive doctrins in the schools, asserting that the people who paid for the schooling had the right to say what sort of teaching should prevail.

The Public Policy association is planning a large rally to be held on Stagg field April 11. This will be preceded by several smaller meetings.

Rob Mother and Daughter of Fur Coats; Loss Is $800

Mrs. Bessie Okean, 1646 Pratt boulevard, wife of M. B. Okean, a furrier, and her daughter, Sally, were robbed of their fur coats near their home last night. The mother and daughter were on their way to a parking lot in the rear of the building when they were halted by two armed men and compelled to give up the coats. Each coat was valued at about $400.

TO MY FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS:

In announcing the sale of my drug store to the Liggett Company, I want, first of all, to thank you for your patronage during the many years I owned the business.

Furthermore, I am most anxious to recommend to you my successors. They are well known to you because I have been the selling agent in Chicago for many years for the products which they manufacture in their Laboratories, such as the Rexall and Puretest Remedies, Shari, Jonteel, and Cara Nome Toilet Preparations, Kantleek Rubber Goods, Liggett's Candies, Stationery and Pure Foods.

I am informed that there are now over 452 Liggett Drug Stores in the principal cities of the United States. The tremendous volume of business transacted through these stores puts them in a position to give the public of Chicago superior drug store service.

You may be certain that as long as you trade in the Liggett Store you will get quality merchandise at moderate prices and the kind of friendly service that you have been used to while I was the owner of the business.

Sincerely yours,
A. H. STEPHAN DRUG CO., Inc.

THE COUNTY BOARD.

The meeting of the county board on Monday disclosed the type of public servants the voters have been induced to choose to spend more than $33,000,000 this year. Two women commissioners fell to bandying insults relating to spaghetti. This farce was followed by an interchange between two automobile dealers, one of whom urged as a reason for accepting his bid that he is a cousin of the assistant sherif, only to be met by the higher claim of his competitor, who pointed to his brother, the governor of Illinois. A rarely frank appraisal of the ethics of the commissioners from whom the dealers were soliciting business!

These incidents may seem trivial. Previous misdeeds of the board are not. Several former members of the board and at least two present members have taken action to recover pay cuts which they voted for themselves during economy campaigns of recent years.

There is little doubt of their legal right to recover. It was common knowledge when the cuts were voted that the statutes prohibit reduction of the salary of an elected official during his term of office. The cuts which the commissioners took were purely voluntary, to soothe employés whose pay they had indisputed power to cut. In reneging on their voluntary action they display the morals of a gang of confidence men.

As further evidence of unfitness for office, members of the board boosted their 1935 corporate budget by nearly a million dollars, in the face of warnings from their fiscal advisers that expected revenue did not justify it. They consumed a large part of the increase in salary raises to about one-eighth of the county's employés. Nepotism plainly was the guiding force in singling out part, at least, of this favored minority.

Voters must wait nearly four years before they can take any action at the polls against this unsavory crew. In the meantime, however, they may rightfully demand that the Democratic organization exert party discipline to clean up a situation which, if it persists, must inevitably besmirch by mere association any candidate of the party. Ten of the fifteen commissioners are Democrats, and the proportion would be still higher had the voters of the country towns been able, even in the midst of a landslide, to stomach the three Democratic candidates for reëlection in that district.

The time is ripe for some constructive hell raising by the Republican minority on the board. It is to be hoped that their skirts have not been soiled to the extent that such action will prove too embarrassing to them.

MORE HAUPTMANN HIPPODROMING.

The Hauptmann case continues to be fertile with reproaches to American criminal courts and those who practice in them. The bills which some of the expert witnesses in the case have rendered are ridiculous. They are the logical outcome of the action of New Jersey authorities in turning into a legal circus what should have been the simple determination of a few essential facts. The high fees which some of the experts are asking discredit themselves and their testimony to a greater extent than was accomplished by the cross-examination which they underwent in the courtroom.

Meanwhile, Chicago officials are frantic in their search for some statute under which they can prevent the wife of the convicted appealing for funds to finance his appeal. This is an arbitrary and illogical action. The fact that no sensible citizen would contribute to such a fund is beside the point.

A more pertinent question, we think, than that of Mrs. Hauptmann's right to collect a defense fund is that of the necessity for any further contributions for that purpose. Attorney Reilly and his associates were amply paid during the original trial, not only in a publicly obnoxious variety of advertising which criminal lawyers apparently value as a magnet for future clients, but, by all accounts, in cash as well.

Why any court should permit a lawyer to desert his client simply because he has slight hope of further fees is incomprehensible. Regardless of probable guilt, any prisoner under sentence of death is entitled not only to a review but to proper counsel to press that review, and the lawyer who has reaped what fees there are to be had in the case should be required to render that service. Criminal lawyers who are so zealous to protect the rights and privileges of their clients in court should be required by courts and bar associations to show similar zeal in observing the clients' rights and privileges in dealings with themselves.

FREE PRESS IN LOUISIANA.

The American flag still waves over Louisiana. The discriminatory tax which Huey Long sought to levy against the newspapers which fought the extension of his autocracy in the state has been declared violative of both the state and federal constitutions by three United States judges sitting in New Orleans.

Long's tax was a levy of 2 per cent of gross receipts upon newspapers having a circulation totaling more than 20,000 copies a week. While ostensibly a tax measure, Long made no secret in forcing it through his puppet legislature that it was really a punitive bill aimed at his newspaper critics. The classification according to circulation was designed to limit application of the measure to the larger cities, in which the newspapers were almost uniformly unfriendly to him.

The newspapers affected lost no time in appealing to the courts. Their attorneys set forth that the law was manifestly an attempt, by misuse of the power of taxation, to curb the freedom of the press. As it happened, it was not necessary for the court to pass upon this argument. It declared the law unconstitutional because of the wholly artificial classification according to circulation, by which Long endeavored to strike at his major enemies and spare his friends.

The demagog and political plunderer may always be depended upon to attack the freedom of the press because a free press is the most dangerous enemy of their schemes. The nature of their attack is limited, however, only by their ingenuity. Like adroit generals, they rarely try the frontal assault of outright suppression. The flank attack is their tactics, whether it be by making government a party to libel action, as William Hale Thompson sought unsuccessfully to do; by censorship, as was tried in the unconstitutional Minnesota gag law; by burocratic control, as the Roosevelt administration sought to do with its NRA newspaper code, or by misuse of the power of taxation, Long's weapon.

Whatever the style of attack, the result is equally fatal to a free people and to constitutional government. The newspapers of Louisiana, and, still more, the people of Louisiana, are to be congratulated upon the repulse of the latest assault.

AN EDITOR FOR HIS COUNTRY.

The News-Republican of Boone, Ia., has been giving its readers a summary of authoritative criticism of the New Deal program in a series of editorials. It is a formidable broadside and a contribution to public thought and judgment upon which the publisher, Mr. Goldthwaite, is to be congratulated both as editor and citizen. It represents the courageous and persistent leadership which the American people have a right to expect from a free press.

INTERNATIONAL SPORTS AND INTERNATIONAL FRIENDSHIP.

Italian football players beat the Austrian team last Sunday and were roundly hissed by Viennese spectators. The week before, a Parisian crowd welcomed a German team in the same competition by tearing down the Nazi ensign flown over the stadium. Nor are these violations of hospitality and outcroppings of the baser emotions confined to the more plebeian sports, as witness the America's cup incidents last summer. International sport competition is highly interesting. But such meetings seemingly contribute about as much to international amity as does a Donnybrook fair to the king's peace.

Editorial of the Day

[Peoria Transcript.]

The so-called "works," or five billion dollar resolution, will set the pace for other appropriations. Four billion dollars is a considerable sum for the experimental purpose of transferring 3,500,000 unemployed persons from the dole to public works. The precedent would be bad. Nor is the claim of Republicans that this money would be used as a "slush" fund next year altogether chimerical. The motives of the President may be as pure as the driven snow, but disbursements will be made by political appointees. It may be made by persons who are not under the federal civil service laws and who are responsible only to their political overlords.

The following figures are significant: For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1934, the expenses of the government were $7,100,000,000; the revenues were $2,700,000,000; the deficit was $4,000,000,000; the increase in the national debt was $4,500,000,000. That is to say, the national debt increased one and a half times the total income for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1934.

For the fiscal year 1935 the budget estimates are as follows: Expenditures, $8,500,000,000; receipts, $3,100,000,000; deficit, $4,800,000,000. The national debt will be $31,800,000,000, and this does not include the bonus or unexpended appropriations.

For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1936, the director of the budget estimates the deficit at $4,500,000,000 and the national debt at $40,000,000,000. In 1916 the national debt was $1,225,000,000. In 1919, the high point at the close of the war, it was $25,400,000,000, and shortly thereafter government bonds declined 10, 15, and 20 points. If government bonds sagged under a national debt of $25,400,000,000 what will happen when the debt reaches forty or fifty billion dollars?

In 1931 the debt had been reduced to $16,800,000,000. When the Roosevelt administration went in the debt was probably about $21,000,000,000. We are, therefore, in the process of doubling the national debt. It has been suggested by spokesmen for the New Deal that the government can wipe out its obligations in the same manner that it repudiated its obligations with respect to the gold clauses. That could be done. The right of sovereignty under the constitution to shortcircuit investors in its securities is not denied in any responsible quarter. But repudiation is not without its penalties whether practiced by an individual or by a government. Credit is a sensitive plant. It is chilled by reckless expenditures, unbalanced budgets and legal repudiation of debts.

Experiments of the last two years have demonstrated that purchasing power is not increased by huge government spending if at the same time business lacks confidence in government. Danger lies in the excess of expenditures over receipts. Against this peril, neither constitutions nor bylaws will protect either governments or individuals.

NEEDS REWINDING.

"Mother, isn't dinner ready yet?" asked Bobbie.

"No, dear, it's much too early," responded the mother.

"Isn't the clock slow?" asked Bobbie.

"No, dear," replied his mother.

"Well, then, I guess my stomach must be fast," added the child.—Border Cities Star.

THE U. S. COMMERCE DEPARTMENT has ordered a flying automobile. It's fitted with a gyro thingamajig on top, so that when a motor cop chases you for exceeding the speed limit you can press a button and go right straight up in the air. The autogyro ought to be good for the automobiliacs who are always trying to beat the train to the crossing; then they could fly right over it. But that kind of driver wouldn't use it, because it would spoil the fun of just missing the cowcatcher. Better put those gyro things on trains and let them fly over the autos.

THIS ELECTION CAMPAIGN for mayor with practically only one candidate in the field is a most disappointing thing. No exciting meetings, no bellowing, no bands tooting around in blue and gold chariots, nobody buying drinks, passing around the cigars or buying us sovereign voters so much as a stick of chewing gum. And doggone the luck! it not only looks as though us patriots wouldn't be able to collect a cuppla bucks for voting right, but we won't get a plugged nickel and a used transfer on the street car. The country's certainly gone to hell!

DOMINE REGE.

(Fourth Friday in Lent.)

O Jesu, let Thy wounded hand,
And Thine alone, point out my way;
I am so long the sport of chance
All other leading is dismay;

What of the days that dawned and shone,
The nights of wide and sparkling skies?
I know no light but that alone
Which burns within Thy suffering eyes;

I am so long the child of Doubt,
So long the servant of Despair,
I tremble from the kindest hand

PHAON SPEAKS OF SAPPHO.

Why should I love this woman, when
The world is full of fair young girls,
Not overscornful of young men
Who wear, for want of gold and pearls,
Affluent hearts on tattered sleeves?
For I have gold nor goods, alas,
Nor wine to drown a day that grieves,
But only youth, that must not pass
In wasted days and loveless eves
With one who is no longer young;

And she has loved me—she has sung
Wild words of love and she has said
Wild words that I alone have heard.
But I have also heard the tongue
Of youth, and its old challenge flung,
And now, though it should leave her dead,
I go to say the parting word.

Then men will hate me; men to come
Will sing out bitter songs and say
That one day, as a worthless crumb,
I cast a deathless love away.

Yet some, perhaps, may understand,
Knowing youth's freedom undenied,
Of one immortal, but not young,
To spend his golden days among
The ways of youth, and, ardent-eyed,
The lads and girls of all the land.

THE FACT THAT so many public libraries haven't bought new books for over two years must work a great hardship on the devoted readers who love to write "Very true!" or "Liar!" or "Fool! Idiot!" all through a borrowed book. There's no use in recording one's burning thoughts on the pages of a library book if somebody has already beaten you to it. Something should be done about this. It interferes with the simple joys of so many people.

THE SAFE USE OF ELECTRICITY.

ARE the electrical units used in your home safe? Are the wires properly insulated, securely connected; are the cords intact and free from wear? We have become so accustomed to the smooth performance of our electrical appliances that we are inclined to forget that they may cause damage to property or even endanger life if they are not in perfect working order.

The widespread use of electricity and the convenience and comfort that it has brought to living conditions are matters of common knowledge. We use electricity not only for lighting and heating but for operating all sorts of devices such as toasters, flatirons, hair curlers, ventilating fans, vacuum cleaners, washing machines, coffee percolators, and sewing machines. As time goes on we shall probably have more rather than fewer types of apparatus of this character.

Much of the equipment is manufactured of material sufficiently substantial to insure ample protection. On the other hand, some is offered at such a price that in order to permit profit to the manufacturer, the jobber, and the retailer, construction must be so cheap as to make the articles potentially unsafe.

The ordinary household current of 100 to 110 volts cannot be looked upon as entirely harmless, as evidence is accumulating that death may take place, in certain circumstances, from contact with current at this voltage.

Fatalities have been attributed to the powerful stimulating effect of the current and not to its heating or burning qualities. An electric current of even, low voltage may strongly influence the heart. If applied directly to the ventricles of the heart regular beating stops—that is, no general contraction of the heart muscle occurs. Instead, isolated muscle fibers contract, but their activity is without effect; no blood is pumped and there is stoppage of the circulation. When the body is in contact with an electric current some will reach the heart and the damage done will depend upon the amount.

The normal dry skin possesses a high resistance to electricity, but if the skin is wet or if the individual is perspiring or has superficial injuries such as cuts and scratches, resistance is markedly lowered. Bathroom fatalities due to the electric current are not unknown. While in the tub an individual may turn on an electric light or a bathroom heater, the connections of which have become worn so that there is a leakage of current to the fixture. From this contact the person may receive a large amount of electricity, the bath water and plumbing fixtures acting as a ground.

No electrical device should ever be touched with a wet hand—no matter how well insulated it may appear to be. We may do so perhaps a thousand times without danger, but the next contact may be attended with untoward results.

Electricity is an indispensable and powerful servant, but it may become a deadly enemy. Properly harnessed it is tractable and mild, but when loosed its effects may destroy life. Sometimes the simplest types of devices are the most dangerous.

We may prevent electrical accidents by periodic inspection of our wiring and apparatus, followed by proper repair.

FEET SWELL.

Miss A. B. writes: You stated recently that swelling of the feet and ankles is due to either a kidney or a heart condition. In my case both feet and ankles swell. I am 20 years old and have had the trouble for about six years. About four years ago a physician examined me and said there was nothing wrong with my kidneys.

REPLY.

The most common cause of swelling of the feet and ankles is some failure of the heart or kidneys or both to function normally. There are, however, many other causes. A low metabolic rate—that is, not enough thyroid secretion—is one. Too much salt in the diet, causing the tissues to hold water, is another. You should have a careful physical examination to determine the cause. At your age a kidney or heart condition can probably be remedied.

ILLINOIS LIMITATIONS ACT.

Amboy, Ill., March 22.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—My father owns a piece of property on which there is a house, within the corporate limits of the city. On Oct. 2, 1909, he borrowed $400 and gave his note, secured by a mortgage on the property, payable in five years. Note has never been renewed. Interest has been paid all these years, with the exception of the last year and a half. Holder of note now threatens foreclosure. An attorney told me this note was outlawed and could not be collected because it had run twenty years beyond the date of expiration, Oct. 2, 1914. Twenty years from this expiration date would be Oct. 2, 1934, the date my attorney says it became outlawed. Do you agree with this opinion? G. W.

By a statute passed in 1915 and appearing as section 11½ of the Illinois limitations act the legislature said: "The lien of every mortgage or trust deed . . . OF RECORD AT THE TIME THIS ACT TAKES EFFECT where more than twenty years have elapsed from and after the indebtedness secured thereby is due on its face . . . or according to any extension . . . is declared to have ceased by limitation unless the owner . . . shall WITHIN FIVE YEARS FROM AND AFTER THE TIME THIS ACT GOES INTO EFFECT file in the office of the recorder . . . an extension agreement."

The draftsman, by the time he reached this point in his 29-line sentence, had lost track of the fact that the sentence was complete with the "unless" clause and hence he went ahead and attached the conclusion "then said mortgage shall continue a lien," which conclusion does not have a satisfactory grammatical relation to the structure of the sentence. You will see by the first passage which we have CAPITALIZED that the act expressly applies only to mortgages then of record. If this were disregarded and the act were interpreted as applying to after-executed instruments, we would encounter the additional embarrassment that the only device suggested in the statute for avoiding the bar is a recording before 1920, and it would follow that all current mortgages would expire by lapse of time, regardless of any efforts that the parties might make to preserve the lien. We consider it preposterous to assume that the legislature had any such intention, but the statute is so crudely drafted that the courts might misconstrue it.

FLYING STORIES

By Test Pilot Jim Collins

BUILDING THROUGH.

A pilot should never be too stubborn with an airplane. I learned that early, fortunately, without coming to grief in the process.

Another pilot criticized my flying once. He criticized the way I was making my takeoffs. Kidlike and cocky, just out of flying school, I took a foolish way of proving he was wrong. But he had me so riled by his caustic and nasty remarks about how I was going to kill myself if I kept that up that I flung out a challenge to him and felt I had to keep my attitude even when I saw I was overdoing the thing and thought I was going to crack up.

"If you think my takeoffs are so dangerous," I told him, "I'll just go out there and cut my gun in the most dangerous spot of this dangerous takeoff and land safely back in the airport." And I stalked out, fuming, and got in the ship.

I took off toward the high trees at the end of the field, didn't let the ship climb very steeply approaching the trees, and banked just before I got to them—exactly like I had been doing on the takeoffs he had been criticizing. But I also pulled up sharply, just to make it worse. I didn't want him to have any comeback. I cut the gun and started dropping back in over the trees into the airport. I should have put the nose down a little to cushion the drop, but I was mad. I'd show him the worse way. I wanted to gun it because I was dropping hard, but I wouldn't give him the satisfaction.

I hit like a ton of bricks. The ship groaned and bounced as high as a hangar. Luckily, it was a square hit and a square bounce. That's the only reason I didn't spread the ship all over the field. It hit and bounced again and rolled to a very short stop for a down wind landing.

"All right," I told the guy when I crawled out of the ship, "you go out now and cut your gun just over the trees on one of your safe, straight takeoffs. You won't have a turn started and already pretty well developed and you won't have room enough to start one. You'll pile into the trees in a heap, and if that's safer than landing on the airport in one piece, then I'll admit that your takeoffs are safer than mine."

He didn't dare and he knew it. So he just glared at me, knowing damned well, as I knew myself, that I should have by all rights cracked up on that landing. But I had him, and he shut up and didn't make any more cracks about me.

GRADUATION IN TWO YEARS.

Belmont, Mass., March 22.—In your editorial columns of March 15, 1935, an article appears which I assume refers to me, entitled "Another Speed Record."

There is one misstatement in that article which I would like to correct, if permitted, because it may lead the parents of other students who are attempting to do what I have done into unnecessary worry. You refer to the fact "that the young man has worked himself to the brink of a nervous breakdown. . . ." Now, this is totally and entirely wrong. When I left Chicago I had a rather serious nose cold, which is now entirely cured, and I suppose some rumor based on this reached your reporter.

I want to say this because I am convinced that at least 3 per cent, perhaps as high as 10 per cent, of each entering freshman class should graduate from the University of Chicago in two years at the most, and I would not like to be indirectly responsible for causing parents to discourage any one from trying to do this.

Also some of my friends have apparently been worried by your statement, and I would like to assure them that I am perfectly well. LEWIS A. DEXTER.

NEGLECTED FIRE ORDINANCES.

Chicago, March 25.—The Morton Grove disaster may call attention to various forms of cheating in fire protection which are becoming prevalent in Chicago itself, e. g.:

1. The ordinance requires ordinary doors in addition to revolving doors, to permit emergency exit from public places if revolving doors should stick. However, a prominent north side hotel and other places block these doors by running boards through the handles, so as to compel the public to use revolving doors.

2. During a successful engagement a couple of months ago a loop theater put camp chairs in the ailes. It can easily be imagined what would happen during a panic with these camp chairs knocked into the ailes. GRAHAM ALDIS.

THE PLANNED ECONOMY.

Chicago, March 24.—The AAA, after spending $250,000,000 on the cotton situation, has succeeded in closing several textile mills which were open in 1932, ruining the tenant cotton farmer, losing United States cotton export trade, and increasing the importation of cotton from about 1,000,000 square yards of print in 1932 to over 1,000,000 on March 1, 1935—one day.

This country is going to the dogs; it's going mad. PAUL KIRCHER.

SITE FOR AN AIRPORT.

Chicago, March 25.—I suggest converting the Fair grounds into a central airport, both as a seaplane and airplane base. It would be the foremost in air transportation facilities. Of all the airports I have visited in the United States and in South America, Chicago has the most remote airfield. G. MATSON.

RED TAPE.

Chicago, March 23.—This is in protest against the asinine question box of Coordinator Eastman. It took thirty-eight employés in one office all day yesterday and up until 1 o'clock this morning to answer the many nonsensical questions put to them. Isn't it just about time that this administration investigated itself and eliminated about nine-tenths of the red tape with which it has tied the U. S. A. in knots? D. W. L.

RADICALISM EXPLAINED.

Chicago, March 26.—Why must our governmental experts be so naïve as to suppose that they can drive radical activities from the country with their congressional investigations?

For scores of years we have had the soapbox orators of Newberry and Union square, but never before has it been found necessary so feverishly to investigate their influence on the minds of our good American citizenry.

Can it be that the fat, plump politicians hear the rumblings of a public sentiment and fail to recognize it as the product of their own doing? Our citizenry is not so much wishing for radicalism as it is for a change toward better government. Radicals are merely taking advantage of the situation and offering to fill the gap.

What better weapon for combating this Red influence could we possibly have than an era of good government? Who is there among men that could incite change in a well organized and efficient government? Washington, please note! PATRIOT.

HARD PEWS.

Western Springs, Ill., March 25.—An hour and a half squirming on hard wooden pews is seldom relished by the best of men. Why not provide comfortable seats in the churches?

Where doing so would not conflict with the traditional ritual in a church, why not make the surroundings pleasant and cheerful? I doubt whether drab, dimly lighted rooms are particularly conducive to reverence. The morbid atmosphere in some churches is reflected in the countenances of the devout—and that is not particularly good advertising.

Since when has healthy laughter become irreligious? A significant thought can often be clinched by a pertinent humorous remark or analogy. I do not mean to suggest frivolous or insincere treatment of serious matters, but certainly occasional laughter does increase the attentiveness of listeners. OBSERVER.

FRIENDLY WARNING TO GERMANY.

Chicago, March 23.—Some one who has the respect and confidence of the German people should convey to them the warning that if Germany should start another war and lose it their country would probably be partitioned. German culture and German civilization would then naturally largely disappear. This would unquestionably be a great loss to civilization in general, and it would be a serious handicap to future world progress. X. Y. Z.

SLOT MACHINES.

Chicago, March 24.—How about these slot machine gambling devices in every store around schools and practically every drug and candy store? These are encouraging youngsters to gamble and steal at a very early age. I am speaking from actual experience, as I have two boys going to school and have to fight this danger continually. Demand these machines be removed. MRS. A. M. ZAHORIK.

THE TAXING OF THE GREEN.

Chicago, March 26.—Every year in the past we have received a little sprig of shamrock—just a little sentiment. This year it was taxed. Who is responsible for it? It cannot be the Republicans. I have added a new verse to an old song: "They are taxing men and women here for wearing of the green." EXILE FROM ERIN.

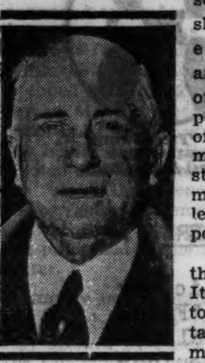
SCHWAB RETURNS FROM RIVIERA; HE PROVES GLOOMY

Steel Chief Talks Freely on Many Topics.

New York, March 28.—[Special.]—Charles M. Schwab, who usually can see rays of sunshine when the economic clouds are darkest for others, was in a pessimistic frame of mind today, a most unusual state for the chairman of the Bethlehem Steel corporation.



C. M. SCHWAB.
[A. P. Wirephoto.]

Returning from the Riviera on the Italian liner Rex today Mr. Schwab talked freely of many things: of the munitions business, war profits, Bernard M. Baruch, Eugene Grace's war time bonuses, business in general and his own health. He confessed that he wasn't "a well man" and hadn't been for a year and a half.

Gloomy About Business.

Concerning business Mr. Schwab, who could be depended upon to make cheerful predictions through the leanest years of the depression, said this:

"From all I can hear conditions are bad in New York City. If the stock exchange figures have any bearing, it would seem that business all over the country is at a standstill."

On the munitions investigation by the Nye senate committee the industrialist said:

"My company has not been in the munitions business for quite a long time. I would say that if profit is taken from the manufacture of munitions, those engaged in their manufacture would withdraw."

On the profits and bonuses received by Eugene Grace, the president of the Bethlehem Steel corporation, he said, "I shared in the profits, as did the other directors."

He did not say, however, that he had received such huge bonuses as Mr. Grace.

Calls Baruch Splendid Man.

Concerning Mr. Baruch:

"He is a splendid man and a real executive. I noticed in the papers today that Mr. Baruch advocates making war pay as it goes. It is not a new idea with him. He has always advocated it."

Mr. Schwab spent two weeks on the Riviera and while there met his old friend, Sir Basil Zaharoff, known as an international power in the manufacture, sale, and distribution of munitions.

"He is what I would term an international merchant," said Mr. Schwab. "There is no mistaking that he is a great figure in world business. I knew him first when he headed Vickers in England and have frequently met him abroad since then. He is getting along in years, as I am myself. I told him recently that he made one mistake and that was not taking the press into his confidence. Because he did not do so, many mysterious stories arose behind him. He is not a man of mystery at all, but a very frank man when you come to know him."

Asked About NRA.

Asked about the NRA, Mr. Schwab replied, "We pledged the coöperation of the Bethlehem Steel corporation with President Roosevelt. We will continue to coöperate in every way that is possible, and have observed the code in its every detail."

The present voyage across the Atlantic was Mr. Schwab's eighty-fifth or eighty-sixth; he was not sure which.

"For the last year and a half," he said, "I have been anything but a well man. I'm now 73 years old and have to take care of myself."

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Andrew Leslie, 53 years old, was arrested Wednesday at May street and Milwaukee avenue, a bottle of whisky in each hand and another under his arm. The police said he got them from Potts restaurant at 105 West Lake street after tossing a brick through the window, but Leslie denied this yesterday before Judge Matthew D. Hartigan in the felony court.

A vest was found in the restaurant where it had been left by the burglar and Judge Hartigan suggested it be compared with the prisoner's suit.

Leslie at first refused to unbutton his overcoat, but the judge was sharply insistent. Resignedly Leslie flung back his coat. He was wearing only shoes and socks.

Police explained Leslie had torn up his clothing in his cell and Judge Hartigan was prepared to sentence him for indecent exposure. Then Leslie pleaded that on many previous occasions he had always been sent to jail for "honest" offenses. Judge Hartigan relented and the prisoner was led away to serve six months for larceny.

Youth Wins Annulment in Second Court Fight

Robert J. Corbett, 21 years old, 1119 North Kenilworth avenue, Oak Park, was granted a marriage annulment by Superior Judge Joseph B. David yesterday. His first annulment plea, which was unsuccessful, was that he was intoxicated last Aug. 5 when he married Annette Murphy, 18 years old, 2431 Grove avenue, Berwyn. The action was reinstated after it was learned that the girl married Corbett while she was still the wife of Frank Laino, now serving a term for robbery in Joliet penitentiary.

PLAN TO ATTRACT WORLD FAME FOR MICHIGAN AVENUE

Brilliant Lighting System, Advertising Next.

A group of Chicago business men, all owners of property along Michigan avenue between Roosevelt road and the Chicago river, sat round a luncheon table in the Blackstone hotel yesterday and launched a program to make the avenue the best known thoroughfare in the world.

The first step in the program calls for the substitution of 200 watt electric bulbs for the 100 watt globes now illuminating the boulevard at night. The second step will take the shape of an intensive advertising program for the boulevard, its shops, and office buildings. The third will be a general beautification campaign.

Plan Comprehensive Campaign.

Yesterday's meeting was one of the first of a new organization, the Central Michigan Avenue association. J. Milton Trainer is president, Robert Hall McCormick and E. K. Hardy are vice presidents, and the directors include Graham Aldis, J. W. Benjamin, Harry H. Blum, Guy L. Ederheimer, Otto K. Eitel, John Goodrich, John P. Hooker, I. W. Kahn, L. T. Kelley, M. P. Kuhn, William O. Melcher, H. R. Rissman, William O. Trainer, Albert H. Wetten, Arthur Wirtz, and B. Bottsford Young.

After the luncheon, at which all the officers were present, John F. McKeon, executive secretary, issued a statement saying that the group had banded together "in the belief that Michigan boulevard has been neglected."

"We are planning to make all those changes to add more dash to the street. We have plenty of money and we are going to see this thing accomplished."

Speed Action on Lights.

Installation of the 200 watt lamps, according to McKeon, will make Michigan avenue as well illuminated at night as State street. Representatives of the group, he added, already have conferred with officials of the consolidated park system on this point.

The association also is planning to petition the Illinois commerce commission and the Chicago Motor Coach company to reroute all north side buses. The association will ask that buses which now turn west from Michigan avenue on Jackson boulevard, Monroe street and Washington boulevard, continue south to Roosevelt road before doubling north on State street, McKeon said.

Another project already under way, he added, will bring about the removal of the canopies over the tunnel entrances to the Illinois Central suburban train stations at Randolph and Van Buren streets.

COBINA WRIGHT DENIED DIVORCE FROM EX-BROKER

Adultery Charge Not Proved, Rules Court.

New York, March 28.—[Special.]—Referee John P. Cohalan implied in Supreme court today that William May Wright, former Wall street broker, may have been saying his Paternosters in the apartment of Myrtle Gardner, artist's model, on the night of Feb. 11, 1934.

For Mr. Cohalan refused to recommend a divorce to Mrs. Cobina Wright despite the citation by her lawyer of a decision by the late Mayor William J. Gaynor of New York when he was a justice of the Supreme court that "if a man enters a woman's bedroom in the middle of the night the court must assume that he did not go there to say his paternosters."

Charged Intimacy.

The referee held that Mrs. Wright, famous for her spectacular parties in predepression days, had failed to prove that her husband was intimate with Miss Gardner.

Mrs. Wright, that February night last year, organized something in parties that was original even for her. On the stroke of midnight she gathered her guests about her and informed them that "the next stop is 135 West 16th street."

In a spirit of good clean fun the party dashed in their cars to the address, where Miss Gardner had her apartment. Somebody knocked on the door. No answer. Somebody else knocked. Again no answer. After five minutes, according to witnesses, the door was opened and Mr. Wright appeared, fully dressed. With him was Miss Gardner, in lounging pajamas.

Costumes Influence Judge.

The costumes of these two principals were mainly responsible for Referee Cohalan's decision that no adultery was proved.

"This is the first divorce case I've had," he said on Jan. 31 last, "in which people committed adultery while fully dressed."

He then adjourned the hearing for a week to enable Mrs. Wright to submit additional adultery evidence.

At the second hearing, Homer M. Berry of Chicago, a member of the raiding party, contradicted earlier witnesses and testified that Mr. Wright wore no tie, that his collar was unfastened and that his coat and trousers did not match.

"Frankly," said the referee today, "I do not believe a word of his testimony as to how the defendant was attired."

Referring to Miss Gardner's costume, Mr. Cohalan said that she might have worn beach pajamas and added: "Women don't dress in crinolines and hoopskirts any more."

In her complaint Mrs. Wright declared that her husband and Miss Gardner lived together on Madison avenue from Oct. 1, 1933, to Feb. 5, 1934, and at the 16th street apartment from Feb. 5 to Feb. 11, 1934. She offered evidence as to only one alleged act of adultery, however, this being on the night of the raid.

FRECHETTE GETS LIFE AS SLAYER OF EMPLOYER

Howell, Mich., March 28.—[Special.]—A farmer jury tonight found Clarence Frechette, 25, a truck driver, ex-convict and former student aviator, guilty of first degree murder for killing his employer, Robert Brown.

CLARENCE FRECHETTE.

Immediately thereafter Judge Joseph Collins sentenced Frechette to life imprisonment in the Michigan state prison. The jury deliberated about six and a half hours.

Frechette was found guilty of killing his young employer, a Kalamazoo truck line operator, near here on Jan. 29.

Frechette freely admitted in his own testimony and in affidavits introduced during the trial that Brown died from bullet wounds inflicted during a fight. Frechette denied, however, any intent to commit murder. He said he was defending himself in attempting to disarm Brown when the shots were fired. He was uncertain who pulled the trigger. The fight, he insisted, followed a slurring remark by Brown concerning Frechette's erstwhile sweetheart, Grace Curran, Kalamazoo laundry worker.

BARUCH FAVORS STRONGER LAWS FOR NEUTRALITY

Also Urges Deadliest Arms for U. S.

Washington, D. C., March 28.—(AP)—A direct warning came today from Bernard M. Baruch that the United States must preserve the most rigid neutrality in the event of an European war, but that, at the same time it would be well to "keep our powder dry."

Baruch, chairman of the United States war industries board, appeared before the senate munitions committee.

"No national has the right to go into the trouble zone and expect this nation to back him if he gets into difficulties," Baruch declared.

Baruch favored making in government plants during peace "certain types" of munitions. He added:

"The government must be prepared to expend large sums of money for the purpose of developing the uttermost effectiveness in plant and worker, and above all, to develop through research, invention, and national ingenuity, the ultimate in weapons of death."

Collapse in Next War.

In another world war, he declared: "The institution of government, as we know it, would fall. Standards of living would go so low that we would go into a middle age."

As spectators began drifting from the committee room, Senator Homer T. Bone [Dem., Wash.] asked Baruch: "How long do you think we can continue this prodigious expenditure of war without debacle."

"It is upon us," Baruch replied. "If they get into conflict on the other side, they will, I believe, burn up all their resources."

Asked about a United States embargo on munitions in the next war, Baruch said, "Yes."

Senator Bone asked another question and got this answer in regard to American entry into the world war:

"If our neutrality rights had been clearly defined, we would have been less likely to get in—we might not have gone in."

To a question from Senator Vandenberg [Rep., Mich.], Baruch urged elimination of tax exempt bonds as a means of bringing about "fairer" taxation, both in peace and war time.

Defends Baruch Record.

Senator Byrnes [Dem., S. C.] remonstrated against "insinuations" against Baruch's war record. He recalled that Baruch had financed the expense of a mission to Europe to prevent misuse of American exports to the allies, and at the close of the war paid from his own pocket the fare home of all girl employés of the war industries board to keep them from "walking the streets."

Byrnes declared he was chairman of a special deficiency committee of the house appropriations committee durnig the war and that he knew the details of the financier's dealings with the government.

Immediately Chairman Nye [Rep., N. D.] asserted that the committee was not "critical of Mr. Baruch's wartime record."

CAPONE'S 5 YEAR TAX OBLIGATIONS FIXED AT $157,416

Al Capone's civil income tax obligations have been stipulated as $157,416 for the years 1924 to 1929, the United States board of tax appeals announced yesterday in Washington. Capone's attorney, Michael Ahern, appealed from original claims of $322,842 and the stipulation was the result. Capone is serving an eleven year prison sentence at Alcatraz Island in San Francisco bay.

Cases against five of Capone's associates were also settled, the board announced, as the result of Chicago hearings completed Monday. The cases were those of Capone's brother, Ralph. Jack Guzik, and James, Frank and Louis Mondi. The five claimed that the government had erroneously computed their taxable income on the basis of "unidentified bank deposits."

The claims were scaled down as follows: Ralph Capone, from $311,282 to $69,608; Guzik, from $832,752 to $378,534; James Mondi, from $107,563 to $81,021. Frank Mondi agreed to an assessment of $26.50 in taxes and $6.63 in penalties and Louis dropped his appeal of $20.41 in taxes and $10.21 in penalties.

5 GUNMEN RAID OFFICE, TERRIFY 85 AND GET $660

Five armed men made a daylight raid on the wholesale salesroom of the Westinghouse Electric company, 113 North May street, yesterday, terrorized eighty-five employés and escaped with $660.

Two of the bandits remained on the first floor, menacing five employés there, while the other three, the leader carrying a sawed-off shotgun, went to the second floor and confronted the other eighty workers.

While his companions waved their weapons the bandit leader entered the cashier's cage and ordered Miss Jennie Van Howe and Miss Anna Turacek to lie on the floor. He scooped the money from the cash drawer and the gunmen fled.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after 20 years of practice among patients afflicted with constipation with the attendant bad breath.

Olive tablets are purely a vegetable compound; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two at bedtime for a week and note the effect. 15c, 30c, 60c.

In Jewel Mystery

MRS. CHAS. WINN CANFIELD.

Miami, Fla., March 28.—[Special.]—Mystery surrounds the disappearance of diamonds and other jewels valued at $10,000 from the winter home of Fred A Poor, of Chicago, at Miami Beach recently.

Police are inclined to believe the gems have been "mislaid" and will be found. Members of the family cannot reconcile this explanation. An insurance company representative is carrying on an investigation.

The gems belonged to Mrs. Charles W. Canfield of Lake Forest, who has been with her mother, Mrs. Poor, since Mr. Poor was hurt on a polo field three weeks ago.

When Miami Beach police were notified of the loss, investigation was made at the Poor home. Chief Eugene Bryant said there was no indication of burglary, no hold-up and no suspicion of an "inside" job. He found the home in a confusion of packing and unpacking as members arrived and departed and the family distraught over the condition of Mr. Poor. For this reason he was inclined toward the theory that the jewels were misplaced and would be found.

REFUSES TO PAY CODE EXPENSES; LOSES NRA EAGLE

Having contributed $100 toward the operation of the powder puff code, A. H. Newman Jr., vice president of the Parfait Powder Puff company, 407 South Aberdeen street, decided it was "too much" when the code authority sent him a bill for $300 more. Yesterday he was notified that the firm's right to display a Blue Eagle had been revoked by the NRA at Washington for failure to pay code assessments.

Mr. Newman's reaction to the ruling, he said, was to write a letter to NRA, stating that he could see no good in paying for the support of a code agency in New York City, especially since it was composed of competitors, one of whom has vowed to put the Parfait company out of business. Although he complies with the wage and hour provisions of the code, payment of code assessments represent "cost without purpose," according to his letter.

Three other companies in the Chicago area were notified yesterday that their Blue Eagles had been taken away for nonpayment of code expenses. They are the Public Materials company, 440 North Campbell avenue; Builders Service, Inc., Winnetka, and the Morton Supplies company, Morton Grove.

OPINIONS VARY ON SIMPLIFYING MUSEUM NAME

Son of Rosenwald Favors Present Title.

Suggestions for a better, simpler name for the Museum of Science and Industry in Jackson park produced a variety of opinions yesterday.

Oscar Boenicke, 1123 East 45th street, president of the Hyde Park Kiwanis club, said: "A change in name is worth considering. People usually think of a place having the name 'museum' as housing antiques. I think the name could be greatly simplified."

Favors Name "Fine Arts."

Mrs. William Rothmann, 6148 Woodlawn avenue, president of the Arche club, said: "I have a vivid recollection of the old Fine Arts building. I would certainly be glad if a name could be evolved that would carry on the suggestion of the beautiful old structure."

Mrs. Frank Dow, 1363 East 64th street, official of the Woodlawn Woman's club, said that members of the club thought the name of the museum should pertain to their part of the city. She said she thought the present name too long.

Lessing Rosenwald, son of Julius Rosenwald, whose donations started the museum project, said last night that he approved of the present name as descriptive of the contents of the building. His sister, Mrs. Alfred K. Stern, of Highland Park, voiced the same opinion.

Thinks Name "Means Something."

Robert J. Dunham, president of the Chicago park district commissioners, said: "I prefer to see the name of a museum indicate the character of the exhibits. If the name of the Museum of Science and Industry were changed people from out of town would not know where to find the exhibit. This name means something to the outsider."

George T. Donoghue, superintendent of the Chicago park district said, "We have found from experience that eventually the public shortens the official names of museums and that we can't govern the abbreviations of the public."

SLAWEK FORMS POLISH CABINET OF OLD MEMBERS

WARSAW, March 28.—(AP)—Col. Walery Slawek formed a new cabinet today several hours after that headed by Premier Leon Kozlowski resigned, as is customary at the end of a parliamentary session. All ministers in the old cabinet were retained, the only change being in the premiership.

The chief duty facing the Slawek government will be to enforce the new constitution, recently adopted by the legislature and giving almost absolute powers to the president.

An effort in the sejm, or lower house, to challenge the validity of the vote by which the constitution was adopted, failed when the speaker permitted no speeches and called for a vote immediately. The government bloc has a majority in the house.

An extraordinary session of the parliament is expected in May or June to work out electoral provisions involving the change of constitutions. President Moscicki is expected to resign shortly and Marshal Josef Pilsudski, dictator of the country, to succeed him.

MASSAGE PARLOR INDECENCY COSTS 3 WOMEN FINES

Judge Sorry He Can't Impose Jail Terms.

Municipal Judge Edward S. Scheffler yesterday ruled that three women seized during police raids a month ago on disorderly houses operated in the guise of massage parlors were guilty of violating city ordinances relating to decent management of business establishments. After fining each woman the judge said:

"I am only sorry that the law does not allow me to impose a jail sentence. In this case, however, the only punishment I can inflict is a fine, since none of the women is charged with a criminal act. By fining these people the city and state government benefits from immoral acts. The law should be changed."

Three Fined $190 in All.

The women are Helen Williams, 45 years old, operator of a "massage parlora at 935 North State street, who was fined $100; Lee Ray, 24 years old, also of the State street address, fined $50; and Shirley Lewis, 23 years old, 509 Dunning place, also employed at the State street "parlor," who was fined $40.

All three were arrested on Feb. 28 after Sergt. Frank Sullivan, acting on orders of Police Commissioner Allman, had visited the "massage parlor." Before Judge Scheffler, on the day following the arrests, the sergeant described how the women, wearing only bath towels, had given him a massage and an oil rub.

After Massage a Parade.

When he emerged from the shower room, he told the court, he saw a bedroom door open and the Ray woman "paraded out absolutely nude."

Through their attorney, Morris J. Slater, the women pleaded that they had been entrapped into the violations by the policemen. However, Assistant Corporation Counsels Otto Weiner and William Daly gave an opinion to Judge Scheffler in which they asserted that entrapment was no defense inasmuch as the policemen had visited the place as a customer and had received the same treatment accorded all patrons.

"I have studied the law and I am convinced that this case does not involve entrapment," Judge Scheffler stated after pronouncing sentence.

Sponsor and Employer of Paroled Bandit Freed

Henry B. Gray, colored owner of a garage at 5513 South Wabash avenue, arrested for questioning in connection with the parole granted last summer to Harold Taylor, colored, was released yesterday several hours before a hearing was to have been held in the Criminal court on a writ of habeas corpus. Police announced they had failed to unearth information that would support a charge. Taylor was paroled to Gray last June 1 after serving five years in the penitentiary for automobile theft. Three weeks ago Taylor was arrested after a robbery and a pistol battle with police. The garage owner admitted he had sponsored Taylor's parole and had employed him at $40 a month.

YOUTH CONVICTED AS RAPE SLAYER GETS 199 YEARS

Judge Adds Century to Agreed Life Term.

CRIMINAL COURT.

Ernest Curtis, receiving stolen property, sentenced to one to ten years in the penitentiary by Judge Denis E. Sullivan.

Michael Tdziewski, Charles Rozak, Joseph Wallace, and Hugo Stadafore, robbery, sentenced one year to life in the penitentiary; Reed C. Colley, burglary, sentenced one to five years in the penitentiary by Judge Michael Feinberg.

Sigmund Dryjanski, 19 years old, 1338 West 49th place, yesterday was sentenced to 199 years in the penitentiary for the rape and murder last Jan. 27 of Mrs. Anna Urbanek, 52 years old, 5136 South Throop street. Dryjanski pleaded guilty to the charge after his attorneys had agreed with Assistant State's Attorney Charles S. Dougherty that the prosecutor would recommend a sentence of 99 years.

Assistant State's Attorney Dougherty read the confession of Dryjanski to Chief Justice Denis E. Sullivan of the Criminal court. In this statement Dryjanski admitted having struck Mrs. Urbanek on the head with an iron bar as she was returning home at 1:30 in the morning from her work as a charwoman in the loop. The attack occurred at 51st and Throop streets.

Confesses Brutal Attack.

After taking 80 cents from Mrs. Urbanek's purse, Dryjanski said, he dragged his victim behind the St. John of God parochial school, where he raped her and left her body in the snow.

After reading the confession Prosecutor Dougherty told Chief Justice Sullivan of the state's agreement and recommended the sentence of 99 years.

"I'll just raise that a hundred," replied the chief justice, "in view, however, of the agreement, I will not impose the death sentence as properly should be given in this case. I appreciate the position of the state's attorney in not trying the defendant before a jury and attempting to send him to the electric chair for a crime that sounds like the jungles of Africa.

"For some reason jurors are averse to the death penalty. In one recent case nine of twelve veniremen said they would not inflict death even in a proper case. The Supreme court also has ruled that a defendant cannot be sent to the electric chair on his confession unsupported by other evidence.

Youth Unmoved by Verdict.

"I am going to make sure, however, that this criminal never walks the streets again. I sentence him to 199 years in the penitentiary."

Dryjanski was unmoved by the verdict and his attorneys, James M. Burke and George Crane, made no protest. He will be eligible for parole in 66 years when he will be 85 years old.

BARBARA HUTTON ARRIVES IN U. S.; ELUDES CROWDS

Princess-Heiress to Seek Reno Divorce.

New York, March 28.—(AP)—On the theory that no one would be looking for an heiress at the third class gangplank, Princess Barbara Hutton Mdivani managed to elude a crowd of curiosity seekers today as she arrived from Europe to divorce her prince.

Leaving the ship unnoticed, the princess stepped into an automobile and was driven along a needlessly circuitous route to her home, where she prepared to leave soon for Reno.

Confusion among those watching for her was further heightened by the insistence of fellow passengers that she had left the liner Bremen at quarantine and proceeded to the Jersey shore in a cutter.

Attorney Issues Statement.

At the conclusion of the ruse her attorney, Millard F. Tompkins Jr., issued the following statement:

"Princess Mdivani has requested me to state that she and her husband have separated and that she is here for the purpose of consulting my firm with respect to obtaining a divorce. She prefers not to make any statement at this time."

The carefully engineered strategy was set in motion as early as last night when the princess, who has complained she was "just a polo widow," moved out of her suite on the de luxe deck and passed the last night at sea in another cabin.

Chauffeur on Guard.

When newspaper men boarded the Bremen at Quarantine they were permitted to gather the impression that she was in her suite resting.

Just outside her door they encountered her personal chauffeur and bodyguard, Clinton Gardiner, who stood there toying with a sawed-off billiard cue throughout the ride up the harbor.

Finally, when the ship reached its pier the door to the royal suite was thrown open and while there was plenty of luggage inside there was no princess.

Her cousin, James Woolworth Donahue, who accompanied her on the voyage, said he had no idea where she had gone and declared he had not seen her since last night.

Donahue said his cousin had not felt well during the earlier part of the voyage, but had appeared to be regaining her spirits yesterday.

The princess, who inherited somewhere around forty or fifty million dollars from her grandfather's ten cent store fortune, found herself without enough ready cash to pay a $400 wireless bill as the ship neared New York.

At the request of her Swedish masseuse, Karin Gustafson, the wireless room agreed to extend credit.

Maid Also With Her.

The heiress, who also was accompanied by a French maid, brought with her two dogs, an automobile, 15 trunks and 19 bags. Her retinue remained on the ship to take care of the luggage.

When she arrives in Reno the princess will take the first steps toward divorcing Prince Alexis Mdivani, one of the three Georgian princes who have married extensively in this country.

At the time of her marriage the heiress said frankly that she had chosen him in preference to an American because he had been reared in the kind of life that would make him a devoted husband.

But he became devoted to polo and the princess took to writing wistful little poems.

DR. FRANK CALLS NEW DEAL RULE A DICTATORSHIP

Likening the New Deal to the "experimental governments" of Germany, Russia, and Italy and President Roosevelt to European dictators, Dr. Glenn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin, said last night that the solution of present day economic problems lies in the restoration of private initiative and in a modernized capitalism. Dr. Frank spoke at Thorne hall on McKinlock campus of Northwestern university.

Dr. Frank declared that the solution to the problem of government can be reached only when a sound economic order is established. A dictatorship, he said, or some other radical change in government is inevitable unless economic prosperity is restored. And this can be accomplished, he explained, only through a modernization of capitalism.

"The culprits of capitalism are, after all, but a handful of malefactors in the crowded ranks of sincere and capable business men and industrialists," he continued. "If we are not to go boldly over to Fascism or communism, it is to this vast body of sincere and capable business men that we must look to make capitalism again function for the creation of abundant new wealth."

Clean Out Kidney Poisons

Wash Out Your 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes

If kidneys don't pass 3 pints a day and get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter, the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters may become clogged with poisonous waste and the danger of acid poisoning is greatly increased. Bladder passages are difficult, which often smart and burn like scalding water and cause discomfort.

This acid condition, brought about by poor kidney functions is a danger signal and may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

Most people watch their bowels which contain only 27 feet of intestines but neglect the kidneys which contain 15 miles of tiny tubes and filters. If these tubes or filters become clogged with poisons, it may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't run any risk. Make sure your kidneys empty 3 pints a day.

Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS, an old prescription, which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. © 1934, Foster-Milburn Co.

CRIMES SOLVED

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

The one man crime wave that has aroused Des Plaines, Park Ridge, and Edison Park in the last few weeks was ended yesterday with the arrest of Anthony Francis Lesley, 15 years old, 1475 East Rand road, Des Plaines, a high school student.

A short time after he had been apprehended Lesley confessed that he had snatched the purses of several women, stolen nine automobiles and raided a number of apartment mail boxes. He told Assistant State's Attorney Charles T. Myles he had no accomplices.

So frequent were the complaints of victims during the youth's brief crime career that the Des Plaines police force requested help and a squad of policeman was lent to the suburb by State's Attorney Courtney.

MORRIS SLAYING SUSPECT GOES BACK FOR TRIAL

LOUIS LUTZ.

Louis Lutz, 30 years old, who was arrested here on Monday as the slayer of Policeman Clarence Roseland of Morris, Ill., after a robbery in that city last Feb. 3, was returned there yesterday to stand trial for the crime. He was taken back by Sherif Irvin L. Kay and State's Attorney Roger Clarke of Grundy county, and Mayor John Telfer of Morris.

Miss Merle Ward, 19 years old, clerk in the general store of William Gabel in Morris, accompanied the three officials to Chicago and identified Lutz as the leader of three bandits who shot and fatally wounded Policeman Roseland as they fled from the store after robbing it. Miss Ward was kidnaped by the men and released in Joliet.

The Chicago police are investigating clews which may bring about the seizure of the other two robbers, they said.

Six Student Houses Under Quarantine at Illinois U.

Champaign, Ill., March 28. — [Special.]—Four fraternity and sorority houses and two private rooming houses on the University of Illinois campus are now under quarantine for observation due to scarlet fever. Harry Pritikin, 1510 Chicago avenue, Chicago, a junior, is the latest student to contract the disease and is confined in the university hospital.

GERMANY TO USE NEW AIRSHIP FOR SERVICE TO U. S.

Zeppelin to Carry Mail Across Atlantic.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, March 28.—The new Zeppelin airship, LZ-129, will be used for service to North America, Martin Wronsky, the director of Lufthansa, announced today in summarizing the spectacular progress achieved by commercial flying in Germany and neighboring countries.

Making use of the maximum speed possible in the new transport planes, Germany has speeded up flying until it is possible for an ordinary air traveler to cross almost all of Europe in less than a day.

Within Germany one can fly from Berlin to every large city or from any big city to Berlin in a maximum time of 2 hours 40 minutes, while hops to neighboring capitals do not take much longer.

Rome Seven Hours Away.

One can fly to Brussels, due to the new agreement with the Belgian company, Sabena, in three and one-half hours. Rome is a mere seven hours away from Berlin, including stops at Munich and Venice, instead of the usual 26 hours by the fastest train.

Barcelona, in sunny Spain, can be reached within eight hours. It is hoped it will be possible to fly from Berlin to Madrid in ten and a half hours in the course of the summer.

Moscow can be reached in twelve hours, while nearby Vienna is but a two and a half hour hop away. A traveler can leave Berlin in the early morning and spend five and a half hours in London and return to the German capital the same evening.

Plan Bi-Weekly Service.

Weekly transoceanic service carries mail to Brazil and Argentina in three and a half days, but plans for flying mail to North America are awaiting completion of the Zeppelin LZ-129.

Germany attempted to reach an understanding with France on service to South America. French and German companies agreed to divide the service in order to complete a bi-weekly schedule. Wronsky said that French authorities to date have refused to approve the voluntary agreements of the competitors.

SENTENCED AND FINED FOR POSING AS AN ATTORNEY

Sidney Lewis, a former law clerk, yesterday was sentenced to ten days in jail and fined $50 by Municipal Judge Stephen Adamowski for representing himself as an attorney. He was found guilty of accepting money to represent a youth in the Criminal court last Feb. 13.

Mrs. Agnes Rozak, 4746 South Tripp avenue, testified during Lewis' trial that he had accepted $420 from her to defend her son, Edward, who was charged with assault. She asserted that she supplied her son's bond by scheduling her own home as security, and that after her son followed Lewis' advice and did not appear for trial the bond was forfeited and a judgment placed against her home.

The case against Lewis was prosecuted by Assistant State's Attorney Melvin S. Rembe and by L. Duncan Lloyd, chairman of the unauthorized practice committee of the Chicago Bar association.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 28.—A Chicago orchestra of 100 marimba players organized and conducted by Clair Omar Musser, which planned two concerts in Royal Albert hall in London, has been barred by the labor ministry. The application for a permit was refused, despite the fact that the ministry has been informed that the orchestra is backed by American money, had not intended to accept other engagements in England and would return to Chicago immediately after the concerts.

The impresario Harold Holt, acting as manager for the orchestra here, complained tonight that although he assured the ministry of labor that no English performers could possibly be displaced by the visit of the Chicago orchestra, the application for a permit was turned down without a reason being given.

Supported by Chicagoans.

"It was explained to the ministry that the orchestra had the support of some local enthusiasts in Chicago, including, I believe, an English lady of title, who had raised $150,000 to send the orchestra to London to give two recitals," Holt said. "I explained also that the orchestra consists of young people of good Chicago families who appeared with great success at A Century of Progress exposition.

"I mentioned that they had booked passages on the Ile de France and would arrive about April 26 and also had booked return passage on a liner leaving about a week later, so there could be no question of further engagements."

Inquiries at the labor ministry tonight brought this frigid reply from an official:

"The application was refused in accordance with the minister's general policy with regard to American bands. It has something to do with the way English bands are treated in the United States. Also there was no guarantee that individual members of the orchestra would not seek and accept engagements on their own account."

HOPES FOR REVERSAL.

Mr. Musser last night had not given up hope that he will be permitted to take his orchestra to London. He said that officials of the United States government are working in his behalf to have the labor ministry rescind the ban on the orchestra.

"I can take it if the ministry maintains its position," said the youthful orchestra conductor. "We are going to Europe anyway, and would save money by not going to London."

The orchestra consists of 50 men and 50 women, all college graduates and of ages ranging between 18 and 32, Musser said.

NAVAL SHIPS SEARCH FOR 2 FLYERS WHO DIED IN SEA CRASH

San Diego, Cal., March 28.—[Special.]—Destroyers and navy aircraft were searching the Pacific ocean off here today for the bodies of two navy flyers who were killed last night in the crash of a bombing plane. The victims were Lieut. E. G. Kelly, 27, a native of Longview, Tex., and R. Carillo, 39, aviation machinist mate of San Diego.

Parts of the demolished plane were found in the water some time after the accident. The crash occurred in the midst of sensational night maneuvers of more than 100 fighting ships and some 400 aircraft. The battle exercises were suspended and all ships ordered into the search.

Finding parts of the wrecked bombing plane indicated it had roared into the waves under power, observers said. It was believed the bodies were carried to the bottom of the fuselage. The plane was part of the equipment of the aircraft carrier Lexington.

FIRE WIPES OUT ENTIRE FAMILY ON FARM IN IOWA

Keokuk, Ia., March 28.—[Special.]—An entire family of four was burned to death today in a fire that destroyed their farm home situated three miles west of Donnellson. The victims were Earl Robertson, 23; his wife, 21, and their two children, Susan, 3, and Keith, 18 months.

The four bodies were found in the bedroom. The position of the parents' bodies near the children's bed indicated that they had lost their lives in a futile attempt to rescue their children.

It is believed the fire started from a chicken brooder being operated in the attic of the house. Neighbors saw the flames and rallied to the rescue, but the fire had gained such headway before they became aware of it that they were unable to save the family.

Noted Beauties Keep Charm

Woman's A. C. to Open Pool to Men Guests

Special Program to Launch New Policy.

BY JUDITH CASS.

MORE than mild enthusiasm on the part of husbands, brothers, and beaux of the members of the Woman's Athletic club will greet the announcement that is being made this morning by the club's directorate. Beginning a week from tonight the swimming pool in the handsome clubhouse at Ontario street and Michigan avenue is to be opened every evening except Saturday and Sunday between 5 and 9 o'clock to the members and their masculine guests.

Husbands and beaux have never before been allowed near the pool, and it is well known that many of them have wished for such a privilege. To introduce the new plan, next Friday night a special buffet dinner and swimming exhibition has been planned by a committee with Mrs. Avery Brundage as the general chairman.

Eleanor Holm Jarrett, well known for her aquatic achievements, is to take part in the exhibition, and so are Marion Mansfield and Arleta Smith. There will be a relay race with three young women on each team and a 40 yard dash. Another feature of the evening will be fancy figure swimming.

Although the buffet supper next Friday will be especially large and gay, there will be a similar supper served every evening thereafter for all those members and their guests who are swimming. Some of those planning parties for the opening include Mrs. Andrew B. MacCaughey, the club president; Miss Lyla Woodruff, Mrs. Edward R. Adams, and Miss Betty Ashcraft. Still others are Miss Nancy Avery, Mrs. Russell Stern, Mrs. Lloyd Kelly, Miss Marjorie Mercer, Mrs. John J. Schreiner, who is Mrs. MacCaughey's daughter, and Mrs. Stanley Zaring, who is chairman of the club's natatorium committee.

Junior Simpsons to Return to Aiken.

Mr. and Mrs. James Simpson Jr., who have been at the Drake hotel since last Tuesday, will return to Aiken, S. C., on Monday to remain until May 1, when they will move to their farm at Millburn. Mrs. Simpson and the children went south with Mrs. Austin H. Niblack and her children early in the season and their husbands have spent as much time as possible with them.

Mr. Niblack is there now and is not expected to return for several more weeks, probably not until after the Maryland Hunt cup steeplechase on April 27. This famous race will be run at 4 o'clock in the afternoon on the estate of Charles L. A. Heiser at Worthington Valley, Md.

The Benjamin H. Behrs, who now are at Ocean Springs, Miss., will be in Maryland for the Hunt Cup, and they will be joined for it by their daughter, Miss Edith, who is in Chicago now. They all will return home early in May.

William H. Mitchell is leaving today for Santa Fe to spend a ten days' vacation with his son, Billy, who is a student at the Los Alamos school near there. Mrs. Mitchell and young Ginevra left last Tuesday for Aiken, where they will spend several weeks.

It will be the end of April before the Howard Linns return from their southern trip, which undoubtedly will include stops at Aiken and Worthington Valley. Mrs. Linn went to Virginia some weeks ago and Mr. Linn joined her recently. They now are at Boca Grande, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Elting Jr. are being congratulated upon the birth of a daughter on Wednesday at St. Luke's hospital. Mrs. Elting is the former Miss Helen Stanley and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Edwin Stanley.

Mrs. John Stuart Returning from East.

Mrs. John Stuart and her daughter, Mrs. George A. Poole Jr., will arrive at home today or tomorrow from a trip east. Mrs. Poole joined her mother in New York for a few days after a visit with her sister-in-law, Mrs. John Howland, in Washington.

Miss Margot and Miss Adelaide Atkin are leaving today for a motor trip east with stops in New York, Dobbs Ferry and Detroit.

While in New York Miss Margot will

Scotties Ready for Kennel Show

Miss Dorothy Goes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Goes Jr. of 6735 Constance avenue has her three pet Scotties all powdered and manicured and combed for the 34th annual all-breed show of the Chicago Kennel club opening today at the Coliseum to continue through tomorrow and Sunday. Miss Goes has already won a championship with the Scotty at the left which answers to the name of Sporran Roger. The other two Scotties, left to right, are Delavan Jin Jin II. and Delavan Little Gent.

AFTER hearing Horowitz at the symphony Tuesday afternoon, a few music lovers had another treat. Going to the south side immediately after the concert, they heard Bach played on two harpsichords, and then more Bach—a Bach fugue this time—played on a clavichord. The artists were Philip Manuel and Gavin Williamson, the only harpsichordists in Chicago, with the exception of their pupils, and two of the very few in America. [There are three harpsichord players in New York, I understand.]

Harpsichordists—

Wager.

Entering their studio on Hyde Park boulevard, one discovers four harpsichords in one room, two pianos in another, and a clavichord in a third. Framed and illuminated Gregorian manuscripts adorn the walls. The harpsichords were built especially for them by Pleyel in Paris and are in modern cases, since it is impossible to keep old harpsichords in tune. The harpsichord, as you probably know, was an important instrument in orchestras of the 17th and 18th centuries, at which time the orchestra was under the leadership of the harpsichordist. Chicagoans will have an opportunity to hear a harpsichordist concert the evening of April 3, when the two harpsichordists give a concert at the Goodman theater. One of the numbers will be the Bach Concerto for four harpsichords, with two of their pupils assisting. They will play the clavichord that evening, too. When Mr. Manuel played it the other afternoon the sound was reminiscent of Segovia at his best moments, on the mandolin.

THE old frame house in the middle of the 3900 block on Janssen avenue is owned by an elderly couple. They cling to gas light for illumination. Were you to peer in the windows you would see the Christmas tree still standing in the living room. A red paper Christmas bell hangs in the room as brilliantly red and gay as if it were Christmas eve. One can imagine many things. Perhaps the old couple are so old they feel that last Christmas may have been the last they will know on this earth, so are pretending the holidays last indefinitly. Perhaps . . . but you may make your own speculations. I tell you the tree and the bell are there.

Men's metamorphosis from the sweltering cocoon stage into a bright hued and airy existence for summer is nearer realization than ever, judging from the signs. These signs will be numerous at the meeting of the Chicago Cutters' club, which will open in the Palmer house today.

There is, for example, the "Boulevard." This is a pearl gray tweed sport suit with generous shoulders, trim, but loose fitting waist, featuring a waistcoat with rolled lapels. There is also a variety of topcoats of featherweight material with flared bottoms, built, like the suit, for summer comfort as well as style.

Even formal attire has broken away from stuffy convention. One dress model is a light serge with trousers of tropical weight and a coat with a shawl collar. Masculine models will parade the new styles at a dinner this evening.

Club Member, 104, to Give Bride, 69, to Bridegroom, 78

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 28.—(AP)—George Yesberger, 78, and Mrs. Esther Mitchell, 69, will be married tomorrow at an open meeting of the Three-Quarter Century club, an organization of 75 year olds.

The club baseball team, of which Yesberger is captain, will form an archway of bats through which the couple will make their way down the aile. The Rev. R. R. Schultz, president of the club, will perform the ceremony and Charles Eldredge, 104, will give the bride away.

Totally Deaf Can Hear at This Theater

New Type of Oscillator Makes It Possible.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

There is considerable of a thrill in attending the Sonotone theater, formerly the Punch & Judy, these days, especially if the patron happens to be hard of hearing, for the little picture house on Van Buren street between Wabash and Michigan avenues, newly reopened, is newly equipped for the benefit of those whose hearing is not what it should be.

It is said that the device is new, that this is the first theater in the world to be so equipped, and that it is the start of a movement that will spread over the United States. Every seat is fitted so the device can be plugged in then and there, and so the patron can sit any place he pleases and in numbers up to the capacity of the house. All that is necessary is to ask for the device on entering the theater. It is furnished immediately and without charge. Of course those of normal hearing may come, too. They do not need it.

As a matter of fact, there are two devices. One is the earphone for those capable of using earphones. This idea is not entirely new. They exist in other theaters. Five of the Balaban & Katz houses, the United Artists in the loop, the Granada and North Shore, north; the Tivoli, south, and the State west, also the Teatro del Lago in No Man's Land near Wilmette are so equipped. In the Balaban & Katz houses twenty seats are set aside in the rear, where earphones may be plugged in upon request. The requests average fifteen a performance.

But not all the deaf are able to use earphones. They are the ones for whom the telephone is useless. For them the Sonotone has another kind of mechanism, to say nothing of the fact that patrons are not confined to the rear of the house. This is known as the Lieber oscillator, named after Dr. Hugo Lieber of New York, a noted pioneer in work for the deaf.

In appearance it is simple enough—merely a little metal polyhedron about the size and shape of two dominoes back to back, and with a slender wire running to the plug at the side of the seat. Touch one side of it with the finger and you feel a faint vibration. Press it against a bone of the face or head and you begin to hear literally without ears.

Any place where the bone is close to the surface will do: the bone back of the ear, the forehead, the bridge of the nose, a front tooth. E. J. Stutz, the manager of the theater, says that deaf persons find their own favorite spots, depending somewhat on the conformation of the skull, and after experimenting prefer to find them.

The oscillator may be attached to a lorgnette handle for ease in holding, and a tiny rheostat on the connecting cord regulates volume of sound in proportion to the user's deafness.

You literally hear through your bones, I know, because I stopped my own ears as completely as possible and got Mr. Stutz to try it out on various spots on my head. The effect was amazing. It was nothing short of a revelation. Not only the words of the dialog from the film were perfectly audible and understandable, but the incidental music came across as clearly, with the same variety of tone color and contrast as when I was using my ears. And for purposes of the test we were sitting as far back in the balcony as we were able.

Mr. Stutz told of an interesting and rather touching experiment that had been made a few days before. A little girl about 6 years old had been brought in from a school for the deaf. She was congenitally deaf. Since her birth the world of sound had been closed to her. She was being taught to talk a little, but so far the results had not been clear and were in the strained tone common to such unfortunates.

Without telling her what they wanted to do, they got her into the theater and let her watch the picture for a time, until she got quieted down and used to her surroundings. Then, slowly and gently, Mr. Stutz touched the oscillator to her head. It was the first time she ever knew the meaning of sound.

He said she almost leaped out of her seat with excitement. Her eyes blazed and she began to chatter at top speed. For four solid hours she sat there playing with the oscillator, and no inducement could get her to leave. Something new had come into her life.

It is probably too soon to be able to tell just what sound meant to her. Without doubt several trials will have to be made before she begins to connect sound with the other phenomena of life. For the present, sound was enough for her. Mr. Stutz said that for at least three of her four hours' stay she refused to pay any attention to the picture at all. It was during the last hour that she began to look at the picture and use the oscillator.

This is only one of a number of similar cases. Every once in a while the whole theater is filled with an invited audience of the deaf. It is not entirely for purposes of the films, either. The stage is equipped with a radio microphone as well which can be used for lectures, for musical recitals, for anything in which sound is the important element.

It is estimated that 30,000 Chicagoans are hard of hearing. There are something like 15,000,000 so afflicted in America. These figures are more eloquent than any comment that can be made upon them as to what a device like the Lieber oscillator is going to mean to theatergoers.

Smart Redingote Ensemble

The Redingotes Are Ready for Spring Parade

Ensemble Models Prove Style Favorites.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

The first warm days bring the first fashion parade of the redingote ensembles. How they have taken the town by storm! More good looking affairs of these sprightly and flattering duets than have been discovered in years. Besides being decoratively chic they are the answer to the problem of being practical as well as smart. What a good clothes collector can do with one of these long coat and dress get-to-gethers savors of black magic to the uninitiated. Poking around the shops we suddenly ran into a knockout collection of redingotes, an assortment of prints and coats that left us stunned, so outstanding were the models and so lavish the tricky little details that made each one so different.

The long wool coats come lined and unlined, some lined with silk to match the silk of the dress, others lined with harmonizing dark silk the same shade as the wool. A lot of the coats are fitted and have belts to hold them smartly snug at the waistline. Some have long tuxedo collars that turn back in front to show the gay printed silk facing to match the dress. Another one has three bows that tie the thing together across the chest and at the waist. All of them have long sleeves fairly wide and loose so that you can turn back cuffs.

The dresses are exceptionally effective. Good old polka dots, the size of a 50 cent piece, against either navy, brown, or black make snappy contrast for slim wool coats of the navy, black, or brown. Prints steal the spotlight—unusual prints of soft silk with more than average attractive color combinations and patterns. Small Japanesy designs have quaint floral effects. There are bold blacks and whites in stripes, plaids, and floral patterns. But the best news is the grand moderate price tags for all this glory.

Tito Schipa Arrives for Benefit Concert; to Be Guest at Tea

Tito Schipa, famous tenor, arrived in Chicago yesterday over the Chicago and North Western railroad for a benefit concert Sunday afternoon at the Auditorium theater. Proceeds of that affair are for the Mount Vernon Seminary association scholarship fund, of Mount Vernon seminary, Washington, D. C. The singer was greeted at the train by Chicago members of the Alumna association.

The conference of club presidents and program chairmen will have a tea this afternoon at the Lake Shore Athletic club for Mr. Schipa. As president of the conference Mrs. Charles S. Clark will be the hostess.

ROADHOUSE FIRE VICTIM BLAMES FAULTY HEATER

Tells of Noticing Defect Before Fatal Blaze.

Arnold Anderson, 23 years old, 426 Belmont avenue, an experimental engineer, one of those injured when fire destroyed the Club Rendezvous in Morton Grove last Sunday, told State Fire Marshal Sherman V. Coultas yesterday that the flames, which caused the death of seven persons, were caused by a defective gas heater.

Anderson's statement was made at St. Francis hospital in Evanston, where he is recovering from burns.

"I noticed early in the evening that the two gas heaters were throwing an unusually hot blast," Anderson, a patron of the roadhouse, told Marshal Coultas. "It is my belief that the fire started through a gas burner defect. The fatal fire could easily have started in the ceiling over the burner [the other had been turned off] and spread rapidly before detected."

Fire Safety Drive Continues.

The testimony of Anderson, who is an employé of the International Harvester company and who has made technical studies of heating construction, was given credence by the investigators. Meanwhile their inquiry was continued, and county highway police continued their campaign of inspection in rural roadhouses to determine fire hazards.

The liquor license committee of the county board approved plans for the employment of four full time fire inspectors to investigate taverns in the country districts. At the same time the licensing of other amusement places by the county was suggested as a means of eliminating fire hazards.

Continue Second Fire Quiz.

Further investigation of the fire which destroyed the former Rip Track tavern at 113 25th avenue, Bellwood, early Tuesday was ordered by Deputy Fire Marshal Frank E. Doherty yesterday after questioning the owner of the property, Mrs. Eva Bruknis, and Charles E. Malone of Melrose Park, who had leased the place as a tavern. Both said that Malone had fallen behind in rent payments and on Monday night, before the fire, gave a gay "farewell" party for friends and former patrons of the place. All had left before the fire broke out.

BODY OF YOUTH FOUND IN VACANT LOT IS IDENTIFIED

The partly clad body of a young man, found yesterday morning in a vacant lot north of 8343 South Michigan avenue, was identified last night as that of Richard J. Flaherty, 20 years old, of 127 West 74th street.

The identification was made at the county morgue by his sister Mary, who told police that he had been missing from his home since noon Wednesday. About 11 p. m. Wednesday, she said, she received a phone call at the house from a friend of her brother, who gave his name only as Johnny and said he had Flaherty's watch.

Last night police of the detective bureau arrested the caller, John Waska, 19 years old, 3941 West Van Buren street, and Fred Taylor, 19 years old, 1019 East 62d street. They asserted that they had been intoxicated with Flaherty Wednesday night and that they all rode the elevated to the end of the line on 63d street.

After getting off, they said, persons in an automobile, who apparently knew Flaherty, invited him to ride with them. He accepted and Taylor and Waska saw him no more. Waska said he had taken the watch from Flaherty because the latter was too drunk to take care of it, and that his intention was to find the owner and return it to him. Both men were held at the bureau.

Flaherty's body, clad only in underclothing and socks, bore bruises about the face and shoulders. However, Dr. Jerry Kearns, coroner's physician, said these were insufficient to have caused death.

CHICAGO GROUP WINS HANDICRAFT GUILD'S AWARDS

The 1935 sweepstakes award of the national Homeworkshop guild, which closes its first annual exhibit tomorrow at 211 East North Water street, last night was presented to the Chicago Premier Homeworkshop club at a dinner in the Hotel Sherman. The award was based on a high point score in all the nine divisions of handicraft included in the contest.

The trophy, a large silver cup, and $200 in cash was given to Earl Peek, president of the club, by Rufus C. Dawes, president of the Museum of Science and Industry, who acted as chairman of the judging committee.

Articles in the sweepstakes winning group included a marionette theater, steam locomotive model, a Napoleonic model coach, a model of Fort Dearborn, and jewel caskets.

Mrs. Bridget McCaffrey Will Be Buried Tomorrow

Funeral services for Mrs. Bridget McCaffrey, 81 years old, 221 North Second street, Highland Park, lifelong resident of Lake county, who died in her home Wednesday, will be held at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow in St. James' church in Highwood. She was the widow of Michael McCaffrey, a contractor who died several years ago.

Many Workmen Reported Killed by Poison Gas Blast

SULMONA, Italy, March 28.—(AP)—A number of workmen were reported killed today by poison gas when a reservoir of liquid chlorine burst within a chemical factory. First reports said many workmen died inside the building, while others, who escaped to the open air, died as the result of the fumes they had inhaled.

Missing Woman's Body Found Floating in Lake

The body of Mrs. Matilda Lempke, 44 years old, 4408 Magnolia avenue, was taken from the lake at Addison street last evening. A few hours earlier her husband, Oscar, had reported Mrs. Lempke missing from home. He said she had been suffering from a nervous disorder.

AT 95 HE'S READY FOR ANOTHER CORN PLANTING

Petersburg, Ind., March 28.—[Special.]—Herman Fulcher, 95, Pike county's pioneer corn raiser, has begun discing ground preparatory to plant corn. His first corn planting was done at the age of 14, his father, Christopher Fulcher, giving him a five acre tract on a farm near Chillicothe, O. When he started work yesterday it was on his eighty-first consecutive corn crop.

Fulcher came to Indiana about 1880. He has had granaries for 10,000 bushels of wheat and a corncrib for 12,000 bushels of corn.

Fulcher's figures show that he has raised more than 450,000 bushels of corn since he started. He has a much smaller farm now, and with the aid of his son Henry, who lives with him, he runs the farm without hired help. A tractor is used in breaking the ground. He rides about his farm on horseback. After last year's harvest he and his son motored 5,000 miles on a vacation trip.

Marengo Couple Killed When Car Plunges 20 Feet

Memphis, Tenn., March 28.—(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Stange, both 65, of Marengo, Ill., were killed today in a highway accident near Bolivar, Tenn. The couple was en route from St. Petersburg, Fla., to Memphis to visit the family of F. H. R. Weidig, a brother of Mrs. Stange. Their automobile crashed through a bridge railing on state highway 15 and dropped twenty feet. Weidig said that Stange has played in several Chicago orchestras.

Bandits Hold Up Hamilton Bank; Flee with $6,000

HAMILTON, Ont., March 28.—(AP)—Two men held up the Royal bank branch at Gage avenue and Main streets today and escaped with between $6,000 and $7,000. The cashier and teller were locked in the cellar.

WARNS AGAINST SALES OF FAKE CEMETERY LOTS

James J. Cherry, head of the blue sky department of the state's attorney's office, sent out a warning to the public yesterday against men who seek to exchange cemetery lots for real estate bonds.

Mr. Cherry said he has received more than a score of complaints, mostly from persons in other Illinois cities who own bonds on Chicago apartment buildings. They said they were given almost worthless lots in an unknown cemetery near Chicago in exchange for their bonds.

Investigation by his department, Mr. Cherry said, showed that the salesmen of the lots displayed photographs of a beautiful cemetery tract whereas the lots they actually sold were weed patches.

Andrew J. Eisenmayer, 74, Ozarks Miller, Is Dead

Springfield, Mo., March 28.—[Special.]—Andrew J. Eisenmayer, 74, president of the Eisenmayer Milling company here and reputed by many to be the largest individual owner of Frisco railroad stock, died at his home here tonight as the result of a heart attack.

GENERAL, 71, TO LEAD ITALIAN TROOPS IN AFRICA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, March 28.—Premier Mussolini's quarrel with Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia became more mysterious tonight when the government announced that the 71 year old Gen. Emilio de Bono, high commissioner for Italy's east African colonies, has been named generalissimo of all troops recently sent to Eritrea and Italian Somaliland.

Gen. de Bono, who was a quadrumvir in the Fascist march on Rome, is much past the age when generals usually are retired. His appointment as commander in chief of Italy's war machine in Africa causes some speculation inasmuch as Gen. Rodolfo Graziani, veteran of the colonial wars, is also in Somaliland.

Gen. Graziani's departure with the 19th conscript division a month ago was interpreted as meaning that he would direct operations against the Ethiopians in case of a war between Italy and Ethiopia. As it is, Gen. Graziani will now merely be commander of the troops in Somaliland.

Mussolini's press office announced that the appointment of Gen. de Bono was for the purpose of more effectively coordinating all colonial forces. More troops and supplies will leave for Africa on Saturday.

REV. F. L. MOORE, CONGREGATIONAL OFFICIAL, DEAD

The Rev. Frank Lincoln Moore, 5724 Blackstone avenue, secretary of the western division of the Congregational church extension boards for the past nine years, died yesterday of pneumonia in the Presbyterian hospital.

Dr. Moore was 68 years old. He was born at Kalamazoo, Mich. Ordained in the Congregational ministry in 1892, he held pastorates in Oak Park, in Minnesota, in Wisconsin, and Wyoming. From 1913 to 1918 he was superintendent of missions in Colorado and Utah. From 1918 to 1926 he was secretary of the Congregational church home missions board, with headquarters in New York. He had been secretary of the western division since 1926.

Dr. Moore had planned to retire from the position next Sunday and had just finished a final tour. He is survived by his widow, two sons, and a daughter. Funeral services will be held in the United church of Hyde Park Monday at 2 p. m.

JUNE 20 IS SET TO HEAR APPEAL OF HAUPTMANN

Trenton, N. J., March 28.—[Special.]—Bruno Richard Hauptmann's stay of execution was shortened three months today. The Court of Errors and Appeals denied his counsel's plea for a postponement until October of the argument on his appeal. The court set the hearing for June 20.

Hauptmann's entire trial counsel—Edward J. Reilly, Brooklyn; Frederick A. Pope, Somerville, N. J.; C. Lloyd Fisher, Flemington, and Egbert Rosecrans, Blairstown—were before fourteen robed members of the Appellate court.

The state was represented by Attorney General David T. Wilentz and Assistant Attorneys General Joseph Lanigan and Robert Peacock.

Hauptmann remained in his cell in the death house at the state prison, his appearance not being required.

SEEKS TO REVOKE PROBATION GIVEN ROBBERS' FENCE

Assistant United States District Attorney Austin Hall filed a petition yesterday before Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson asking that the probation granted Mrs. Rose Manhoff of Dubuque, Ia., a year ago be revoked and that her prison sentence of five years be reinstated.

Mrs. Manhoff was found guilty of receiving property stolen from interstate shipments, but was allowed probation on the plea that she was the sole support of her invalid mother and that she bore a good reputation. Prosecutor Hall's petition said that Mrs. Manhoff had twice been arrested for maintaining a disorderly house, had sold liquor in prohibition days, and was the principal receiver of the stolen merchandise.

Judge Wilkerson set April 2 for the hearing.

Mrs. Maria O. Robbins Leaves $165,000 to Three

The will of Mrs. Maria Owens Robbins, 85 years old, 280 Laurel avenue, Highland Park, who died in her home Feb. 25, leaving an estate estimated at $165,000 to three children, was filed yesterday with Probate Judge Martin C. Decker of Lake county in Waukegan. Mrs. Owens was founder of the Friendly Aid society of Chicago. Her children are Percy, who was named executor, Mrs. Mabel R. Ehle, and Mrs. Elsie Phelps, all of Highland Park.

Hi-jackers Seize $5,000 Load of Candy and Brass

Fred Klinsza and Robert Allison, both of Detroit, driver and helper on a truck of the Central Transportation corporation, 1515 Sheffield avenue, reported last night that their truck and its cargo, valued at $5,000, had been hi-jacked by five men at 71st street and South Chicago avenue. The truck was loaded with candy, chewing gum and brass, they said, and was inward bound from Detroit.

News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Though the broadcast band is bedeviled with amateur performances—good, bad, and indifferent—from Sunday morning until Saturday night, there remains the cheerless fact that thousands of such shows the last year have not yet produced a single new radio star.

Winners of the big amateur shows on the networks get a week's contract at a theater. But then they go back home. They seldom get a break in radio. Hopeful youngsters haunt the offices of radio executives with the plea "I won first place on the Blank Amateur hour." All that evokes is a "So what?"

Professionals as "Amateurs."

The Radio City Party "amateur" series got away from mediocre performers by limiting its contest to professionals. After a three months' parade of voices, Lawrence Tibbett, Paul Whiteman, Gladys Swarthout, and several others as judges decided that the amateur gold medals should go to Bob Lawrence and Peg La Centra. Lawrence has been on a coast to coast network with Whiteman for a year or more and Peg La Centra has appeared on national sponsored programs for three or four years. Nice people, but not newcomers.

The amateur hour is apparently here to stay—for a while at least. Now what can be done to make it more enjoyable to listeners and of some possible value to the performer himself?

Hal Kemp has suggested a series of graduated amateur programs, in which the aspirant would make his bow on a local station near his home and work up in easy stages to a final national competition. Perhaps Kemp recalls the success of the old Atwater Kent series. It actually succeeded with its system of district, then state and sectional eliminations. And it produced several performers who clicked in a big way on the air—Donald Novis and Carol Deis among them.

A Chance in Proper Company.

Under Kemp's plan the singing truck driver of Minneapolis would not have to hitch-hike to New York to find out whether he has talent. And if he did have a voice he would not be handicapped by being heard, when he got to New York, with performers who are bad, or worse.

Under Kemp's scheme those who finally got a chance at the "grand national" would have proved their talent and amassed a certain amount of valuable broadcasting experience on the way up. And those with no merit could keep right on hoeing corn or riding herd until they had improved enough to merit another chance.

Kemp offers the plan gratis to either a sponsor or broadcaster. There is no real reason why a network could not promote such a graduated amateur contest on a sustaining basis.

As a matter of fact, something of this nature was done by CBS last year when it combed the country for a leading lady for Dick Powell on "Hollywood Hotel." The judges, in this instance, committed the error of choosing a lass who could really sing, but who was a little too buxom to please Mr. Powell. Kemp, however, who is soon to launch a new Penthouse Serenade series, promises to do right by the finalists if his plan is adopted.

HEIR TO $200,000 SAYS HE HAS NO MONEY FOR FOOD

Heir to a $200,000 estate, Schuyler Colfax Schwartz testified yesterday before Circuit Judge John Prystalski that he had only one hat, a ragged overcoat, three shirts, two pairs of socks, and no money for food. Schwartz is suing to compel William T. Pridmore, executor of the estate of his grandmother, Mrs. Josephine E. Springer, to turn over to him $10,000 which was to have been paid last January, when he became 35 years of age.

The matter was continued to April 9 after a motion to have Pridmore pay board and room for the heir, and after Attorney Frances Spooner, counsel for Martha Schwartz, stepmother of Schwartz and also a beneficiary under the will, charged that the latter had spent $225,000 between 1918 and 1927 in addition to $65,000 which he had borrowed from his grandmother and failed to repay.

Schwartz was served yesterday in a separate maintenance suit filed by his wife, Mrs. Georgia Jean Schwartz, 4628 Malden avenue, who also is seeking an injunction to tie up the estate.

HOUSEWIVES FIND BARGAINS ON CITY FOOD COUNTERS

Vegetables from South May Lower Prices.

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Consumers apparently have taken the food price situation into their own hands. With baskets on their arms they are searching the counters in various stores looking for lower priced foods.

The initiative of the individual consumer to keep prices down, together with increased receipts of fresh vegetables from southern gardens, is having a tendency to bring wholesale prices down, according to market experts. Consumers may expect these lower price tendencies in the wholesale markets to be reflected in reduced prices of foods on the retailer's counters within a short time.

Shoppers will find few changes in the retail prices of foods this week as compared to last week. The recent upward trend in wholesale prices of fruits and vegetables is disappearing as the Lenten season progresses.

Butter Prices Go Up.

Fresh tomatoes, bananas, spinach, and head lettuce already are being offered at lower prices in most stores. Price tags on foods offered for sale in retail stores today and tomorrow will be found marked higher on comparatively few items. For example, some stores have advanced the retail prices on butter, cabbage, and grapefruit. Butter prices are now higher than at any time this month.

Increased cabbage supplies are coming onto the market. Most of the new cabbage is coming to Chicago from Florida. Wholesale prices of cabbage are expected to be lower within a few days. Perhaps within another week cabbage will be selling at lower prices in retail stores in Chicago and the surrounding suburbs.

Bigger Supplies Appear.

An increased supply will be found on the greengrocer's counters in the retail shopping districts today and tomorrow. Supplies of strawberries from that state, however, are still limited but shipments will continue to increase during the next few weeks.

Liberal supplies of fresh California strawberry rhubarb continue to roll into the Chicago market. Prices on these early shipments are considered reasonable. There are plenty of radishes coming from the truck gardening sections of Florida, Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas.

Meat prices generally have shown little change in retail butcher shops since last Friday and Saturday. There is a tendency toward lower prices in pork loin roasts in a few shops. Beef pot roast and chicken prices are slightly higher than they were a week ago.

Grandson Born to Leiter Heiress; Heir to Earldom

EDINBURGH, Scotland, March 28.—(AP)—A son and heir was born to the Earl and Countess of Suffolk and Berkshire last night. The baby is a grandson of Lady Marguerite Hyde, the former Daisy Leiter, daughter of Levi Z. Leiter of Chicago. He may inherit two of the oldest English earldoms.

Appetizers Now Popular for Midnight Lunches

Assorted appetizers are invading the ranks of midnight snack foods. Some new appetizer items which should be found on the up-to-date emergency shelf are: Canned cocktail frankfurters, puffed beans from China, and the sandwich type crackers with tasty fillings.

OLD CHURCH HAS A CONGREGATION OF 700 CHICKENS

Collection Is Taken Up Every Day.

Ithaca, N. Y., March 28.—A collection plate is passed around in most churches every Sunday to receive the weekly offering. But in one church collections are made daily and offerings are received, not in money, but in eggs.

Chickens in Pulpit.

Chickens occupy the pulpit for the daily sermon; they sit in the pews and strut up and down the aisles and they seem to have little regard for the surroundings, clucking at will and cackling whenever they feel like it.

Seven hundred members of this feathered congregation live there and pay for their keep. They rise early in the morning but do not stay out too late at night, for the sexton would close the doors on them.

Was Deserted Structure.

In all of his years of experience with poultry, L. M. Hurd of the New York state college of agriculture says he has never seen a church transformed into a home for hens, until recently he happened to come across this one.

The church is in Cattaraugus county, and a poultryman bought it as a deserted structure for one hundred dollars. Perhaps if he had not bought it, it might have wasted away to rot and ruin. Now it is a home for seven hundred.

TENDER STEAKS TO BE TREATED LIKE ROASTS

Tender beef steaks or lamb chops are small roasts and the same principles used for roasts apply to them. However, instead of roasting they should be broiled in the broiling oven or in a pan on top of the stove.

The temperature should be kept fairly low and constant, and the meat should be uncovered; a temperature of 500 degrees Fahrenheit which burns, toughens, shrinks, and dries a roast, will have an equally bad effect on a steak.

Steaks and chops should first be broiled on one side, salted, then broiled on the other side and salted when the meat is done.

RAINBOW CAKE EASY TO MAKE FROM 1 RECIPE

It's a simple matter to make a rainbow collection of cakes from one white cake recipe and one batch of frosting.

The trick is accomplished by dividing the frosting into several parts and mixing each one with a different extract which colors as it flavors.

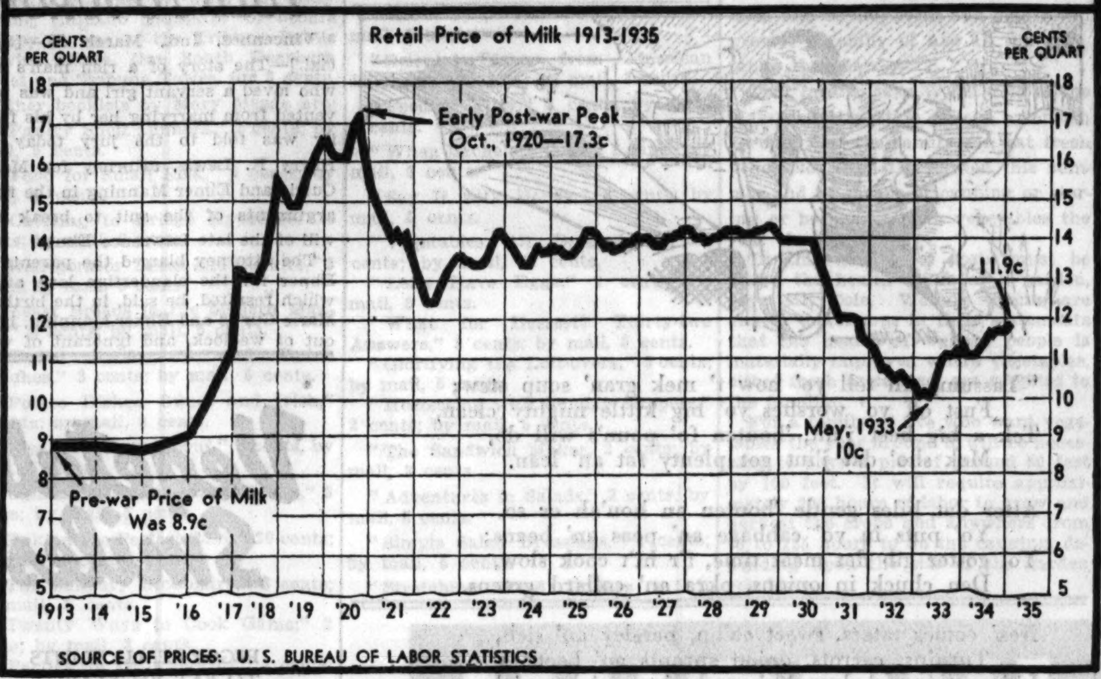
How the Price of Milk in the United States Fluctuated Since 1913



SOURCE OF PRICES: U. S. BUREAU OF LABOR STATISTICS

BOILING OF MILK MAKES LOWER GRADES SAFER

Boiling milk will give one the protection needed against infection from the lower grades of milk, whether the milk is raw or pasteurized. Boiling kills practically all the bacteria without destroying the food value of the milk, except for a very small amount of vitamin C.

This fact is not of so much importance because the amount of vitamin C present is frequently insufficient and it is necessary to include orange or tomato juice or some other good source in the daily menus. None of the reasons some give for not using boiled milk are actually valid, except the fact that it changes the flavor.

Tribune Recipes

STUFFED BEET SALAD.

6 medium sized beets.
⅓ cup diced cooked carrots.
¼ cup chopped celery.
1 No. 1 can peas.
⅓ cup French dressing.

Cook the beets, peel, and hollow. Marinate the vegetables in the dressing and fill the beet cups. Serve on a bed of endive.

CREAM SLAW.

1 quart chopped cabbage.
2 cups vinegar.
½ cup cream.
2 tablespoons sugar.
⅓ teaspoon mustard.
⅓ teaspoon celery seed.
Yolks of 2 eggs.
Salt and pepper to taste.

Beat the egg yolks and sugar together. Add the cream and the rest of the seasoning, stirring it well together. Pour the mixture into the hot vinegar and let scald for one minute. Pour over the cabbage and serve.

BUY LAMB THIS WEEK, TIP OF MEAT COUNCIL

The committee on marketing information of the Meat Council of Chicago yesterday issued the following report for the guidance of housewives purchasing meat in Chicago retail meat stores:

"Lamb is recommended as an economical meat buy in Chicago retail meat stores over the coming week-end. Regardless of the type of meat cut for which the housewife is looking, she will find an attractive buy in lamb. Leg of lamb for roasting, lamb loin and rib chops, and other lamb cuts represent outstanding bargains now."

RISING FOOD COST DRIVES PRICES UP AT CITY'S CLUBS

Mounting food costs are being translated into higher prices in Chicago's restaurants, clubs, and other eating establishments, a survey revealed yesterday.

Complaints of patrons and members have been met with the reply that the commodity price rise is responsible, and the reminder that since these price levels are still rising, even higher dining room rates are inevitable.

A graphic illustration of the food buyers' quandary was furnished members of the Chicago club in a circular prepared for guests by the house committee, explaining higher menu prices. The circular listed these percentage price increases over the levels prevailing a few months ago:

"Short loins, 107 per cent; tenderloin beef, 54; lamb racks, 45; bacon, 96; eggs, 64; butter, 71; flour, 66; fowl, 47; oranges, 53; onions, 200; grapefruit, 42, and lobster, 41."

Conditions were similar in other clubs. James T. Bristol, managing director of the Lake Shore Athletic club, declared that there have been two recent price increases there. Barney O'Grady, manager of the Hamilton club, said one price increase was inaugurated about two months ago, and another is contemplated. At the Medinah club it was said that price increases thus far have been "negligible," but it was admitted that higher dining rates are under consideration.

At only one of the clubs surveyed was it stated that there have as yet been no price rises. This was the Woman's Club of Chicago.

MICHIGAN FETE TALENT HUNT TO START TONIGHT

Benton Harbor, Mich., March 28.—[Special.]—The first annual "blossom talent contest" of the 13 year old southwestern Michigan blossom festival will get under way tomorrow night when Watervliet holds its local contest to find the best vocal group or soloist to compete for the honor as official entertainer of the festival.

Other talent contests scheduled are Berrien Springs, April 1; Dowagiac, April 2; Allegan, April 3; Hartford, April 11; Bridgman, April 8, and Baroda, April 18.

SIRUP MARKETING VENTURE SWELLS PRODUCERS' GAIN

Wisconsin Group Receives Nearly $6,000.

Madison, Wis., March 28.—[Special.]—Nearly $6,000 in cash was obtained by 43 Langlade county maple sirup producers for their 1934 harvest of 4,500 gallons of sirup as the result of an experiment in handling and marketing Wisconsin maple products.

After farmers had reduced the sap from one-third to one-half by volume, they delivered the concentrated sap to a coöperative organization, and it finally was evaporated in the same vacuum pans used for making evaporated milk.

By avoiding off-flavors, overcaramelization, and other difficulties met in individual sugar bushes, 93 per cent of fancy and No. 1 sirup was produced, while only 7 per cent of the product graded No. 2. The coöperative also took charge of packing and selling the product, thus saving producers the cost of tin cans and other containers as well as shipping or delivery charges.

It was discovered because of the extreme clarity and honeylike color of the new type of maple sirup that glass containers displayed the product to better advantage than did tin cans.

HOME ECONOMICS GROUP WILL HOLD CONVENTION HERE

The American Home Economics association will hold its national convention in Chicago June 24-28, it was announced yesterday by Miss Frances L. Swain, director of home economics of the Chicago board of education, at a meeting of committee chairmen in the Palmer house.

More than 2,000 are expected to attend and discussion will center on the general theme, "The Family and Social Policy." The membership extending to Canada, includes home economics directors in high schools and colleges, business women, home makers, dieticians and others. The convention will be held in the Palmer house.

Eggs May Be Separated More Easily When Cold

The yolks and whites of eggs may be separated more easily when the eggs are chilled. A greater volume results, however, when egg whites are allowed to come to room temperature before they are beaten.

"Coffee-Floating" golfers get out of rough

NED GREEN'S breakfast-par was two cups—of coffee! But he hadn't made it for a long time. This morning, Ned set down his half-emptied cup and looked at Nellie. "I think we've been in the rough long enough on this business of coffee," he said. "What do you say we stop floating around from one kind to another, and get back on the fairway with Hills Bros.?

He hadn't made a par for a long time

Coffee is like a putt

"I'll tell you, Nellie, coffee is like a putt. You don't know whether or not it's good, until it's actually in the cup. What we've been drinking is just a water-hazard, as far as I'm concerned."

Keep Away from Water

By Alice Campbell.

SYNOPSIS.

Sarah MacNeil, young American living in London, accepts a post as companion to Miss Christine Venables, prim, kindly and wealthy, who has been receiving letters that cannot be traced, threatening her life. Miss Venables spends most of the year at Ste. Brigitte, a resort in southern France. Her nephew, Harry, is to join her there soon. Before leaving London Miss Venables' widowed sister-in-law, Mrs. Mark Venables, Harry's stepmother, dies suddenly. She had been treated by Dr. Gilcrest, from Ste. Brigitte, who was visiting in London. On the way to Ste. Brigitte Miss Venables tells Sarah that the death threats began after her friend, Maj. Frampton, was killed in a fall down an elevator shaft. She believes he was murdered. She and the major were both threatened by two oriental drug sellers they had had prosecuted. Miss Venables' particular friends in Ste. Brigitte, besides Dr. Gilcrest, are the Baron Henri de Bellesnaves and his beautiful wife: Beryl Tomlins, town librarian and harmless gossip, and a few old residents of the resort hotel. Sarah gathers that Dr. Gilcrest is in love with the baroness. Harry arrives. Beryl Tomlins, who had just had a prescription of Dr. Gilcrest's filled by his dispenser, Marjory Barrows, is taken suddenly ill and dies. Dr. Gilcrest states an intestinal hemorrhage caused her death. Miss Venables receives another threatening letter, telling her she has one more day to live. Harry is on a visit to Monte Carlo. The baroness has gone to Arles for the day. The fatal day passes safely. Miss Venables takes her medicine and retires. Shortly after Sarah is awakened by her agonized call. She dies within the hour, after declaring to Sarah that she was poisoned. Sarah tells Dr. Gilcrest, who has been left a substantial income by Miss Venables, that it is up to him to demand a post-mortem. Harry returns. He objects to the post-mortem.

INSTALMENT XLI.
INTERROGATED BY THE POLICE.

At eleven next morning the local commissaire arrived, accompanied by a deputation from Nice, consisting of the Juge d'Instruction, the Medecin Legiste, an inspector, and a secretary. These functionaries were ushered into Sarah's room by the manager, whose dour glance showed that he regarded Mademoiselle as solely responsible for the present debacle. Who better than he knew the extent to which his precious English colony might be affected by any sensational proceedings? He might at one swoop lose half his guests. A scapegoat must be found, and Sarah suspected that it was she who had been singled out to fill the rôle.

Her turn had come last, and as the stodgy officials filed in, blotting out the sunshine with their thick, dark clothing, her heart failed her. There was something ominous and inquisitorial about the sallow visaged judge as he adjusted black rimmed pince nez and studied her through them.

"You say that since your connection with this lady began, two anonymous letters arrived, but that in neither instance did you observe any physical disturbance. Let us take the first, received while at the London hotel. It did not precipitate an illness?"

"N-no," replied Sarah cautiously. "I can't say that it did. She might have been more disturbed, if——"

"We are not here to discuss what might have happened," interrupted the judge smoothly. "However, you may state whatever circumstances surrounded that event and allow us to decide if they are relevant."

She had not meant to speak of Mrs. Venables' death, but there seemed no avoiding it.

"Her sister-in-law became violently ill in the night. In fact, she died almost at once. Miss Venables' entire attention was taken up with that, which prevented her dwelling on her own anxiety. She was always like that," Sarah added her own comment.

She saw the commissaire glance with smug satisfaction at the judge, who nodded to himself.

"Let us hear all, Mademoiselle. You say this death was sudden?"

Five pairs of eyes dwelt keenly on the narrator's face, especially when Gilcrest's brief connection with the affair came to light, but for a moment there was no remark. The judge then reverted to the letter, inquiring the exact time of its delivery.

"Posted at noon, in the same district, you say . . . and the English doctor, when did he leave London? Also at noon . . . h'm! Well, in view of the autopsy, we need scarcely concern ourselves with the other lady's death. But, stay! Where was her medicine made up?"

"At a chemist near the hotel. I should think Mr. Venables could tell you what shop it was."

"Did any one but the lady herself handle the medicine?"

"Before her death, I am sure no one did. I myself saw her take it from the clerk at the desk when we all came downstairs to lunch. At the table she broke the seal, took one dose, and put the bottle in her bag. Late that night I saw it lying on her bedtable."

"The medicine was in what form? Liquid?"

Sarah tried not to waver. "No, capsules," she answered steadily.

"Capsules?"

The Medecin Legiste leant forward suddenly. The inspector also appeared to prick up his ears, but the judge and commissaire remained calm. Clearing his throat, the judge began anew.

"Now, Mademoiselle! You tell me your employer always assumed these communications emanated from a very definite source. I suppose she made a romantic story of it, built up an atmosphere of intrigue, posed, in short, as an interesting martyr? She did, did she not?"

"Not in the least," she denied emphatically. "Miss Venables was one of the most simple and practical women I have ever met. She hated causing needless excitement. To prove that, I may say she confided in only three people outside the police."

"And those three were——?"

"Dr. Gilcrest, her nephew, and myself. Even her nephew never knew all that was going on. She didn't like to distress him."

"But she did show fear? She took elaborate precautions?"

"She might have taken more. For a woman who considered herself in constant danger, she behaved very normally."

The judge stroked his pointed beard. "Yet for a day and a half previous to her attack she confined herself to an extremely limited diet. She appears to have been taking one of her physician's prescriptions. Did she continue with it?"

"Certainly. She felt a tiny bit bad—in a physical sense, I mean—and the medicine relieved her."

The Medecin Legiste—he was a dry, sharp nosed man—interposed.

"Pardon! Just when did she take her last dose?"

"About 11 o'clock, on going to bed."

"Ah! And what has become of the bottle?"

At last!

"I locked it in the drawer of her table. If you like, I will give you the key and Miss Tomlins' medicine is probably still in a raffia bag with her knitting. Either Miss Whittaker or her sister has it."

The judge polished his glasses, set them back on his nose, and addressed her in a slightly more peremptory manner.

"Mademoiselle: Has it ever entered your head that these warnings were in the nature of a myth, a deliberate hoax? In plain language, did you at no time suspect that your employer might be writing them to herself?"

Sarah gasped as though cold water had been dashed in her face.

"Did I suspect—? Never!" she cried indignantly. "Why, it's impossible! Preposterous!"

"Not at all," retorted the judge with irritating composure. "On the contrary, it is not only a most probable solution, but the one which from early days has occurred to every official concerned. Think it over. These letters, with two exceptions, went from France to addresses widely separated and in some case known only to the lady herself, or to her immediate family. The exceptions were posted in the same town as the victim, so could easily have been managed in person. The others could have been dispatched by her in self-directed envelopes, under cover, to a hired accomplice in this country, who in turn reposted them, taking pains to wear gloves so as to leave no finger prints—as she herself would have done when she wrote them."

"I don't believe it!" burst out Sarah, then stopped short, flushing to the roots of her hair. She had remembered how Miss Venables, when handling the letter received in London, had put on gloves . . . "It can't be true," she went on, fighting down her confusion. "Why on earth should a woman as sensible as she was do such a thing?"

"It is a well known device of hysterics," explained the judge with a tolerant shrug. "Designed to center sympathetic attention on themselves. We of the legal professions, as well as medical men, are quite familiar with the ruse. Ego-maniacs whose vanity has suffered——"

"Miss Venables an ego-maniac! There you are entirely wrong. She was the least selfish woman alive."

"Mademoiselle's excellent qualities, which I make no attempt to deny, form no obstacle to the theory. Besides, it served her purpose to win your affection. No doubt she took pains to do so. Let us put the case in a dispassionate light."

BEAN SPROUTS EASY SOURCE AS FOR VITAMIN C

Vitamin C ordinarily is one of the most expensive vitamins—the main sources being citrous fruits and the green leafy vegetables. Dried legumes, although cheaper, have practically none of the necessary vitamin C. But these same beans, sprouted, turn into an excellent source of the vitamin. A pound of beans will give enough sprouts to serve 4 or 5 persons.

A simple way is to soak the beans overnight. Then put the beans in a strainer or drainable dish, leaving room for the beans to expand to six times the unsprouted size. Keep in a warm place and flood with warm water 4 or 5 times a day. The sprouts are ready for use when they are 1 inch long. This process requires from 3 to 7 days, depending on the type of bean.

Store the sprouts carefully as you would any green vegetable. Serve them alone, in soups or stew, combined with meat, in salads, omelets, or cheese dishes.

AGONY ATTENDS THE BOY WHO DID NOT PASS

Unbearable if Parents Show Humiliation.

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

[With apologies to an anonymous poet.]

"My son didn't pass. I am in such a terrible state."

"The teacher says my daughter will have to take the grade over and I am so ashamed."

"My boy has such trouble understanding his home work and often he can't do it. His marks are bad and he hates school. In the morning he vomits. I am a nervous wreck."

"The principal says my girl should be in an ungraded class, but I can't stand the idea. My husband and I are both college people."

Yes, these are all extracts from letters from mothers.

If the mothers—away from the scene of carnage—feel ashamed, what must the poor children be experiencing?

Those of us who have been able to achieve passing marks in school can have no conception of the agony for those who cannot. I am not speaking now of those boys and girls who can easily make the grade, but are uninterested and try merely to get passing marks. I am speaking of those to whom the school work is so hard that it is a constant daily dread whether they will be able to do the work sufficiently well to pass. The daily work may be hard enough, but examinations can be a form of special torture.

I am not exaggerating in using these extreme words. The knowledge that one has to accomplish something that one is incapable of doing is a terrible sensation. Inability to do what the others in the class can do, the sense of inferiority and insecurity it breeds, the feeling of differentness, of being apart, and the abasing feeling that shame engenders make life utterly miserable. When a mother adds to a child's already great burden by feeling his inabilities so intensely that she imbues his failure with shame the cup becomes too bitter.

What is the answer? We shall try to give that tomorrow.

BUYING IN BULK IS WAY TO SAVE AS HOUSEWIFE

Planning ahead results in savings. You pass up bargains—if you have cash and storage space—when you purchase, by the pound, food items that the family is going to consume in larger quantities. In comparing prices, remember that the average net weight of a bushel of potatoes is 60 pounds, of a box of apples, 44 pounds, and a bushel of onions, 54 pounds.

Less Tender Meat Cuts Improved by Pounding

The less tender cuts of meat have less fat and more connective tissue. Pounding softens the tissues of a tough steak, and the flour that is rubbed in absorbs the freed juices. Such cuts should be browned in hot suet before they are covered and simmered slowly.

CHURCH 'PRAYER BY WASHINGTON' IS CALLED FRAUD

New York, March 28.—[Special.]—The rector, wardens, and vestry of Trinity church today were sued for $5,000.20 damages by the Freethinkers of America. The plaintiff charges that the "Washington Prayer," inscribed on a plaque and sold on postcards for 10 cents each at St. Paul's chapel, is a "religious fraud."

Joseph Lewis is president of the Freethinkers. Twenty cents of the sum sought is required to pay the Freethinkers for two postcards purchased, and the $5,000 is demanded as "exemplary damages for the persistent deception and fraud."

The prayer purports to be taken from George Washington's "circular letter addressed to the governors of all the states on disbanding the army" at Newburgh June 8, 1783. As engraved on the plaque above the Washington pew at St. Paul's and printed on the postcards the prayer is addressed to "Almighty God."

As reprinted in the Freethinkers' summons and ascribed to Worthington C. Ford's collection of Washington's writings, the petition begins "Sir" and the form is that of a pious injunction to the governors.

Washington, the court papers assert, was not a Christian, not a communicant of the Protestant Episcopal church, but a Deist, a faith to which Jefferson and numerous other revolutionary leaders of the republic subscribed.

The Freethinkers also pray a mandatory injunction forcing the Trinity officers to remove the plaque and cease selling the postcards. St. Paul's is a chapel of Trinity parish.

LOVE OF YOUTH FOR SERVANT IS TOLD TO JURORS

Vincennes, Ind., March 28.—[Special.]—The story of a rich man's son who loved a servant girl and was prevented from marrying her by his family was told to the jury today by Harry R. Lewis, attorney for Marie Curtis and Elmer Manning in the final arguments of the suit to break the will of the late Lawrence Ebner.

The attorney blamed the parents of Ebner for the clandestine love affair which resulted, he said, in the birth of Marie Curtis and Elmer Manning, both out of wedlock, and ignorant of who their parents were until after childhood.

The attorney took most of today to present his case. He will be followed by Seymour Riddle, for the defendants. The case will reach the jury tomorrow.

Newberry Library Shows Original Bach Manuscript

An original Bach manuscript, the B Major Fugue for the harpsichord, was placed on display yesterday in the Newberry library by which it was purchased recently for a large sum. The composition will be played on harpsichords by Philip Manuel and Gavin Williamson at the Bach festival concert at the Goodman theater on April 8. The concert commemorates the 250th anniversary of the composer.

CONDENSED MILK A GRAND TREAT IF CARAMELIZED

Luscious Basis of Many Tasty Desserts.

The booklet, "Pleasant Meals for Lent," is on sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, One South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower, for 3 cents. By mail, 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address mail requests to Mary Meade, Chicago Tribune.

BY MARY MEADE.

The trick of turning out golden rich caramel cream from a tin of sweetened condensed milk isn't a new one. Yet there's still much to be said about the simplicity of the scheme, the utter deliciousness of the result, and the dessert possibilities involved.

Underdone, most caramel desserts are likely to be a bit flat. Overdone, they turn bitter and acrid. That's another reason for investing in a tin of this miracle working milk. Absolute uniformity of result, without any watching, wondering, and worrying on your part is ample reward.

As you probably know, the procedure is delightfully simple. All you do is to submerge the unopened can of sweetened condensed milk (it has to be the sweetened variety, as ordinary evaporated milk won't turn the trick) in boiling water, and let the water simmer slowly for exactly three hours. The can should be covered with water all during the cooking. Now, if that seems like a lot of cooking time for just one little tin, exercise a little of your customary foresight and cook several cans at once. They keep beautifully after they've been caramelized and provide a mighty handy something to fall back on in menu planning emergencies.

Another way of cooking the caramel cream is offered as a fuel saver if your oven is to be heated for some time. Have the pan full of already boiling water, put in the cans, and leave it in the oven for the three hours.

When you open the tin the miracle has been accomplished! Instead of anything resembling condensed milk, even ever so faintly, you have a tawny, rich, creamy caramel, all ready to serve! We think it's a bit rich to serve just that way as dessert, but it offers plenty of blissful ideas for dessert combinations.

Chill the can and serve the caramel in slices on rounds of sponge cake. If you will, serve it with canned fruits, with dried fruits or fresh fruits, or—try it in one of these superdelicious trifles:

Café Nut Caramel.

1 can caramelized sweetened condensed milk
½ cup hot strong coffee
¼ cup coarsely chopped pecan meats

Blend the caramel cream with the hot coffee, beating until smooth, add the nut meats, and pour into sherbet glasses. Serve cold.

Banana Caramel Pie.

½ can caramelized sweetened condensed milk
2 tablespoons water
3 bananas
Whipped cream
Baked pie shell

Blend the caramel cream with the water, beat until creamy, and pour into the baked pie shell. Chill until an hour or so before serving and then slice the bananas on top of the caramel, cover with whipped cream, and continue chilling.

Caramel Pineapple Sauce.

½ cup caramelized sweetened condensed milk
1-3 cup pineapple juice

Blend the caramel and pineapple juice and serve on ice cream, any simple pudding, or over small plain cup cakes.

GARDEN PLOTS AFFORD WAY TO CHEAP FOOD

Old Man High Cost of Eating can be knocked off his perch this coming year by means of a vegetable garden, especially when you consider that $8 to $10 expended for fertilizer, fitting the land, and buying seeds and plants will provide a family of five all the vegetables they need.

That means, says W. R. Cole of the Massachusetts State college extension service, that the family can eat fresh vegetables from the garden this summer and by means of canning or storing or both may have vegetables the year through.

To this cutting of costs must be added the health value of a garden, says Mr. Cole. Welfare agents are almost unanimous in their statements that the health of welfare people is materially improved where vegetables, either fresh or canned, are supplied to the families.

For a family of five who want vegetables the year around it will be necessary to have a plot of ground 50 feet by 100 feet. It will require approximately 200 hours of labor to grow and harvest the crops and anywhere from 75 to 125 hours to do the canning, depending upon the size of the garden you have.

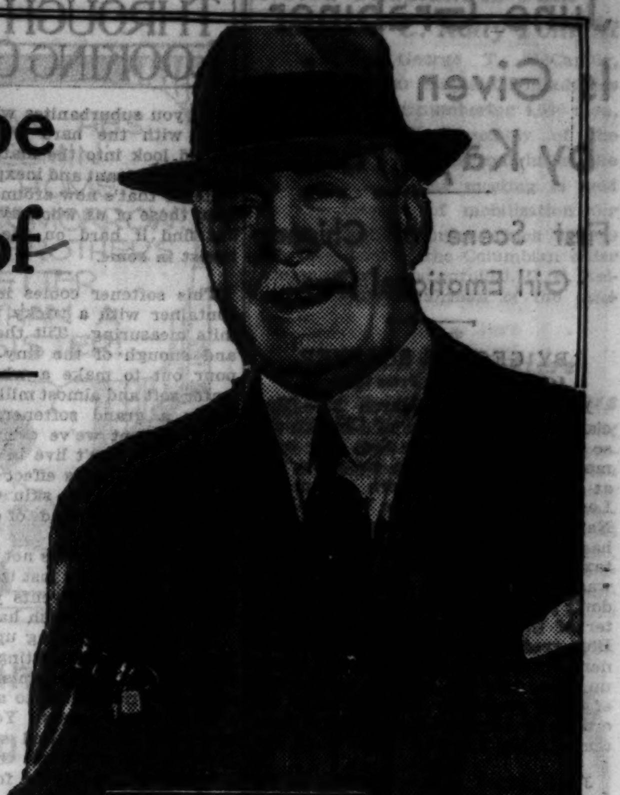
"I have to be careful of my food—for nourishment and energy I depend on Horlick's Malted Milk"



"YOU see, I'm no youngster any more. I have to watch the things I eat. I need something that I can digest easily. A nourishing, energy-giving food, yet one that my system can safely handle. I've found Horlick's Malted Milk is just that sort of food. And, believe me, Horlick's is mighty delicious and refreshing. I never grow tired of its fine, rich flavor. Yes, sir! Horlick's Malted Milk was made to my order."

Easy to digest

The ease with which it can be digested makes Horlick's Malted Milk so beneficial as a food-drink for elderly people and convalescents. This easy digestibility is the result of Horlick's special process of modifying rich, full-cream milk with extracts of the finest wheat and malted barley. Horlick's is a nourishing, building food-drink for children, too. It is an excellent source of the precious vitamins and mineral elements that help develop sturdy, healthy bodies and sound bones and teeth.

HORLICK'S, THE ORIGINAL MALTED MILK

"The NEW NUCOA IS DELICIOUS and saves you a surprising amount of money!" SAYS Ida Bailey Allen

IDA BAILEY ALLEN, America's foremost cooking authority, Former Director of National Radio-Home Makers Club.

IDEAL FOR EVERY TABLE AND COOKING USE!
Delicious on bread or rolls
For seasoning vegetables
Candies, sauces, etc.
For pan frying

WHAT MARVELOUS CAKES IT MAKES, TOO!

. . . this wonderful new product made from finest American vegetable oils and pure, whole milk.

The first time you try the New Nucoa, you'll easily understand why thousands of women are so enthusiastic about this remarkable new food development!

Just think! Here is a delicious spread for bread that actually saves you ⅓ to ½ over the one you are probably now using!

And, besides, it is perfectly marvelous for all cooking—as a shortening, as a seasoning for vegetables, for making sauces and candies and for frying!

Never before has a product so low in cost served this double purpose! For the New Nucoa, made from fine American vegetable oils, whole milk and a little salt, is quite unlike any other margarine you have ever known. These delicious nutritious ingredients are blended by a special process to give you the amazing New Nucoa. A food that cuts down your grocery bills drastically.

Get a package of the New Nucoa—today! If you are not in every way delighted, you get double your money back!

Station WBBM, 10:45 A. M.

DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK! If you don't feel that the new NUCOA is all that Mrs. Allen has said about it here, return the package and unused portion of NUCOA, with your name and address, and your grocer will give you double your money back.

HURRY! Win one of these 999 CASH PRIZES

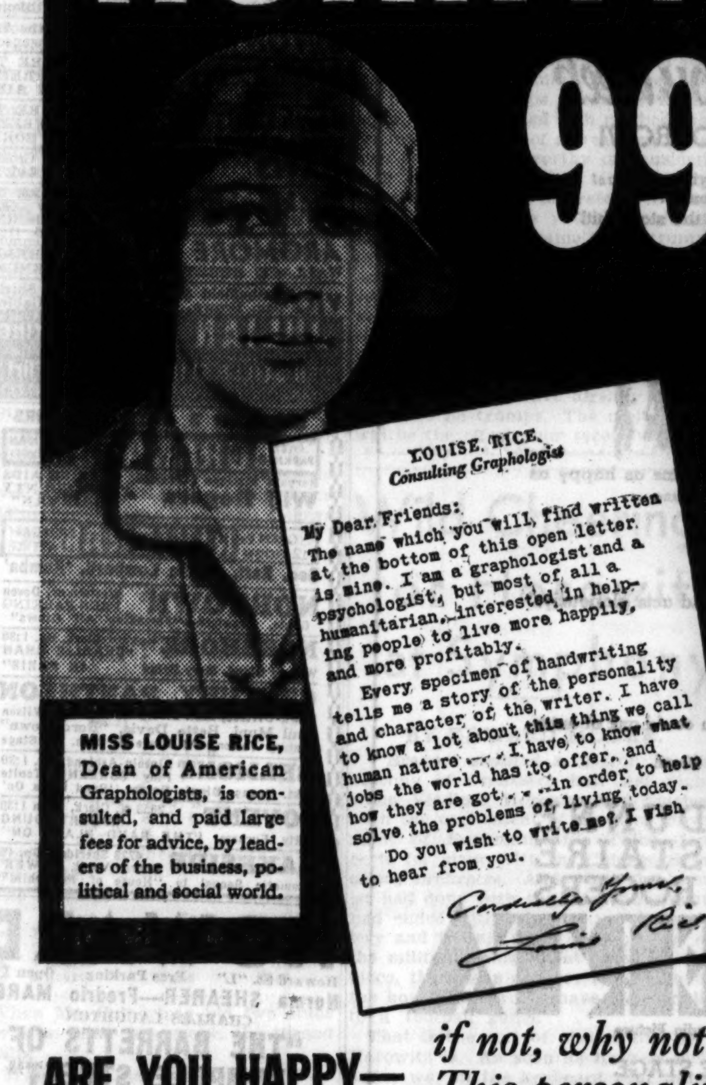
—and to EVERYONE who sends in a sample of handwriting and ONE Chipso box-top . . . I will give a FREE CONFIDENTIAL READING of your PERSONALITY and CHARACTER



LOUISE RICE
Consulting Graphologist

My Dear Friends:
The name which you will find written at the bottom of this open letter is mine. I am a graphologist and a psychologist, but most of all a humanitarian, interested in helping people to live more happily and more profitably.

Every specimen of handwriting tells me a story of the personality and character of the writer. I have to know a lot about this thing we call human nature . . . I have to know what jobs the world has to offer, and how they are got . . . in order to help solve the problems of living today.

Do you wish to write me? I wish to hear from you.

Cordially Yours,
Louise Rice

MISS LOUISE RICE, Dean of American Graphologists, is consulted, and paid large fees for advice, by leaders of the business, political and social world.

ARE YOU HAPPY— if not, why not? Do you suffer because you are not understood? . . . This personality analysis will help you solve your problems!

Louise Rice Says: "Live and love and work with joy. Let me show you how.

"Are your wishes well suited to your possibilities? Ask me. Popularity is not the reward of beauty nor even altogether of the thing called charm. Your handwriting tells me your individual powers of popularity and success."

Miss Rice will help you solve your problems. Sit down and write her about your hopes . . . your ambitions . . . your discouragements. Ask her to advise you from the qualities revealed in your handwriting.

Easy to Enter!

Just add a "P. S." to your note containing this sentence, "I like Chipso for washing clothes because it makes them wear longer," copied in your handwriting. Attach one Chipso or Chipso Granules box-top (or facsimile). Louise Rice will give you a confidential report free.

WIN A BIG CASH PRIZE!

And—999 Cash Prizes will be awarded for the most interesting personalities revealed in these handwriting entries. You may win a thousand dollars cash—and you have 998 other chances to win a cash award.

Chipso keeps clothes looking new

Chipso makes richer suds . . . washes white clothes WHITE . . . keeps colored clothes BRIGHT. Chipso is gentle—safe for even your nicest things. It's soapier—loosens grimed-in dirt without hard rubbing. And clothes washed this easy safe Chipso way wear months longer . . . Use Chipso for dishes, too! It's quick . . . cuts grease . . . easy on hands. The big Chipso box costs little and goes far. Its richer suds do more work.

When you send in your letter it is automatically entered in the Chipso Personality Contest—you stand a good chance to win a cash prize.

ALL ENTRIES MUST BE MAILED BEFORE MIDNIGHT, MAY 1st, 1935

999 CASH PRIZES

1ST PRIZE . . .	$1000
2ND PRIZE . . .	$500
3RD PRIZE . . .	$250
4TH PRIZE . . .	$100
2 PRIZES OF .	$50
10 PRIZES OF .	$25
50 PRIZES OF .	$10
100 PRIZES OF .	$5
833 PRIZES OF .	$1

READ THESE RULES CAREFULLY

1. Write a short personal note—just a few words—to Miss Rice. Tell her anything about yourself that you wish to—your problems, your hopes, your ambitions.

2. Add a "P. S." to your note containing the following sentence, copied in your own handwriting.

"I like Chipso for washing clothes because it makes them wear longer."

3. Sign your name and write your address plainly.

4. Mail your note, with 1 Chipso or Chipso Granules box-top (or facsimile) directly to Miss Louise Rice, Chrysler Building, New York City. IMPORTANT: MAIL YOUR ENTRY FIRST CLASS. BE SURE TO AFFIX SUFFICIENT POSTAGE. IT WILL TAKE LESS POSTAGE IF YOU TRIM THE TOP OFF THE BOX TO CUT OFF EXCESS CARDBOARD.

5. The following instructions will help you to get the best reading of your personality and character as revealed by your handwriting:

a) Write in ink on unruled paper

b) Write naturally. "Fancy" handwriting—"tricky" handwriting do not count. Remember, Louise Rice is an expert. She can tell when handwriting is unnatural.

6. Cash prizes will be awarded in order of merit for the 999 examples of handwriting which show the most interesting personality. Judges will be Louise Rice, assisted by Miss Margaret Conklin and Miss Day Holt. Prize winners will be notified on or before June 1st, 1935.

7. Louise Rice will make an analysis of each sample of handwriting submitted and will immediately send you her confidential, individual reading, but the sample of your handwriting will be retained for the selection of prize winners.

8. Contest closes May 1st, 1935. No sample of handwriting mailed later than May 1st, or mailed without a Chipso or Chipso Granules box-top (or facsimile) will be reported upon by Louise Rice except at her regular fee. Remember, your free reading is a present from the makers of Chipso.

9. No member of Procter & Gamble, nor of any affiliated company, is eligible to win a prize in this contest.

NOTE: EVERYONE WHO ENTERS THIS CONTEST GETS A PERSONALITY READING FREE WHETHER HE WINS A PRIZE OR NOT.

June Grabiner Is Given Praise by Kay Francis

First Scene of Chicago Girl Emotional One.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., March 28.—[Special.]—June Grabiner of Chicago got so excited about her first day as a movie actress that she caught a taxi at Wilshire and Western avenues in Los Angeles to go to the Warner-First National studio in Burbank, where she has just been put under contract. The taxi bill exceeded $6. "I forgot I wasn't in Chicago, where the taxis don't have to drive so far," the daughter of the White Sox executive said. Blue eyed and dark haired Miss Grabiner, her freckles hidden by the make-up man, had the unique satisfaction of being personally commended by the ordinarily haughty Kay Francis for a scene in her first day in the films.

June played a Russian girl trying to enter the United States but turned back with her mother at the San Francisco immigration offices. It was an emotional scene intended to be one of the tear wrenching moments in the current Kay Francis starring vehicle, "Stranded." When the 20 year old Chicago girl had finished Miss Francis walked across the set and put her arm around Miss Grabiner. "My dear, I'm proud of your scene; it was as fine a thing as I have seen. I'll probably be playing old lady parts when you're a movie star."

The New York state censor board has held up a scene in the Paul Muni Pennsylvania coal strike story "Black Fury," which is just getting ready for release. One of the New York board members objected to a scene where a coal corporation is shown hiring hard guys to act as special mine police in order to break a strike. The Pennsylvania censors, ordinarily rated here as about the hardest of all to please, okayed the Muni film unanimously. "Black Fury," previewed here earlier this week, presents a stark story of coal field strife, with Muni playing a dominating Slovak miner so well that the rôle should certainly rate as one of Muni's best [or any other actor's best].

Max Reinhardt says he will shortly apply for American citizenship because Hitler canceled his in Germany.

Nan Pierson Brooks Macy, the New York society woman who came here after her Reno divorce to work in movies, says she either is going to have to dispose of her $3,000 mink coat or hire a guard to stay in her apartment. The place was broken into again yesterday and valuables and evening dresses stolen. It was the second burglary in a week. Fortunately she was wearing the $3,000 coat to her $7.50 a day job as extra on the set of "The Crusades."

John Barrymore and Dolores Costello, who had a small fortune in a Hollywood building and loan company which blew up when its founder was sent to the penitentiary for an $8,000,000 embezzlement, are being paid off at five cents on the dollar. John had $94,525 invested. Dolores had $59,525.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

All you suburbanites who must contend with the hard water situation should look into the matter of an extremely pleasant and inexpensive water softener that's now around town. And even those of us who have lake water, but find it hard on the skin, might invest in some.

This softener comes in a generous container with a tricky top that permits measuring. Tilt the thing twice and enough of the tiny white flakes pour out to make a whole tubful of water soft and almost milky white. It's really a grand softener, one of the most efficient we've ever seen. Even though you don't live in a hard water area you'll like its effect on the water you do use. Your skin won't feel all parched and sapped of oil after its scrubbing.

The original cost is not large and the method of pouring just the right quantity at a time prevents your sloshing it in with a too lavish hand.

With Easter coming up, all the perfume houses are getting pretty gay; they figure that the finishing touch to your sartorial salute to spring will be a bit of elegant scent. You'll see some new ones shortly and some of your favorites in new sizes that are being brought out especially for the official start of the spring season.

If you have a weakness for two that are rather expensive in their regular sized bottle you'll be glad to know that they're obtainable in "sport sizes," which means small vials at a small price. One of these is a perfume originally created only for fur; it's one of the most fashionable of fragrances and is now used on and with all kinds of costumes. The other is frankly exotic, but nice. It's not the blow-you-down variety. While it is more heavy than light, it has a coolish lilt to it that makes it unique.

Settlement House Mothers to Exhibit Handicraft in Loop

The handicraft of mothers who live in the neighborhoods of Chicago's settlements, much of the art work handed down for generations in fatherlands across the seas, will be placed on exhibit for three days beginning Sunday in the Palmer house. The exhibition will be the tenth annual homemaking exhibit of the League of Mothers' Clubs of the Chicago Federation of Settlements.

There will be needlecraft displays, including clothing, patchwork quilts, hooked rugs, and novel articles made of waste materials, arts, and crafts articles, and the special exhibit of the needlework, embroidery, weaving, wood carving, brasses and coppers from the homelands of many nationalities. In addition there will be a model house with furnishings made of low cost materials by settlement men and women.

Museum Tours.

"Horses and Their Relatives" will be the subject of Monday's guide-lecture tour at the Field Museum of Natural History at 3 p. m. The tours for the rest of the week will be: Tuesday, "Life in the Far North"; Wednesday, "Primitive African Life"; Thursday, a general tour of anthropological, botanical, geological and zoological exhibits; Friday, "Interesting Foreign Birds."

Grooming Is More Essential than Wardrobe

Neatness and Taste Win Most Attention.

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

An interesting story comes to me from one who is in close contact with Hollywood affairs. It proves how a reputation may be built up without the expenditure of large sums of money. A certain young woman arrived in the film colony with little money. She figured out wisely that there was no use trying to compete on a ground that already was overcrowded with "best dressed" talent. She couldn't do it, anyway, with her modest funds.

She argued: "Well, I can't afford a swimming pool. But I have a bathtub. I'll get that tubbed and scrubbed look you hear so much about now as a leader among beauty blessings. And I'll manage at least one of the bath luxuries, such as salts and dusting powders, just to buoy me up, and make me smell nice, make me feel sure everything is O. K."

She had the rare good luck to have hair with a natural curl. It wasn't much of a trick for her to do her own wave setting. But the point here is that she took great pains with her hair and never appeared tousled or ruffled of head. She did her own nails and they always were ready for an emergency call. She did go a little extravagant on stockings, getting the sheerest and best. But the care she took of these justified the expenditure.

She was clever about picking up bits of costume jewelry at little cost. Simple things but things that worked in well with her personality. But what really won her esteem in her group was the fact that she was never seen with a pair of soiled gloves. She washed her gloves herself after one wearing and when she went forth, she carried in her bag an extra pair to sustain this reputation of hers. She concentrated on her bags and other accessories to get notice and approval. Smart girl, I say, for when you're young you don't have to spend a mint on clothes. An inexpensive dress, with good personal grooming, clean gloves, and smart accessories, work more magic than a $350 outfit without the exquisite details of person. When you're older, too, the rule works equally well. And a reputation for exquisite grooming is something, even in the filmland of beauties. It won our friend such notice as to pick her out of the "extra" ranks and set her on her way to stardom.

Special Program to Launch New Policy.

visit Mrs. Otto Teegen, the former Dorothy Schmidt, who like Miss Atkin is a former president of the Chicago Junior league, and Miss Adelaide will visit Miss Elizabeth Palmer, a former roommate at Dobbs Ferry. In Detroit they will stay with the junior Andrew Harpers [Margaret Sinclair] and it is likely that Margot will remain there for a longer visit after her sister returns to Winnetka. They will be away a month.

Speaking of Dobbs Ferry, the Chicago alumnæ of the school will meet today for luncheon in the home of Mrs. Edwin P. Dewes on Lake View avenue. Miss Dewes is president of the Chicago Dobbs club.

The Marion T. Martins have gone to Useppa Island for a brief vacation. They will return to Lake Forest the 5th or 6th of next month.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville J. Taylor, who have been bitten by the travel bug, will leave Sunday for a few weeks. They have not decided whether they will take a West Indies cruise or go to Bermuda, but they have heard so many glowing reports on the beauty of Bermuda at this time of the year that it seems they will succumb to the island's charm rather than travel about on a cruise.

Also Bermuda bound are Dr. and Mrs. Sydney P. Waud [Isabelle Morrell] who have been living in the east for the last three or four months. Dr. Waud is finishing a New York hospital internship on Saturday and he and Mrs. Waud will leave the first of the week to stay in Bermuda until just before Easter, which they will spend in New York.

They are expected in Chicago on April 22 and have taken an aparement in the same building, 232 East Walton place, in which his parents, the Ernest P. Wauds, live. Dr. Waud will enter the Presbyterian hospital here to serve an internship the first of May. His brother, Morrison, and Miss Anne Byron Smith, the Harold C. Smiths' daughter, are to be married on April 24.

African Program Is Well Received.

We predict there will be many smart Chicagoans traveling to Africa next winter for Mrs. Laura C. Boulton's program yesterday morning at the Arts club made every one who heard it wish to hear at first hand the music and see at close range the art and dance of West Africa.

Mrs. Boulton, the wife of Rudyerd Boulton of the Field museum, illustrated her interesting talk with motion pictures and phonograph records. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stark entertained at luncheon for Mrs. Boulton following her program and most of the 165 in the audience also remained at the club for luncheon. Mrs. Charles B. Goodspeed, Miss Alice Roullier, Mrs. Helen Szukalska, Mrs. John Dole, Miss Katherine Linn, Mrs. Charles W. Dempster, Mrs. Americus F. Callahan, Mrs. Benjamin V. Becker, Mrs. Philip Maher, Mrs. Schuyler Terry, Mrs. Ralph T. Winston, Miss Emily Larned, Mrs. Charles H. Swift, Mrs. Erich Gerstenberg, Mrs. Jefferson Jackson, Mrs. Samuel M. Rinaker, Mrs. Rudolph Ganz, and Mrs. Otho F. Ball were among those who enjoyed Mrs. Boulton's lecture.

Cards will be out soon for a tea at the Arts club next Friday to open an exhibition, and then about the middle of April invitations will be issued to a tea that will open the annual members' exhibition on Sunday, April 28.

A delightful affair late yesterday afternoon was a cocktail party given at the Tavern by Jozef Staniewicz, assistant to the Polish consul general, Dr. Waclaw Gawronski. Mr. Staniewicz was entertaining for Rasal Leplowski, a charming young man who has just come from Warsaw to fill the post of vice consul left vacant when Edouard Kulikowski went to Washington.

Cliff Dwellers Will Enjoy Tea Today.

Mrs. Charles B. Goodspeed and Mrs. Wentworth Field will pour this afternoon at the weekly Friday tea at the Cliff Dwellers that will follow the symphony concert. Vladimir Horowitz, the soloist, will be a guest at the tea.

Of interest here is the announcement being made in Greenwich, Conn., of the engagement of Miss Margaret McCall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sumner T. McCall, to Alexander L. Dommerich Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander L. Dommerich of Greenwich. The McCalls are former residents of Winnetka.

In a ceremony last Saturday at the Nineteenth Century club in Oak Park Miss Ruth Strickert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George William Strickert of Oak Park, became the bride of Burton Evans Crandell, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Burton Crandell, also of the western suburb.

Chicagoans Staying at White Sulphur Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Eddy, Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton N. Ross and their daughter, Nancy, of Geneva, and Dr. and Mrs. John R. Pontius of Winnetka, who are all at White Sulphur Springs, are anticipating the opening of the Casino, the headquarters of the Greenbrier Golf and Tennis club, next week. There will be a special luncheon on Sunday to mark the beginning of the season.

Entries are already being received at the West Virginia resort for the seventh annual Mason and Dixon championship, to be played over the famous Old White course. This will be on April 8. Dr. Robert H. Herbst and his daughter, Jane, are leaving next week for a vacation at White Sulphur.

Taking advantage of the spring holidays at the University of Chicago, a number of faculty members have taken their families to the Turkey Run inn for a brief vacation. Dr. and Mrs. Rollin Chamberlin and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Parmenter and their children are there. So are the Wellington Joneses, Mrs. R. H. Lawrence and her son, Hugh; Dr. and Mrs. Donald Abbott, and Mrs. N. C. Plimpton and her daughter, Caroline.

The second of three talks on psychology, arranged by the woman's auxiliary board of the Presbyterian hospital, will be given this morning at 11 o'clock in Zeisler hall of the Chicago Woman's club. Mrs. Winthrop Girling will talk on "Effect of Recent Literature on Belief and Behavior."

The Connecticut College alumnæ in and near Chicago are starting another campaign for scholarship funds, this time a sale of merchandise books.

JUNIOR GIRL'S DRESS.

The pattern, No. 3045, comes in sizes 10, 12, 14, and 16 years.

Simses Slump, Then Rally in Bridge Tourney

New York, March 28.—[Special.]—Sparkling examples of the art of bridge table repartee featured the fourth day of the Culbertson-Sims 150-rubber contract bridge match at Crockford's this afternoon. During the session Ely Culbertson demonstrated his 1935 bidding system and the Hal Sims family reduced their deficit to 2,530 by making the first grand slam of the match.

The warring couples called a truce at 7 o'clock tonight, and spent the rest of the evening at a movie together. They will resume play tomorrow afternoon, continuing at night, with a respite over Saturday and Sunday, according to the schedule at present.

By far the most interesting session of the match thus far, the afternoon saw a Culbertson lead increase from 3,250 to 5,550 [the largest margin either side has enjoyed thus far], and then fade to 2,530. Of the five rubbers played, the Culbertsons won three, the Sims family two.

At the start of the one hand Mr. Culbertson's breakfast of spinach and ice cream had arrived, and while he partook of the spinach, he doubled Mr. Sims at a four-heart contract on the second hand of the rubber. He was too hungry to notice that he might have run out the rubber with a four spade bid.

During the play of the hand Culbertson looked up from his spinach and led a spade out of turn. Sims called him.

"I am painfully aware of that fact," said Mr. Culbertson, looking ruefully at his breakfast tray. "I do not, apparently, thrive on spinach."

Sir Derrick Wernher, the referee, then cited Mr. Sims' penalty rights, which included three alternatives: First, to treat the card as led; second, to treat the card as exposed, and third, to call a lead when next his opponents got the lead. He chose the third.

"You see, Ely," he said, "I have a little plot. When I put you in the lead I shall call for a heart lead."

Sims finally called for a heart lead, but went down two for a loss of 150 points.

MRS. CULBERTSON [NORTH].
S—Q, 3.
H—10, 9, 4, 3.
D—J, 9, 5, 4, 3.
C—5, 2.

SIMS [WEST].
S—10, 9, 8, 5.
H—6, 2.
D—8, 7, 2.
C—10, 7, 4, 3.

MRS. SIMS [EAST].
S—A, K, 7, 4, 2.
H—Q, 7.
D—10.
C—Q, J, 9, 8, 6.

CULBERTSON [SOUTH].
S—J, 6.
H—A, K, J, 8, 5.
D—A, K, J, 8, 5.
C—A, K.

North-South vulnerable, with a part score of 30.

The bidding:

West.	North.	East.	South.
Pass	Pass	1 club	2 clubs
Pass	2 diamonds	2 spades	3 hearts
Pass	4 hearts	Pass	4 spades
Pass	5 hearts	Pass	Pass
Pass	....	....	....

When Mr. Culbertson bid two clubs over Mrs. Sims' bid of one, she turned to him.

"What does that mean, Ely? Does it mean you have clubs?"

"That is my 'counter-psychic,'" he replied. "It means I have a big, strong hand and my partner must not drop the bidding short of a game."

The bidding progressed with Mrs. Sims calling her spades over North's diamond bid, and Mrs. Culbertson raising her husband's hearts. Here Mr. Culbertson surprised every one by bidding four spades, subsiding when his wife took him to five hearts. He made it without any trouble.

The four spade call, Mr. Culbertson said, was a request for information. Holding the king of spades or a singleton, his partner must respond with four no trump, after which he would bid for the slam in diamonds in order that the opening lead should come up to the spade king. Holding the spade ace, his partner would have bid five no trump, and he could then have considered a grand slam bid, the heart queen being the only missing necessary card. This convention was all news to the Simses, but he made no objection.

On the last hand of the afternoon Sims made his grand slam in clubs. His wife opened with one club and Hal immediately went to seven, and made it easily. The Simses scored 1,500 points slam bonus and 140 for tricks.

CONQUERING CONTRACT

By P. HAL SIMS

ANOTHER CHOICE OF TREATMENTS.

A day or two ago I mentioned that when the bidding has been opened with a bid of one no trump there is often a delicate choice between treatments offered to both sides of the table. On that occasion I discussed a certain decision which the responder may face on the second round—whether to rebid his suit or raise to three no trumps. Today I have in mind the opening bidder when he has bid a no trump holding a CONCEALED FIVE OR SIX CARD SUIT.

Or course, there is already a choice of treatments offered when he decides to bid the no trump rather than the long suit, and here, too, the system cannot always decide for you; you may have to decide on your own judgment, not only in view of your own cards but also with reference to some bidding or playing characteristics of your partner. However, I think that I discussed this particular question at sufficient length in the earlier articles devoted specifically to it. At this moment I have in mind the second round of bidding, when the partner has responded and the opening bidder must now decide whether or not to mention this long suit. Naturally, one tends to mention a major suit and to keep quiet about a minor; and obviously the nature of your partner's response will often make it quite obvious whether or not you should now bid the suit for the purpose of getting him to choose for you whether the hand should be played in your suit or his suit or no trumps. The safety of the hand as you now see it will generally dictate your policy pretty clearly when you are doubtful about bidding for game and wish to hear once more from your partner before committing the hand to three no trumps. Perhaps we are then more concerned with method than with the selection of a treatment when two or more are worthy of consideration in the particular circumstances which have arisen. My reference today is to hands where you have already decided to bid for game in no trumps, after hearing your partner's first response, and your decision whether or not to mention your long-concealed suit is based only on STRATEGIC REASONS CONCERNED WITH THE PLAYING ANGLE and not concerned with the nature of the ultimate contract, since you have already decided on three no trumps. The main factor will be the effect your second bid may have on the opening lead and on the first play which your right hand opponent may make if he gets the lead later. If you bid this hidden suit, will it tend to produce a favorable lead or to deter one? On the last few occasions when he had to open against you under somewhat similar conditions did your left hand opponent find on analysis that if he had opened a suit you had bid he would have embarrassed you not because you could be hurt in that suit, but because some other lead would have saved you a guess or even a trick or two by saving you from having eventually to lead it first yourself? In the main, with a concealed suit, such as A K Q x x, I tend to bid the suit so as to induce them to lead some other suit. I may have A Q x, A J x, K x in the other suits and pray for a lead in any of them. Will the mention of my big suit induce them to lead another one? Or will the leader remember this same strategy from an earlier experience, and decide that I bid the suit because I wanted him to lead something else? Here again you must invoke psychology and imagination in order to select the treatment which is more likely to obtain a strategic playing advantage for you. You may have to do the very reverse of the obvious thing. At another time, your main suit may itself contain a finesse holding: A K J x x or A Q J x x. A lead in that suit would come straight from heaven. How can you brighten your prospects of obtaining it? By bidding the suit, giving the inference that you want something else led? Or by keeping quiet about it, hoping that the leader does not hold the missing honor, and may lead "the top of nothing" in order not to jeopardize honors he holds in the other suits, or merely because he is a fine contract player, making what he hopes will be a harmless lead against a Sims no trump bidder, who is surely well prepared for a lead of the fourth best away from some honor or honor combination?

These decisions are among the high spots in contract thrills. I cannot decide them for you, thank goodness. All I ask is that you do not expect the Sims system to give you a cut and dried procedure to rob the occasion of all its interest. We offer a choice of treatments, each having its logical sequel to take care of the next round of bidding. It is up to you to make your choice.

Romance Often Results from Vacation Trip

BY DORIS BLAKE.

A brunette, 26 years old, lonesome, wants to know: "Where do bachelors between the ages of 30 and 35 spend their time so one might meet and get acquainted with them?"

That we just can't answer, Lonesome Brunette. We don't think they congregate in any particular place. We think they play Lone Wolf rather than run with a gang, maybe because they can get away more quickly.

Lonesome Brunette looks back over her 26 years and realizes now that she went about the whole thing the wrong way. When she started working she was bent on success for herself first, marriage after. Well, now she says: "I have a car and a good one, have cash in the bank, and a hope chest filled with linens and things, but there's no hope for the chest now nor for me!"

She tells how she thought patronizing the better dance places might bring her bachelor contact. But the men, of the right kind, bring their own women with them and only those looking for a wild time appear alone. These Lonesome Brunette has no time for.

Well, 26 isn't exactly a doddering old age, although it is a good year to be checking up on oneself sharply if a married future is the aim. Statisticians tell us that after the 26th birthday, opportunities become more rare. But perhaps that was before nothing became impossible to a woman with her mind made up.

Now, we'd suggest, instead of haunting dance places, unescorted by a man, that one put her money and her faith on a vacation trip, off in an entirely new field and environment. A boat trip often is the solution. With a nice wardrobe, the leisurely days, the moonlit nights, well, anything might happen to the girl in search of a marriageable bachelor. It's been done, times without number.

Sticking around home expecting one's young married friends to wangle an introduction, as Brunette has found out, isn't often productive of results.

Have you found the SUNNY PACKAGE on your grocer's shelf?

It's a delicious ready-to-eat cereal. Millions of Americans have found Kellogg's ALL-BRAN a safe, effective means of correcting common constipation—the kind caused by lack of "bulk" in the menu.

Laboratory measurements show that ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to aid elimination. ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B and iron.

The "bulk" in this tempting cereal is more effective than that found in fruits and vegetables—because it resists digestion better. Within the body, it absorbs moisture, and forms a soft mass. Gently, this cleans out the intestinal waste.

Isn't this natural food better than taking patent medicines? Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases with each meal. If this fails to give relief, see your doctor.

Enjoy ALL-BRAN as a cereal, or cook into appetizing recipes. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN contains much more needed "bulk" than part-bran products. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Wild Cheering for Horowitz at Symphony

BY EDWARD MOORE.

"Bravo," shouted a patron in the balcony of Orchestra hall last night when Vladimir Horowitz had finished with the excitement of the first movement of Rachmaninoff's Third Concerto for piano with the Chicago Symphony orchestra. And when the pianist had done with the final movement, had ended with bringing up the artillery and the air force and the rest of the militant energy that pervades the piece, there was a cheer from all over the house that would have done credit to a football game.

That is the sort of pianist that Mr. Horowitz is. As soon as he gets well under way at the keyboard your mind at once starts off on something having not the least to do with music in the effort to get a comparison for the tremendous figure he is in the world of the piano. I have been reproved by mail for this sort of thing before, but in the contemplation of a person who is quite a bit beyond ordinary humanity in his playing there is still a temptation to go out of humanity for a description.

The trouble is to find any sort of a word to attach to him. You may say that he plays with the swiftness, the infallibility, the inevitability of a Diesel engine, but if you do you must imagine a Diesel engine that is able to carry on its work and at the same time get up and make the piano sing at one time and burst into the grace and color of a dance out of the Russian ballet at another. So perhaps it is well to stop and admit that hearing Vladimir Horowitz play is one of the experiences of a lifetime.

This concerto by Rachmaninoff is the one with which he temporarily unbalanced the sanity of his audiences when he first appeared as soloist with the orchestra several years ago. It is an insidious, not to say deceptive, work. Mr. Horowitz starts gently, in a vein of calm lyricism, and you say to yourself that it is some of the loveliest piano playing on record. Before long you add, still to yourself, that he is an extraordinarily brilliant artist. Then he piles up wave upon wave of excitement, and by this time you stop caring whether you are expressing an opinion to yourself or to the world.

It is true that he appeared under good auspices last night. Frederick Stock and the orchestra gave him an advance setting of stirring, colorful, dramatic Russian music, first with Liadow's "Baba Yaga" and then with Tschaikowsky's "Manfred" Symphony. These were almost enough for one of Mr. Stock's most notable programs. But after the intermission came the Horowitz climax.

Ossip Gabrilowitsch, who was announced as piano soloist two weeks from now, has been taken to a Detroit hospital for observation, and there is doubt whether he will be able to keep his assignment here.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Frank Flentyre of Wilmette announce the engagement of their daughter, Rose Elizabeth, to Norman Nicklas Danielson, son of Mrs. S. A. Danielson of Chicago. Religious Motif Enhances Beauty of Lovely Quilt

Framed Cross.

Patterns of this quilt design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, One South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower.

BY NANCY CABOT.

"Framed Cross" is one of numerous old pieced quilt patterns which have a religious title and motif. Originating in Virginia, it is an excellent example of the beautiful needlework done by the mistresses of southern plantations. Rose, gold, and white were the colors considered most suitable to the "Framed Cross," although many other colors may be combined harmoniously, and even scraps of several materials have been used successfully.

Scouts Compete Tonight in Midwest First Aid Meet

Boy Scout troops from four states will compete tonight in the midwest first aid contest at the Bartlett gymnasium at the University of Chicago. The annual contest is sponsored and directed by the Red Cross. One of the Michigan troops, champion in its council, is composed of five blind boys from a school in Lansing. Chicago's champion troop comes from the scout organization of the Irving Park Presbyterian church. Other states represented in the contest are Indiana and Wisconsin.

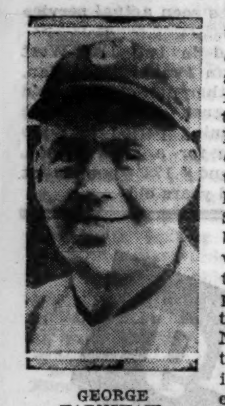
EARNSHAW BACK IN FORM; MATES MAKE 16 HITS

Whitehead Strong in Pinches.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]



GEORGE EARNSHAW.

Phoenix, Ariz., March 28.—In some unknown way the White Sox came back to life here today and dealt out just compensation for the fashion in which the Pittsburgh Pirates have been embarrassing them during the last week. The Sox slapped the ball and in other ways conducted themselves so impressively that they defeated their National league traveling companions, 8 to 3. However, the Chicagoans still have much work ahead. It was only their second victory in the eight games played to date.

The hitting of the Sox was so general that no one in particular was a standout, unless Rip Radcliff be given credit for starting two of the best rallies of the performance. Altogether there were 16 drives off Ralph [Lefty] Birkofer and Cy Blanton. It probably grieved Mr. Al Simmons that he should be out of action on a day in which the going appeared to be good for his teammates. The Duke was on the sidelines because of his classy spring batting average of .087.

Earnshaw Bears Down.

The Sox enjoyed some fair to middlin' pitching from the arm of George Earnshaw, who apparently bore down slightly for the first time this spring and for the first time looked good. He labored four innings under a tropical Arizona sun, and the one run scored during that time was due solely to a bit of poor fielding. John Whitehead, the Texas league rookie, was picked to perform in the last five innings, the first two of which were satisfactory. In the seventh and eighth he staggered around under a deluge of seven hits, but was lucky enough to escape with a minimum of damage.

After the start had been delayed long enough to permit Gov. B. B. Moeur to make the customary political wild throw on the first ball, the Pirates proceeded to set down the Sox and then register one for themselves in their opening half. Some of Radcliff's bad fielding aided in this happening. He raced around under L. Waner's high fly and finally let it drop many feet away for a triple. Warner scored a moment later on Jensen's roller to Wright. That was the lone run off Earnshaw.

Sox Go into Lead.

Things moved along fairly smoothly for Birkofer until Radcliff opened the fourth with a scratch single to Lavagetto. Conlan was hit on the hand while trying to bunt and while it wasn't serious he retired, Hafey running for him. Wright sacrificed the runners to third and second. Washington flunked out on a rolled to Lavagetto. Appling banged a single to right, Radcliffe scoring and Hafey halting at third. Dykes singled in the same direction to score Hafey, putting the Sox ahead, 2 to 1.

Radcliff also assumed responsibility for getting the Sox started on another two run splurge in the fifth. He doubled along the left field line with one out. Hafey singled through short and Radcliff scored. Hafey moved to second on the futile throw to the plate. Wright lined a single into center to score Hafey.

As soon as Blanton showed up for work in the sixth he was nicked for

Talking It Over

[Copyright: 1935: By The Chicago Tribune.]

WHEN the late Wilbert Robinson was manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers he signaled for a steal by removing his glasses from his nose. . . . One day Babe Herman raced to second with the Dodgers three runs behind and was thrown out. . . . When he returned to the bench he drew a verbal broadside from Robby. . . . "Well, you were monkeying with your glasses and that's the sign to steal," replied Herman in self-defense. . . . "O, I was just wiping off the perspiration," countered Robinson. . . . George Kirksey, Chicago sports editor of the United Press, injured in a Beverly Hills auto accident several days ago, has been recuperating in San Francisco. . . . His head is shaved after the fashion of a friar. . . . The wound is healing nicely and the patient remains only slightly dizzy. . . . Marty Burke of the Blackhawks shoots golf in the low 70s. . . . The highest price ever paid a National Professional league football club for a player was $4,000 the Bears turned over to the Cardinals for Paddy Driscoll. . . . Paddy made good the first time out for the Bears by scoring all sixteen points the team rolled up against the Cardinals. . . .

Only one American bred horse, Rubio, ever has won the English Grand National steeplechase. . . . It probably is uncharitable to bring it up, but Art Lasky said two weeks ago: "If I am not good enough to beat James J. Braddock, then I had better go for a stroll on the George Washington bridge and start walking sideways when I reach the middle." . . . You may recall that Braddock won the decision. . . . Cubs Beat Portland, 8 to 6; Klein, O'Dea Hit Home Runs

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., March 28.—Lon Warneke changed his mind about pitching nine innings against Portland today and resigned from the contest after six innings, with the Cubs leading, 6 to 2. Roy Henshaw came in and let the Ducks tie the score, aided by four Cub errors in two innings, but the brave Chicagoans would not be denied and hammered in two runs in the eighth for a glorious 8 to 6 triumph.

The margin of victory was more than covered by two Cub homers. Chuck Klein hit his second of the two game series with one on in the first inning and Ken O'Dea made a solo smack in the fourth.

Warneke was not so good as he might have been, allowing ten hits in six innings, including three doubles by Chet Wilburn.

The Cubs tomorrow will play the first of a two game series with the Hollywood Stars, with Hartnett and Grimm probably absent. Gabby's finger is better and so is Grimm's lumbago. But both are cautious.

Klein Hits Homer.

The first three men to face Warneke were credited with hits, but only one run bloomed in the session. Bongiovanni beat out an infield roller but was out stealing. Wilburn doubled to right, went to third on Davis' single to Herman and scored on Cissell's fly to Klein. Clabaugh flied to Cuyler.

Klein's homer put the Cubs ahead in their end of the first inning. Galan opened with a single to right, moved up on Herman's infield tap, and scored ahead of Klein when Chuck drove the ball into the stand in right center. Hack doubled to left, but Cuyler and Cavarretta couldn't get him home.

English and Blackerby singled to get the Portland second under way, but a double play and an infield out halted the proceedings short of production.

Wilburn knocked his second double with one out in the third and went to third on a wild pitch and scored the tying run on Davis' single to right. Davis was out trying to reach second. Cissell grounded out to Herman.

Cubs Resume Lead.

The Cubs resumed the lead after two were out in the latter half of the third. Klein singled and stopped at third on Hack's second double. Cuyler singled to center, scoring Klein

TORONTO WHIPS BOSTON, 3-0, FOR PLAYOFF LEAD

Thoms, Metz and Jackson Score for Leafs.

TORONTO, March 28.—(AP)—The Toronto Maple Leafs shut out the Boston Bruins, 3 to 0, tonight to take a 2 to 1 lead in the first place playoffs for the National Hocky league championship and a berth in the Stanley cup finals. One more victory will clinch the series for the Leafs. The two play here again Saturday night. A near record crowd of 14,218 saw the game tonight.

The Canadian section winners completely overpowered the Bruins tonight. Visibly worn from the two battles at Boston, the Bruins offered their great goal tender, Tiny Thompson, little assistance and the Leafs looked like winners from the start.

Leafs Score Early.

The Leafs struck in the first minute of play, Bill Thoms getting the first goal in forty-four seconds. Frank Finnigan skated up to the Boston defense, tricked Babe Siebert into charging him, and then slipped the puck through to Thoms, who was uncovered. Thoms' shot struck Thompson's pads and glanced into the cage.

Midway through the second period, when Bill Hollett and Peggy O'Neill were resting on the penalty bench, Red Horner rammed into Eddie Shore and then laid a pass on the stick of young Nick Metz, promoted from the Syracuse Stars for the big series. Metz scored from straight out.

Jackson Gets Goal.

The final goal came in the third period when Harvey Jackson took a pass from Charley Conacher at the goal mouth and knocked the puck in without giving Thompson a chance.

MAROONS, 2; RANGERS, 1

New York, March 28.—(AP)—The Montreal Maroons tonight conquered the New York Rangers, 2 to 1, in the first encounter of their semi-final battle of the National Hocky league playoff series. The teams will conclude their two game, total goal series at Montreal Saturday.

While a capacity crowd of 16,000 looked on, the Montreal sextet came from behind after spotting the Rangers an early goal, took the lead late in the second period and protected it to the end.

Bunny Cook scored the New York goal three minutes after the start when he scooped up a rebound after a pass from Frank Boucher to Bill Cook and shoveled it home from far out. The Maroons tied it up half way through the period. Herb Cain came out of a tangle at the defense line, circled Ching Johnson and Earl Seibert and banged in a sharp angle shot.

Lawrence [Baldy] Northcott netted the winning goal. He took the puck behind the net after Goalie Kerr had cleared Hooley Smith's effort, feinted Kerr to the far side, then turned back quickly and slipped the puck in behind the goalie's back. Lineup:

FIRST CHAMPIONS TO MEET

Field of 27 to Compete Today in Grand National AINTREE, England, March 28.—(AP)—Backed down to 2 to 1 at the track today, Dorothy Paget's horse, Golden Miller, gave promise of starting at the outstanding odds of 6-4 tomorrow in the Grand National steeplechase against 26 of the world's greatest equine jumpers, five of them American owned.

The weight of history as well as the top weight of 175 pounds will be astride last year's winner when the barrier is sprung at about 3 p. m. [11 a. m. C. S. T.] before a crowd of possibly 300,000. The lowest previous price ever quoted against the favorite was 5 to 2 in 1924, against Conjuror II., which fell at the third jump.

Five Win Twice.

Only five horses in 97 years of history of the steeplechase classic ever won the trying test twice and only two ever won it twice in succession. It has been more than 60 years since the last of these consecutive victories was recorded. Abd-el-Kader was the first, winning in 1850 and 1851, and The Colonel was the last, leading his rivals home in 1869 and 1870. Poethlyn won in 1918-'19 but the 1918 race was at Catwick and is not counted a Grand National by English turfmen.

Nevertheless, thousands of backers of the stout hearted Golden Miller are confident he will flout history and romp home the winner over the long course. In the official callover tonight the big bay gelding was quoted at slightly longer odds of 9 to 4.

$8,000,000 in Sweepstakes.

Riding with Golden Miller and his rivals will be the hopes of the lucky holders of tickets in the Irish Hospital sweepstakes. On the outcome of the race hinges the distribution of more than $8,000,000 in prize money.

The bright sun of the last several days has put the track in tip top condition. "It's exactly the kind of going Golden Miller likes," said his jockey, Gerry Wilson. "I think he will win again."

John Hay Whitney's Thomond, third in the 1934 running and the most highly fancied of the American quintet, remained the firm second choice at 6 to 1, with F. E. Peek's French-bred Tapinols quoted at 19 to 2 and George H. [Pete] Bostwick's Castle Irwell the fourth choice

You Can Still Buy Tickets

If you have been too busy to purchase tickets to the intercity Golden Gloves bouts at Chicago Stadium tonight, there is no reason why you need miss the show. There still are 2,150 general admission tickets available. They will be on sale until 6 p. m. at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street, and in the lobby of Tribune Tower.

Twelve hundred tickets will be held back for last minute applicants. They will go on sale at Chicago Stadium tonight at 8 p. m. at gates 1 and 3 on Madison street and gate 4 on Warren avenue.

The price is only 50 cents, tax included.

BY FRENCH LANE.

This is the night when Father Dearborn and Pop Knickerbocker stage their annual chin punching carnival.

The occasion is the eighth annual intercity Golden Gloves battle between the amateur boxing champions of New York, representing the New York Daily News, and the champions of Chicagoland, representing THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

From 8 o'clock tonight until the midnight hour approaches, the lads from the east and those from the west will have it out in their own furious manner at the Chicago Stadium. A capacity crowd of more than 22,000 is already assured.

All Even in Series.

These old rivals—Father Dearborn and Pop Knickerbocker—for eight years have been trying to settle the dispute as to which carries the heftier punch. They will crawl through the ropes tonight with the argument no nearer a settlement than it was when it started.

Each has scored three victories. One intercity match ended in an 8 to 8 deadlock.

New Yorkers are lamenting the fact that their team is not quite at full fighting strength for the reason that several members of their intercity squad, including five champions, were fired several days ago because they wanted some pay in the shape of spending money for their work.

"Tsk, tsk," answer the Chicagoans. "Didn't we invade New York last year and fairly fight you to a standstill only to lose, 9 to 7, with six of our own champions missing?"

N. Y. Team Powerful.

That situation arose last year because New York would not permit the champions from Chicago and who hailed from Detroit and Cleveland to fight.

So Chicagoans are not going to waste any of their sympathy on New York. Neither are they going to underestimate the true fighting strength of the lads from Manhattan.

A careful scrutiny of New York's performers reveals that the invaders are particularly strong in the flyweight, featherweight, and heavyweight divisions, and that there is no particularly weak member on the team.

Urso and Coyle Start It.

In the three divisions where they appear best, Chicago is also well fortified. Against New York's flyweight champion, George Coyle, Chicago will be represented by the great little puncher, Patsy Urso. In the featherweight class Andy Scrivani will be the Chicago colorbearer against New York's champion, John Cabello. New York's two great heavyweights, Jimmy Howell and Larry Green, are not going to encounter a couple of pushovers when they square away against our big champion, Lorenzo Pack, and his running mate, Otis Thomas.

Many of the battles in the other divisions will probably be just as exciting, for it is a tradition of these intercity Golden Gloves scraps that the greatest thrillers often come from the least expected source.

Tonight's crowd will be typical of Golden Gloves gatherings. The lads from the street, from back o' the yards, from the ghetto, and from all around the town have dug up the price of a ticket and they'll make the galleries resound with their cheering and noisemaking.

Boxers Attend Movies.

The New York fighters will be introduced to the tune of "Sidewalks of New York," and the Chicagoans to the strains of "Illinois." There will be other ceremonies during the intermission period.

For the rival boxers, who are trained to the very peak, yesterday was a light day. There was some brief road work during the morning and some gymnasium work during the afternoon. Their last boxing drills had taken place 24 hours earlier. Last night Chicago's warriors attended a picture show. They will sleep late this morning. New York's lads were trying to keep from being nervous at a comedy in a loop theater. The members of both teams will weigh in at the Medinah club gymnasium at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

16 Bouts on Program.

The first fighting tonight will take place in the flyweight division. Bouts will proceed on up through the weight classes with the heavyweights furnishing the climax in the last two battles.

There will be sixteen bouts in all, and each victor wins a point for the team he represents.

The best out of town A. A. U. referees and judges in America will officiate.

RUNYAN RETAINS LEAD IN NORTH AND SOUTH GOLF

Paul Shoots 71 for Total of 136; Nelson 2d.

Pinehurst, N. C., March 28.—(AP)—Paul Runyan held his 3 stroke advantage over the north and south open tournament field through the half way mark today by shooting a 71 for a thirty-six hole total of 136.

Felix Serafin of Scranton, Pa., and Ray Mangrum of Los Angeles, who came through with 68s to tie for second on the opening day when Runyan got away to a flying start with a 65, lost a stroke to the little P. G. A. champion with 72s and yielded second place to Byron Nelson of Texarkana, Tex. Young Nelson brought in a 69 to go with 70 for 139.

Turnesa, Burner Break 70.

Nelson was one of three players breaking 70 for the second round. The others were Mike Turnesa of the Elmsford [N. Y.] Turnesas, who also had a 69, and Ted Turner of Pine Valley, N. J., whose 68 was the lowest round of the day.

Turnesa's 69 tied him at 140 with Serafin and Mangrum. The next best score was 142. Bunched at this figure were Bobby Cruickshank, Richmond; Denny Shute, Philadelphia, and Harry Cooper, Chicago. Turner, who started with a 75, stood alone at 143.

Eight strokes back of Runyan at 144 was Henry Picard, Hershey, Pa., the defending titleholder, along with Tom Kerrigan, Mount Vernon, N. Y.; Harold McSpaden, Kansas City; Willie MacFarlane, Tuckahoe, N. Y.; Joe Ezar, Waco, Tex., and Victor Ghezzi, Deal, N. J.

Hagen Takes a 79.

Back in the ruck were a host of golf's big names. Walter Hagen's total with a 79 today was 154. Tommy Armour had 149, Horton Smith 150, Frank Walsh 151, and Wiffy Cox 151.

Hagen's card showed a big nine on the eighth hole, where he tried four times before getting his ball out of a bunker with a brassie.

The tournament, carrying $1,000 first prize and other cash prizes bringing the total to $4,000, will wind up tomorrow with 36 holes play for the low sixty players at the end of today's round. Thirty-six scores of 154 and better qualified for the final test.

Baer May Fight 2 Title Bouts in Chicago Rings Next Summer

There is a possibility that Max Baer will defend his heavyweight boxing championship in Chicago twice this year, against Max Schmeling in June and against Joe Louis or Primo Carnera in September.

That was the statement made by Chicago Stadium officials yesterday in rebuttal to reports from several sources that a Baer-Schmeling match would be held in Germany this summer and a Baer-Joe Louis or Baer-Primo Carnera contest would be presented in New York in September by Promoter Mike Jacobs, Madison Square Garden's active rival. Louis, who clashes with Natie Brown in Detroit tonight under the auspices of Stadium officials, and Carnera are booked to fight in the east June 19.

Neither Is Tied Up in East.

"That is the only contract John Roxborough, Louis' manager, has signed with Jacobs and his associates," James C. Mullen, Stadium comatchmaker, said. "After it is over, the winner likely will fight for us, for we've been told neither is tied up by the eastern group for future bouts."

This information is contrary to that issued by the eastern promoters who announced several days ago Louis had been signed for three contests under their direction. Louis is booked to make his next Chicago appearance at the Stadium April 12.

Mullen will board an airplane for Detroit at 5 o'clock this morning. After the Louis-Brown match he plans to fly to New York "to get the lay of the land." He says he will return to Chicago by plane in time to meet Champion Baer, Manager Ancil Hoffman, and the rest of the party when they arrive from Sacramento, Cal., Sunday morning.

May Meet at Soldiers' Field.

The Chicago promotional group, headed by James Norris Sr., millionaire grain broker, expects to get into the Baer-Schmeling picture by uniting with the Garden in staging the next heavyweight title fight at Soldiers' field. The match originally was scheduled at New York, but the New York boxing commission refused to sanction it, contending Schmeling first must battle James J. Braddock, who has been designated No. 1 challenger by the eastern body.

Consequently, the Garden, which has both men under contract, is considering Chicago as the site for the fight. In order to invade this state, however, the eastern corporation would have to work with a resident promoter. Norris would rather have his own organization promote the bout. The next best thing is to coöperate with the outside group, so this city would not lose the attraction and he is 100 per cent for it.

At any rate, on the assumption Baer will whip Schmeling when they meet for the second time in two years, the Chicago promoters are confident they will be able to sign the champion for a championship encounter in September.

Syl Saleska, Milwaukee, Wis., and Max Elling, Pittsburgh, Pa., were matched yesterday for a six round semi-final to the eight round windup bout between Jackie Sharkey and Orville Drouillard at Marigold Gardens Monday. Sharkey, who is training at Trafton's gymnasium for his second encounter with Drouillard in three weeks, will lengthen his sparring drill today from three rounds to five.

Three matches at five rounds and one at four were arranged last night for the show Monday at Midway arena. They follow:

Gene Higgins vs. Frank Keevil [5], 147.
John Mirabel vs. John Fitzpatrick [5], 134.
Scotty McLean vs. Sailor Born [5], 136.
Frank Schultz vs. Fred Cleveland [4], 115.

Sam Langford Has Operation to Restore Sight

New York, March 28.—[Special.]—Sam Langford, the shuffling, grinning Boston tar baby of another generation of boxers, was in Neurological hospital on Welfare Island today, waiting for perhaps the most important decision in his life.

It isn't a referee's decision that the colored fighter awaits, such as in 1909, 1910, and 1911, when, little heavier than a welterweight, he could lick just about any man in the ring.

Dr. James W. Smith, eye specialist, will decide some time within a month whether Sam Langford, whose eyesight and timing were the envy of all fighters from welterweights upward 25 years ago, ever can see again.

His eyes bandaged since the operation yesterday afternoon, the Boston tar baby lay in bed today.

Seventeen years ago, in a bout in Boston with Fred Fulton, Sam received a drubbing about the head that started his eye trouble. In November, 1924, the fighter was taken to French hospital, where Dr. Smith operated to draw together a muscular fold in the retina of his "good" right eye. The operation was believed a success.

But in the next eleven years Sam's eye again lost its sight, and so, yesterday, broken but still smiling, Langford shuffled into Neurological hospital and Dr. Smith performed a similar operation.

NEW YORK FIVES HERE TOMORROW FOR C. Y. O. PLAY

St. Nicholas of Tolentine's basketball teams, Catholic champions of the Bronx and reputed to be among the strongest church teams in New York, will arrive in Chicago tomorrow morning for their intercity games with the C. Y. O. titleholders at Loyola university gymnasium Sunday afternoon.

Welcoming the New York invaders at the Union station will be officials of the Catholic Youth organization and the Holy Name society, including the Rev. William Mockenhaupt, Rev. Walter H. Chelminski, William J. Campbell and Edwin H. Thomas.

Sunday's games will mark the third time that the Catholic basketball champions of the two cities have met. In the two previous meetings, both of which were held in New York, the Chicago C. Y. O. split even, winning in 1932 and losing in 1934. Opposing St. Nicholas Sunday will be St. John's of Joliet, winners of the 1935 C. Y. O. basketball race.

Beloit Meets Superior for Badger Title

Madison, Wis., March 28.—[Special.]—Beloit High school tonight moved another notch nearer its fourth straight state basketball title when it whipped Stevens Point, 37 to 24, in the semifinals of the annual Wisconsin tournament. The victory was Beloit's sixteenth straight in state tournament competition, during which it won three state championships.

Superior Central earned a place in the final bracket with Beloit by whipping its neighbor, Superior East, in tonight's final game, 40 to 14.

Beloit has not been defeated in a state tournament game since 1931 when it lost to Wisconsin High, of Madison, 17 to 14, in the first round. Beloit went on to win the consolation championship that year, and since has piled up 28 straight victories in district and state tournaments.

Held to a 7 to 7 tie at the end of the first quarter, the state champions moved into a 16 to 9 lead at the half, and added 21 points in the last two quarters with four substitutes in the lineup.

Mayville's Rally Scores 27 Points.

Mayville defeated Marion, 37 to 25, scoring 27 points in a second half drive after the score had been 10 to 10 at the half. Bronko Malesvich, hard driving Mayville forward, hit the net for five baskets, and Finke, his team mate, dropped six shots in seven chances at the free throw line.

Augusta and Niagara won the right to meet for the class B consolation title tomorrow afternoon when they defeated Abbotsford and Spring Valley, respectively, in semi-final games today. Kenosha eliminated Madison West in the class A consolation semi-finals this afternoon, 28 to 20, after holding a 9 to 8 edge at the half.

Sturgeon Bay Wins.

Sturgeon Bay tonight won the right to meet Kenosha for the class A consolation title when it edged out Tomah, 19 to 17.

With three minutes remaining Bob Henrichs, Sturgeon Bay center, connected for two baskets and a free throw to clinch the victory.

QUIT? CAMPBELL LAUGHS ON EVE OF VOYAGE HOME

Speed Champion Indicates He'll Try Again.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 28.—"I'm fit and 50. There's nothing a man of 30 can do that I can't do. I still can run a couple of miles, and, as you know, auto racing is my hobby."

This was the answer today to suggestions that Sir Malcolm Campbell, British knight of speed, was through and satisfied to rest on his laurels after driving 276.816 miles an hour to a new world's record.

Bronzed by Florida sun, small and wiry, the Briton received interviewers in his hotel suite. It might have been his own living room in Surrey, to which he is returning tomorrow night aboard the Berengaria. Conservatively dressed in high stiff collar and oxford gray, he looked more like a Wall street broker than the world's land speed king.

No Definite Plans.

A pair of unusually broad shoulders and a firm handclasp are the only indications that he is the man who drove an automobile faster than any one else alive—it took him less than 13 seconds to do a mile.

"Will you try again next year for your goal of 300 miles an hour?" he was asked.

"Well, now, frankly," he replied, "I don't know. I've made no definite plans but I would like to hit that mark."

"Are you sure your wife wouldn't object?"

"Lady Campbell, like myself, is a fatalist. We both agree that when my time comes I'll go. There's no telling if this will be on the sands at Daytona Beach or amid the quiet of my estate in Surrey."

His Business Calls.

Right now the British driver is anxious to get back to his business interests in London. A hobby, he insists is very expensive and when he decided to try for a new world's record, he just closed up shop and let his business mark time.

Sir Malcolm isn't a poor man exactly. His grandfather, Andrew Campbell, founded the family fortune dealing in diamonds and London real estate. His father followed through, and with this foundation Sir Malcolm added his share selling insurance.

Officials Picked for Golden Gloves Battles Tonight

BERRY SIGNS TO PLAY FOOTBALL WITH CARDINALS

Gil Berry, former University of Illinois player, yesterday signed a new contract with the Chicago Cardinal professional football team for 1935. Berry has been under contract to the Cards since he left school two years ago, but never has seen actual service as a professional.

Berry appeared in two East-West games, one at San Francisco on Jan. 1, 1933, and another at Soldiers' field the following August. He is planning a strenuous training period to whip himself in shape for a good season. He weighs around 178 pounds at present, and is 23 years old.

SELKIRK'S BAT LEADS YANKEES TO 9-2 VICTORY

Gehrig Chased After He Goes Hitless.

Bradenton, Fla., March 28.—(AP)—George Selkirk, Babe Ruth's successor in the New York lineup, today paced the Yankees to a 9 to 2 victory over the world champion St. Louis Cardinals in the first of a two game exhibition series. Selkirk drove in five of the Yankees' runs with a homer, a double and two singles in five times at bat and scored twice himself.

Lou Gehrig again went hitless and in the ninth with two strikes and one ball called was put out of the game for protesting Umpire Parker's decisions at the plate. Jack Saltzgaver went in to bat for the Yankee star and hit the first pitch for two bases. Score:

New York [A.]........003 010 032—9 9 2
St. Louis [N.L.].......000 010 001—2 5 1

DODGERS, 9; TIGERS, 5.

Lakeland, Fla., March 28.—(AP)—Van Mungo went the route today as the Brooklyn Dodgers defeated the Detroit Tigers, 9 to 5, to make a clean sweep of the four game exhibition series. The Dodgers' ace allowed eleven hits, but was not scored on until the fifth when the American league champions made four runs on three hits and errors by Linus Frey and Tony Cuccinello.

Alvin Crowder, pitching five innings, was the victim of eight of the Dodgers' runs and twelve of their sixteen hits, including homers by Sam Leslie and Len Koenecke. Score:

BROWNS, 7; BISONS, 3.

Fort Lauderdale, Fla., March 28.—(AP)—The St. Louis Browns piled up runs in the seventh and eighth innings today to defeat Buffalo of the International league, 7 to 3. It was the American league's tenth victory in twelve spring training games. Harland Clift, batting in third place in the club's new order, drove in three runs with a double in the seventh. Ray Pepper and Rollie Hemsley each had three singles. Score:

St. Louis [A]......000 000 340—7 14 0
Buffalo [I L]........010 000 200—3 7 1

INDIANS, 5; GIANTS, 4.

Mobile, Ala., March 28.—(AP)—After finding Carl Hubbell a problem in the early innings, the Cleveland Indians finished strong today at the expense of Adolfo Luque and Frank Gabler to defeat the New York Giants, 5 to 4, in 10 innings.

Hubbell was touched for one run and eight hits in six innings. Louis Berger's triple with two on, off Gabler, in the tenth, decided the issue. Score:

PHILS, 5; RED SOX, 3.

Winter Haven, Fla., March 28.—(AP)—Piling up four runs in their first time at bat, the Phillies today snapped out of a losing streak and defeated the Boston Red Sox, 5 to 3. Two errors by Joe Cronin, Sox manager, on grounders by Johnny Moore and Al Todd, a triple by Lou Chiozza and singles by Ethan Allen and Johnny Vergez gave the Phils their first victory in four days and an even .500 average in twelve spring season games. Score:

Boston [A.] ....000 102 000—3 5 4
Philadelphia [N.] ..400 000 10*—5 10 1

BRAVES, 5; REDS, 2.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 28.—(AP)—A pair of two baggers by Wally Berger came in handy today while the Boston Braves were building up a 5 to 2 victory over the Cincinnati Reds. In the fifth inning Danny MacFayden got a freak homer when his easy fly took a crazy hop in center field and bounded past Berger. Babe Ruth, who shared the first base assignment with Randy Moore, went hitless on his two trips to the plate. Score:

Cincinnati [N.]......000 110 000—2 7 1

MACKS WIN, 16-13.

Chattanooga, Tenn., March 28.—(AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics defeated the Chattanooga Lookouts, 16 to 13, today for the fourth consecutive triumph in their tour of the Southern Association. Cain started the hurling for the A's and fared well in his 4 innings, but his successors, Dietrich and Lieber, were blasted from the mound. Score:

BLUES BEAT SENATORS.

Biloxi, Miss., March 28.—(AP)—The Washington Senators were given a 5 to 1 beating by the Kansas City Blues today in the last exhibition game here before the Griffmen leave on a ten day tour that will carry them back to the national capital. The American association hurlers limited the Senators to six hits, and the lone run was forced across by a base on balls. Score:

Kansas City [AA]....000 020 003—5 7 0

Sox Pile Up 16 Hits; Whip Pirates, 8 to 3

a run, but it wasn't entirely his fault. Dykes led off with a single to left, Ruel batted for Shea and fouled out. Whitehead aimed a healthy bounder toward short and Young let the ball go through his hands, Dykes going to third. The Sox manager scored on Hayes' fly to L. Waner.

Whitehead had a bit of trouble in the Pirates' half. Mauldin, who succeeded Dykes at third, fumbled Brubaker's grounder and Whitehead threw wide to first on a tap by Browne. Whitehead showed himself not lacking in courage in the pinch. Thevenow bounced into a double play which Hayes started, and Epps flied to Radcliff.

The Chicagoans continued their admirable and also unusual work in the seventh. Wright drew a walk from Blanton and hustled around to the plate on a double to center by Washington. The Pirates scored one in their half on a triple by Blanton and an infield out.

The Pirates added one more in the eighth on singles by Brown, Thevenow, and Blanton. There also was a single off L. Waner's bat, but previously there had been a double play mixed in, hence little damage. The Sox followed this with two runs in the ninth on a triple by Wright, single by Mauldin, and triple by Ruel. Whitehead managed to recover his bearings for the Pirates' final stand.

San Antonio Games Off.

Owing to difficulties about a ball park at San Antonio, Tex., the Sox and Pirates today were forced to make an alteration in the circus tour as originally planned. They were billed to show there next Sunday and Monday, but there's no place on which to stage the act. Hence a Sunday as well as a Saturday game will be played at El Paso and Monday will be spent in idleness at San Antonio. Tomorrow's affair is scheduled for Tucson. Sam Jones and Joe Vance will share the Sox pitching. Bill Swift and Mace Brown will try their luck for the Pirates.

YANKEES LEAVE MALONE BEHIND WITH LAME ARM

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Bradenton, Fla., March 28.—Pat Malone, complaining of a lame pitching arm, did not make the trip here with the Yankees today for the exhibition game with the Cardinals.

The former Cub right hander, who reported to Manager Joe McCarthy yesterday after his purchase from the Cardinals, remained in St. Petersburg with several other Yankees for a short workout.

Malone's revelation that he had something the matter with his arm, which he injured while working out with the Cardinals almost two weeks ago, came as a surprise.

Manager Joe McCarthy was not upset by the news and expects Malone to be ready for duty within a few days.

Malone said today he was "tickled to be back with Joe McCarthy, who always was fair to me. I am quite certain that I can win at least 15 games for the Yankees."

Y.M.C.A.Fencers Prepare for Carnival of Sports

Preparations for the fencing finals to be held April 6 at the Y. M. C. A. sports carnival at the 132d Regiment armory yesterday were under way in all of the twenty-two departments. Lawson "Y," last year's winner of the individual and team championships, is expected to repeat in this year's event.

MOSTLY about DOGS

By Bob Becker

Show Opens Today

There will be no shortage of wire haired terriers at the Chicago Kennel club show which opens this morning in the Coliseum and continues through Sunday evening. According to the entry count of the various breeds to be seen the score reads: Wire haired fox terriers, 88; cocker spaniels, 78; Dobermann Pinschers, 67; chows, 53; Boston terriers, 48; collies, 39; Scottish terriers, 37; German shepherds, 37; English springer spaniels, 37; English setters, 35; Irish terriers, 35; Airedale terriers, 30; bulldogs, 28; Pekingese, 30; Kerry blue terriers, 28; dachshunds, 19; Great Danes, 18, and Irish wolfhounds, 9.

In some respects the comparison among the various breeds is what one might expect after glancing at entries in other shows. The cockers, wire haired terriers, Dobermanns, and several other breeds usually are well represented. However, there is one big drop in this list when compared to the New York show. There were more than 150 dachshunds in the eastern show, but here the number entered is surprisingly low. The sporting dog group will be well worth seeing because of the large number of setters and spaniels.

According to the latest report from show headquarters the number of dogs entered is 915. This makes the 1935 show the biggest ever held in the 34 year history of the Chicago Kennel club, exclusive of the combined club and specialty show held in 1926.

The children's class will be judged at 1:30 p. m. Sunday. This is a feature of the show that should attract much interest. Visitors to the show will see the toy dogs [except Pekes] judged at 2 o'clock this afternoon [Pomeranians, Yorkshire terriers, etc.]. Tonight the spaniels will be in the ring.

Tomorrow will be the big day for the terriers and sporting dogs, including hounds. Many of the terriers, including the Cairns, airedales, Kerry blues, and others will be asked to strut around the ring starting at 11 o'clock in the morning before Judge George L. L. Davis. Mr. Herbert H. Cahoon, judge of the Chesapeake Bay retrievers, pointers, Labradors, and beagles will start his work at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. In the afternoon the cockers, wire haired terriers, and Dobermanns will be in the show rings. English setters will be judged tomorrow night.

Sunday morning the smooth fox terriers, schnauzers, and Sealyham terriers will be judged. Then the show moves toward the big climax Sunday night as judges narrow down the selection of the best dogs.

WILLMAN HOLDS FIRST PLACE IN INDOOR RACING

Tony Willman still retains his point leadership in the miniature auto races at the 124th Field Artillery armory.

Figures released today by officials of the Midwest Auto association show that Willman enjoys a comfortable margin, although the points in the runner-up positions were juggled last week. Ronnie Householder and Jimmy Snyder, both pilots of Elto specials, added to their standings, while Ted Hartley, Pat Warren, and Harold Shaw also gained.

Point records have been kept all season and they will determine the midwestern champion of the indoor tracks. The indoor season will end about the first of May, according to present plans of the association. Outdoor racing then will be held at Soldiers' field.

Ping-Pong Champions to Play Exhibition

Lewis and Pearson, national doubles champions in ping-pong for the last three years, will play an exhibition at the Lincoln-Belmont Y. M. C. A., 3333 North Marshfield avenue, Sunday afternoon, at 3 o'clock.

and Hack. Cavarretta flied to Clabaugh.

O'Dea led off the Chicago fourth with a homer over the right field screen. Jurges got to second on a single and an infield error, but three putouts occurred before he could get home. Klein's third hit was a double which led off the Chicago fifth. He went to third on Hack's third successive hit and scored on Cuyler's out.

Henshaw came in to pitch the seventh and got himself into a lot of trouble until a double play pulled him out. English and Blackerby walked and Doerr forced Blackerby. Henshaw grabbed Pinch Batter Svilich's grounder and threw the ball to the screen, English scoring, Doerr reaching third and Svilich second. Bongiovanni singled to right scoring Doerr. Wilburn hit into a double play.

Cissell Drives in Davis.

In the eighth Davis reached second on Jurges' throwing error and scored on Cissell's single to left. Cissell advanced on Clabaugh's sacrifice. English grounded out to Hack, Cissell holding second. Blackerby was safe and Cissell reached third on Cavarretta's error. Then Cissell and Blackerby executed a double steal, Cissell tallying the tying run. Blackerby reached third when O'Dea threw the ball to center field, but Henshaw made a nice play to throw out Doerr.

HARLOW NAMES DATES FOR P. G. A. TOURNAMENTS

Pinehurst, N. C., March 28.—(AP)—The summer and early fall schedule of tournaments for professional golfers was announced tonight by Robert E. Harlow, manager of the P. G. A. tournament bureau. The events definitly fixed follow:

May 18-19, Philadelphia P. G. A. invitation open; May 23-25, Metropolitan open at Freshmeadow; June 6-8, U. S. G. A. open at Pittsburgh; June 14-16, Western open at South Bend, Ind.; June 27-29, Pennsylvania open at Hershey, Pa.; July 5-7, being held for New England P. G. A.; July 11-13, General Brock Hotel open at Niagara Falls, Ont.; July 19-21, St. Paul open, St. Paul, Minn. [purse $5,000]; July 26-28, Indianapolis $5,000 open; Aug. 2-4, being held for Medinah Country club, Chicago; Aug. 29-31, Canadian open, Montreal; Sept. 6-8, Glen Falls open, Glen Falls, N. Y.; Oct. 11-13, Louisville $5,000 open; Oct. 16, National P. G. A. championship, Oklahoma City.

Harlow also announced the schedule for the matches of a Japanese team arriving in this country next month, who will meet teams representing various P. G. A. units.

The Nipponese professional golfers are due to arrive in Seattle April 21. Their first match will be with a northwest P. G. A. team in Seattle April 28. The Japanese also will play in the United States open at Pittsburgh June 6-8 and Harlow said negotiations were under way for them to play matches in Chicago and other middle western cities.

ILLINOIS PREP ASSOCIATION TO LOWER HURDLES

The Illinois State High School Athletic association yesterday announced it would adopt the recommendations of the national track and field rules committee to reduce the height of high hurdles in prep meets from 42 to 39 inches and to shorten the distance of 220 low hurdle races to 200 yards.

The changes will go into effect next year, so as to give all schools and athletes opportunity to adjust equipment and training. Present rules will be in effect during the district meets, May 11, and the state championship finals at the University of Illinois, May 17 and 18.

Michigan Swim Team to Defend National Title

Cambridge, Mass., March 28.—(AP)—Michigan's title defending swimmers are expected to receive hard competition from Yale tomorrow when Jack Medica of the University of Washington and Jimmy Gilhula of Southern California renew their rivalry in the opening events of the 12th annual Natonal Collegiate A. A. meet in Harvard's pool.

Outstanding swimmers from 37 colleges will compete during the two days. More than 20 of last year's point winners, including three stars who accounted for five individual titles, have entered.

Medica has been working out in the Harvard pool twice a day since Monday and reports, unconfirmed by his coach, Ray Daughters, state that he has broken several world records in practice. Gilhula arrived here yesterday and is reported to be at the peak of his swimming. Last week, in his home pool, he made 16 new American records, wiping out most of those which Medica now holds.

The Washington star, who won the 220 yard, 440 yard, and 1,500 meter free style events last year, will defend each of those titles. Charles Flachmann, Illinois, 1934 winner in the 50 yard free style, and runner-up in the 100 yard free style, will compete in both events.

Bob Drysdale, Michigan, will defend the 150 yard back stroke title he won last year while aiding his mates pile up the team victory for the Wolverines.

Michigan has entered 13 swimmers, who, according to Matt Mann, their coach, comprise the best balanced squad he ever has directed. Michigan has two championship threats in every event. Yale has entered 17 men, and although the Elis have not been beaten in dual competition for 11 years, they do not appear to be able to quite match Michigan.

None of the other competing colleges appears to have much chance for the team title, but entries from Harvard, Dartmouth, Brown, Columbia, Rutgers, Ohio State, Northwestern, Iowa, Wisconsin, and Stanford threaten to obtain a fair share of points.

Illinois College Swimmers Elect Chicagoan Captain

Jacksonville, Ill., March 28.—(AP)—Joseph Juel, freshman from Chicago, tonight was elected captain of the 1936 Illinois college swimming team. Juel led the Blue boys to the Illinois college conference title and holds the league record for the 220 yard free style. He succeeds Dewey Morberg, another Chicagoan.

Riding Club to Face Ramblers in Semi-Finals

Defeated in the six to twelve goal class, the Chicago Riding club and 124th Field Artillery will make their second bid in different divisions tomorrow night at the artillery armory, 52d street and Cottage Grove avenue, in the semi-final round of the national indoor polo tournament, western section.

Reinforced by the addition of Lieut. Larry Smith, ace of the Fort Sheridan trio, the Riding club will start Capt. Maxwell Corpening and Jim Hannah against Herb Lorber's Chicago Ramblers.

Each Team Rates 13 Goals.

Both teams will rate 13 goals. Lorber is bringing the Ramblers up to that strength by selecting Bill Nicholls, six goal player. Lorber is handicapped at four goals and Lieut. Steve Hammond, third member of the trio, at three.

For the Riding club, Capt. Corpening and Lieut. Smith are rated at five goals, and Hannah at three.

With the exception of Maj. C. A. [Doc] Wilkinson of Fort Sheridan, all of Chicago's highest rated players will see action in tomorrow night's double header at the Washington park armory.

Lieut. Larry Ladue, a four goal player, will ride for Lincolnshire against the 124th in the class for teams carrying a strength of five goals or less. Eddie Hirsch and Al Bainsfather will play with Lieut. Ladue. Opposing them the 124th Artillery has named Lieut. Jim McAnulty, Capt. Bill Everett, and Lieut. Chris Schuh.

Winner to Meet Cleveland.

The winner of the Riding club-Ramblers match will meet the 13 goal Cleveland Riding club trio for the title. The Buckeyes were scheduled to appear tomorrow night, but the illness of Bill Fergus, No. 2 player, forced the tournament committee to award the visitors a bye.

In the 124th-Lincolnshire encounter the victor will advance to the final of the zero to five goal class. The other semi-final round will bring together the Chicago Black Horse Troop and Cleveland's low goal outfit. The winners of these games will clash for the championship in this division.

Crusaders Quintet to Play Olde Tymers Sunday

Jack Bethards will lead the Crusaders basketball team against the Olde Tymers, Central A. A. U. champions, on the benefit card at the Eighth Regiment armory Sunday night. He is a former Philadelphia Eagle star.

Tilden Talks of Tilden's Legs and Babe Ruth

New Orleans, La., March 28.—(AP)—Babe Ruth, if he had the benefit of Big Bill Tilden's legs, would be good for three or more years of active major league baseball. Big Bill says so himself.

With becoming modesty, Tilden believes he still can cover a court with sufficient agility to match the strokes of Ellsworth Vines, now the No. 1 professional in American tennis. Tilden is two years older than Ruth.

"The Babe's a grand guy and I wish him luck this year, but I'm afraid it will take more than that to keep him going," said Tilden today. "I seem to recall they counted him out at least ten years ago. However, just about that time they were ready to blow taps over the body of old man Tilden. But we're both around, doing the best we can, despite the whiskers."

SONJA HENIE AND VIVI-ANN HULTEN ARE COMPARED

Some European experts believe the 21 year old Swedish beauty's technique is more impressive than that of Sonja Henie. They predict Miss Henie has at last met a rival who will surpass her in the race for Olympic and world honors next year.

Other skaters copy Sonja's style, but Vivi won the judges' admiration with the originality of her free skating in the European championship event at St. Moritz recently.

Extraordinary elasticity when landing from high jumping maneuvers is one of the noteworthy qualities of Miss Hulten's artistry. Stereotype style of skating has no place in her repertoire. Vivi skates equally well to fast fox trots, waltzes, gypsy, and opera music.

Miss Hulten's forte is a magnificent spiral, in which she spins at terrific speed. In this number the lithesome Swedish miss, while retarding the speed of the spin, outstretches one leg and slowly bends the knee of the other, on the toe of which she is spinning. Likening herself to the hand of a clock she slowly sinks, reaching the ice as she comes to a stop.

SPENCER COALS TO DRILL.

BIG TEN MATMEN TO COMPETE IN A. A. U. TOURNEY

Hold Preliminaries at 132d Armory Tonight.

Hundreds of amateur wrestlers, including entrants from several Big Ten institutions, will compete tonight in preliminary matches of the Central Amateur Athletic union tournament to be held at the 132d Regiment armory under the auspices of the Interfraternity club. Three rings will be used.

Between twenty and thirty playground clubs have entered nearly one hundred wrestlers, while the C. Y. O., Y. M. C. A., Chicago board of education, and the Swedish-American club also will be represented by strong teams. Northwestern, Illinois, Indiana, and Chicago are among Big Ten schools entered, while the smaller colleges of this district will have star performers in the nine weight classes. Of the latter group, Cornell college, Mount Vernon, Ia., and Wheaton college are expected to make strong showings.

Two Japanese boys, members of the Chicago Judo school and coached by Prof. Kuwashimi, will compete in the 135 pound and 155 pound divisions at the armory at Madison and Rockwell streets.

Judges for both preliminaries tonight and finals tomorrow night will include Johnny Vorres; Spiros Vorres, coach of the University of Chicago wrestling team; Kaare Krogh, former Maroon star, and Orion Stuteville, Northwestern mat instructor.

U. S. HITS SWEEP, BUT CAN'T HALT WINNERS' CHEERS

Tickets Are Seized in Federal Raid.

New York, March 28.—[Special.]—While about 1,200 Americans gloried in their luck in drawing tickets in the Irish Hospital sweepstakes today, their government cracked down on sweepstakes generally.

In Jersey City alone 5,000 letters containing books of tickets for the Hotel Dieu-Sherbrooke Hospital of Montreal sweepstakes were seized and postoffice inspectors there estimated that 1,000,000 such letters would be grabbed in all parts of the country.

Stubs Taken from Mails.

Also through the activities of the postoffice department, thousands of holders of tickets for the Irish sweep and various Canadian lotteries found they never had a chance because their ticket stubs were taken from the mails.

The reason for the government's decision to take action was apparent in statistics made public in Dublin. They showed that Americans are by far the greatest supporters of the hugely profitable sweep.

Of the total of tickets pulled from the drum Americans held 39 per cent —927 of the 2,362 prizes offered. It was not merely a matter of luck, for the mixing of the tickets is so scientific as to make the percentage drawn an accurate index of the tickets purchased.

600 in New York Win.

More than 600 residents of New York's metropolitan area were among the winners—drawing tickets which ranged from consolation prizes worth about $480 to tickets on the favorite and last year's winner, Golden Miller, which may win $143,000 for them.

Sidney Freeman, representing the London bookmakers, Douglas Stuart, Inc., already has bought part or all of many tickets and expected to pick up more, to the tune of $500,000, before 9 a. m., tomorrow.

Mr. Freeman, a dapper, brown clad, middle aged man, did a brisk and strictly cash business today.

He was no longer interested in tickets on several of the less favored horses, such as Reynoldstown, Really True, Redpark, Theras, and Jim James. But he was still in the market for tickets on Golden Miller at $30,000 and $20,000 for Thomond II. One of his visitors was Hugh Lattimer, who came down from Canada with a ticket on Royal Ransom. He got $9,125 for it.

at 20 to 1. Bostwick will ride his horse.

Of the other American owned representatives in the race only Whitney's Royal Ransom is well considered. He was quoted at 25 to 1 while Jesse Metcalfe's Theras was held at 66 to 1 and M. D. Blair's Fouquet at 80 to 1.

Expect Less Crowding.

The fact that a comparatively small field—the smallest since 24 faced the barrier in 1920—will start tomorrow is considered an important item in Golden Miller's effort to score a double. There will be much less jamming than in 1929, for instance, when 66 horses started and practically had to wait their turn at the jumps.

Liverpool was in the throes of its customary grand national hysteria tonight. Every person in sight had binoculars over his shoulder and there was only one topic of conversation. The usual house parties of the duke of Westminster and other English aristocrats were going full blast around the Aintree course.

Sixty special trains and scores of airplanes are expected to swell the crowd tomorrow. One party of 40 from the United States has chartered a huge air liner to fly them from their liner arriving at Cherbourg to the race track in time for the race.

CHARTRES WINS, PAYS $62.40 AT TROPICAL PARK

Whips Guapito by Four Lengths.

Miami, Fla., March 28.—[Special.]—Chartres, outsider in a field of nine, won the main event at Tropical Park this afternoon and paid $62.40 for $2.

Chartres led most of the way for the mile and a sixteenth to finish four lengths ahead of Guapito, which came from last to second in a great rush. A length and a half farther back Bichloride was just up to be third. Speedmore, the favorite, finished last after showing a flash of early speed.

Although the weather was showery, the racing strip remained fast, and Chartres was clocked in 1:46 1-5. He shouldered 110 pounds and had practically no supporters, largely because he failed to win in nine earlier Florida starts.

Jocky Wayne Wright, leading rider of the Florida season, added another double to his long string of victories. He was first with Erin Lad in the second and Grandpa's Boy in the sixth. Erin Lad, a 13 to 20 favorite, won by three lengths.

THINKING OF SELLING YOUR FARM?

HERE'S HOW TO FIND A BUYER QUICKLY!

THE big market for farms of all kinds in the middle west is Chicago. Thousands of people living in Chicago are looking for farms. Hundreds of them are good prospects right now.

Scores of retired farmers are thinking of buying. So are many of the farmers who came to work in the city in boom times. There are many good prospects among city families who see greater security and better health in farming.

Another important group of prospects are the wealthy business and professional men who, for financial reasons, want to invest in farm lands, or who want to retire to a country estate.

HOW TO REACH PROSPECTS

The one sure way to reach practically all of your best prospects in Chicago and suburbs, and in hundreds of towns throughout Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan and Wisconsin, is through a low-cost want ad in the Farm Lands column in the Chicago Tribune.

In Chicago and suburbs alone more than 600,000 families read the Tribune. In the states adjacent to the Chicago area live scores of thousands of additional Tribune readers.

COST IS LOW

The Farm Lands column in the Tribune for years has been the leading market for farms located in practically every state of the Union. Last year 6,801 want ads offering farms appeared in the Tribune!

For a few dollars—whatever you feel you want to spend in an effort to sell your farm—you can reach thousands of prospects at low cost with a Tribune want ad.

MAIL COUPON NOW

You owe it to yourself to investigate this modern method of selling farm land. Mail the coupon below at once for complete details. No obligation to you whatever. Delay may mean lost opportunities!

Chicago Tribune Want Ad Department, Room 1015, Tribune Tower, Chicago

MILWAUKEE RY. TO REORGANIZE CAPITAL SETUP

Road Will Submit Its Plan to RFC.

A plan for reorganization of the capital structure of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railroad company will be submitted to the Reconstruction Finance corporation and to security holders between now and July 1, 1935, according to an announcement made yesterday by H. A. Scandrett, president.

The announcement did not elaborate on the form the reorganization will take, but W. W. K. Sparrow, vice president in charge of the road's finances, said no immediate reorganization is contemplated under the terms of Section 77 of the bankruptcy act, which applies to railroads.

"Of course, no one can say what the future will bring forth," Mr. Sparrow added.

May Defer $900,000 Payment.

Announcement that consideration is being given a reorganization plan followed a statement that the road will submit a plan to defer payment of $900,000 principal due April on equipment trust certificates.

Mr. Scandrett's statement follows:

"At the time the railroad company obtained a loan of $3,500,000 from the Reconstruction Finance corporation to meet its January and February requirements it was planned to take up with the interstate commerce commission and the RFC prior to July 1 the matter of an additional loan to enable it to meet its requirements subsequent to July 1.

"In view of the uncertainty of the railroad situation and of the earnings of the company, the directors have decided no further loan should be sought from the RFC except in connection with a plan for the reorganization of the capital structure of the company.

Directors Working on Plan.

"The directors are giving consideration to such a plan and expect to have it available for the consideration of the RFC and security holders prior to July 1. In the meantime, the directors have decided that the payment of $900,000 principal amount of equipment trust certificates, series C, maturing April 1, should be deferred until plans have been further developed. The railroad company will pay the interest on such certificates as well as other payments due April 1."

Along with many other roads, the Milwaukee has been having difficulty in securing revenues sufficient to meet charges on its obligations. Increases in operating costs due to wage increases, higher costs of materials, etc., have offset some improvement in revenues.

Owes $11,500,000 to RFC.

The Milwaukee owes the RFC approximately $11,500,000, of which $3,500,000 was a loan granted last December, mentioned in Mr. Scandrett's statement. It solved one financial problem last year through extension for five years of approximately $7,200,000 of 4½ per cent bonds of the Milwaukee and Northern railroad, which matured on June 1.

One of the largest railroad systems in the world, the Milwaukee operates 11,226 miles of tracks. It connects Chicago with the Pacific northwest, and another of its lines runs between Chicago and Omaha. A pioneer in electrification, the Milwaukee has 660 miles of electrified track through mountain country in Wyoming, Idaho and Washington.

The road had a loss of $16,247,621 in 1934, $14,412,141 in 1933, and $23,269,678 in 1932. The last time it had a net income was in 1929 when $7,084,014 was reported.

The Milwaukee road was taken out of receivership in 1928 when a financial readjustment was put into effect which reduced the road's funded debt only slightly. The road's funded debt is approximately $477,523,000.

North Western to Meet Payment.

The Chicago and North Western railway will pay interest and principal due April 1 amounting to $946,000, A. S. Pierce, vice president, stated yesterday.

Directors of the Denver and Rio Grande Western railroad voted yesterday to pay interest due Jan. 1 and April 1 on the first consolidated 4 per cent bonds of 1939 of the Rio Grande Western. They voted to defer payment of the April 1 interest on first consolidated 4 per cent bonds of the Rio Grande Western, the 6 per cent bonds of 1972, Denver and Rio Grande Western and the 5 per cent bonds of 1978 of the Denver and Rio Grande Western.

Reorganization of the road's capital structure was discussed by the directors, but no decision was reached.

STANDARD OIL CO. TO "RELY ON ADS IN NEWSPAPERS"

The Standard Oil company of Indiana yesterday announced a newspaper advertising campaign which will begin on April 16 in the company's central market territory, and two weeks later in the northern district, the opening being planned to coincide with the advent of spring in different sections of the country.

"We again rely on newspapers to carry our message to the public," said A. N. Steel, advertising manager, "as we have never found any other medium so satisfactory in presenting the many phases of our story directly and effectively."

Cuba Sets Up Tarif Ban on Merchandise Dumping

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HAVANA, March 28.—Cuba today officially raised a tarif barrier against dumping of merchandise. The measure is believed aimed at Japan, Mexico, Italy, and several other countries whose sales to Cuba far exceed their purchases.

Vicious Circle of Devaluating Seems Likely

BY HOWARD WOOD.

Closing of the Belgian stock exchanges yesterday, an event heralded as a definite sign that the remaining gold standard nations were tottering on the brink of devaluation, yesterday caused hardly a ripple of excitement in American financial and commodity markets.

Abandonment of gold by the little group of nations that have clung to it longest has long been regarded as inevitable by most monetary experts on this side of the Atlantic.

Belgium is now expected momentarily to join the "managed currency" group. Having already placed arbitrary restrictions on the export of gold and having dramatized the issue by closing her stock exchanges, Belgium appears to have closed the door to any possible return to her former monetary system.

How long France can outlast Belgium is a question that nobody is attempting to answer. France has enough gold to meet demands for the metal for a long time, but the psychological effect of Belgium's defection from the "gold bloc," together with the deflationary effect on her domestic business of adhering to dear money in a world where practically all other nations have debased their currencies, combine to hasten the day when France, too, may succumb to the demands of her growing army of devaluationists.

Departure from gold and cheapening of currency are not necessarily simultaneous acts. Germany and Italy are off the gold standard in the sense that they will not permit the free export of the metal, but neither has officially devalued its currency. In Great Britain and the United States abandonment of gold was followed by declines in the exchange value of their currencies.

Great Britain has never officially devalued the pound. It has merely permitted it to decline in exchange transactions, guiding its course in a general way by manipulation through its huge equalization fund. Even today there is no official value in terms of gold for the pound. It is a "rubber" currency. In the United States the dollar was permitted to decline in this manner for a time and then was kicked further downstairs by official government action in setting the price of gold, President Roosevelt finally stabilizing it—at least temporarily—at 59.06 per cent of its former value, where it has remained for many months.

As far as the United States is concerned, what happens in the remaining "gold bloc" nations after their departure from gold is more important than the event of their leaving the gold standard. If France debases her currency to compete with other nations with depreciated currencies she will, theoretically, be able to sell more goods abroad, make tourist travel in France cheaper, and hence more attractive to foreigners, and make it more difficult for foreign nations to sell their goods in France.

Neither France nor Belgium, however, are important competitors of the United States in world markets. Therefore, the deflationary effect upon American business of increased French and Belgian sales abroad would probably be comparatively slight.

What happens to the French franc, however, will probably have a decided effect upon the course of the British pound, and inasmuch as a large part of the world's business is done in terms of either the British pound or currencies tied in with the pound, any change in the value of the British monetary unit would immediately have a profound reaction on American producers and hence on American financial and commodity markets.

Increased British competition resulting from further cheapening of the pound would have a deflationary effect here, but if that effect should prove to be too deflationary, it might easily lead to further official debasement of the dollar by the United States government—a step which would be inflationary.

These are some of the uncertainties generated by the international currency war which now seems to be entering another stage. These uncertainties, together with the artificial restrictions on international trade resorted to by the competing nations in their attempts to protect themselves, are destructive to business. How long business can stand this turmoil before there is a sufficient demand from business men in all nations for a return to sanity and stability of some kind cannot at present be ascertained.

Hopes have been expressed in some quarters that once the remaining gold bloc nations get off gold the way will be paved for an international agreement whereby all nations may get back on the gold standard at a new level. Just how self-seeking delegates of even a score of nations could ever agree on international currency ratios over the conference table has not been explained. The prospects seem to be for a long period of international monetary uncertainties and successive competitive acts of devaluation tending toward a vicious circle.

E. E. BARTHELL JR. OF CHICAGO SEC SENT TO CAPITAL

Transfer of Edward E. Barthell Jr., recently appointed head of the Chicago office of the Securities and Exchange commission, to the general counsel's office in Washington was announced yesterday in the capital.

S. Ward Perrott has been sent from the central office to take temporary charge of the local branch. No permanent appointment has been made.

Barthell was appointed a month ago, but the local office has been open only two weeks, and has just begun functioning.

Shipments Arranged by N. Y. Banks.

New York, March 28.—[Special.]—A new movement of gold from Europe began again today. It was reported that a shipment from Amsterdam of 10,000,000 guilders [$6,755,000] had been made on the steamship Statendam, and that further shipments were expected.

Inquiry at a number of the large banks also revealed the fact that arrangements are being made to ship gold from Paris, although no announcements have yet been made. One large bank said shipments probably would begin next week, although another declared that an announcement might be made "at any time."

It was reported also from Paris that a heavy shipment of gold had been made to France from London for account of the British equalization fund. Additional pressure on the franc today was held due to a continued flight of capital from Belgium.

Belga Weak in New York.

Trading in Belgian currency came to a near standstill in the foreign exchange market here today following suspension of exchange trading in Brussels and the closing of the bourse there. The belga was quoted on opening transactions at 21 cents, a full cent below yesterday's final price. At the close of the market the belga was quoted at 21.05, against yesterday's price of 22 cents.

Other gold currencies were steady in terms of American funds. The French franc closed unchanged at 6.59 cents. The Swiss franc was firm and closed at 32.34 cents, the same level as last night. Dutch guilders were up two points at 67.56 cents. The market action indicated all the gold countries were actively supporting their currencies.

British Pound Higher.

The British pound moved up slightly against the dollar and at the close was quoted at $4.80½, up nearly a cent from the previous quotation of $4.79⅝. Other currencies attached to sterling also gained ground against the dollar with the Swedish kroner gaining 8 points to close at 24.78 cents.

At the closing price of 6.59 cents for the French franc the dollar was worth $1.0066 on its new gold basis and 59.45 cents in terms of its old parity.

The London gold price was reduced to 144 shillings 10½ pence per ounce, the lowest it has been this month. At an opening sterling rate of $4.80¾ to the pound, the dollar price was $34.82½.

INDUSTRY URGED TO ORGANIZE AND FIGHT NEW DEAL

Representative Charles A. Eaton of New Jersey, speaking before the annual convention of the National Metal Trades association at the Palmer house last night, declared it is the duty of American industry to organize and fight until the American people snap out of their un-American attitude of dependence upon and surrender to a dictatorial and burocratic government.

"Under the official and unofficial so-called New Deal we are being turned away every hour from a decisive and final choice of private industry as the truly American instrument for solving the problems of unemployment and poverty, and have attempted by a mass of hasty and unworkable, and often unconstitutional, legislation to place this burden upon government," he said. "This is a decision which spells inevitable disaster."

John C. Gall, associate counsel of the National Association of Manufacturers, attacked three pieces of legislation before congress—extension of NRA, the Wagner labor disputes bill, and the social security program.

The Wagner bill was characterized as a measure that will "foment strikes and discord under the guise of protecting rights of employés."

RECOVERY, NOT REFORM, WANTED SAYS HARRIMAN

Springfield, Ill., March 28.—(AP)—The country at large is more interested in action tending to accelerate business than in experiments looking to social and economic reforms, Henry I. Harriman, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, said tonight in an address before the Midday Luncheon club.

He said the stability and progress of industry depend chiefly upon the immediate coöperation between the government and leaders of business, agriculture and labor, and involve agreement upon measures of legislative action and administration.

Harriman said he feared the government was in business to stay and would increase its regulations. He upheld the NRA, but said too much had been attempted under the act and too quickly.

FORD MOTOR PUTS APRIL SCHEDULE AT 165,000 UNITS

Dearborn, Mich., March 28.—[Special.]—The Ford Motor company has scheduled production in April of 165,000 Ford V-8 cars and trucks, it was announced today at the company's home offices here. The total compares with 89,249 in April, 1934.

Ford cars and trucks are now being produced at the Rouge plant in Dearborn and at 15 other assembly branches throughout the United States including Buffalo, Chester, Pa.; Chicago, Cincinnati, Dallas, Edgewater, N. J.; Kansas City, Long Beach, Cal.; Louisville, Memphis, Norfolk, Va.; Richmond, Cal.; St. Louis, Somerville, Mass., and St. Paul.

Dawes' Loan Delayed Bank Holiday: Jones

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 28.—The 90 million dollars which the Reconstruction Finance corporation loaned the old Dawes bank in Chicago in 1932 staved off the national banking holiday for nine months, Jesse H. Jones, RFC chairman, said today in defense of the loan.

Jones made his statement when the counter suit which three stockholders in the old Central Republic Bank and Trust company filed in Chicago yesterday was called to his attention. The suit charges officials of the bank and of the RFC with improperly transferring assets of the old bank to the new City National bank. The RFC is suing stockholders for $7,000,000 on double liability.

"I assume some of the stockholders are fighting attempts to collect their double liability assessments," was the only comment Jones made directly on the suit, but he launched into a long defense of the loan.

Afforded Chance to Prepare.

"If the loan had not been made, we would have had the banking holiday in June, 1932, instead of March, 1933, and the country was then not ready for it," Jones declared, adding that the intervening nine months had given the country a chance to "prepare" for the banking holiday.

The RFC may have to take a loss as a result of its action, Jones admitted, saying he "would not be surprised if there was some loss" on the 90 million dollar loan of which only about 24½ million dollars in principal has been repaid to date.

Jones' statement in defense of the loan recalled the charges that the RFC could have again staved off the banking collapse in March, 1933, by making a similar loan to the crucial Detroit banks had not Senator James Couzens [Rep., Mich.] blocked it by threatening to advertise it from the housetops.

Says Utility Can Redeem Stock.

Turning to the Public Utilities Securities corporation, a superholding company which the RFC now controls because its entire common stock was part of the collateral which the Dawes bank put up for the 90 million dollar loan, Jones said the RFC was in no hurry to complete foreclosure on this collateral.

An opportunity will be given Harley L. Clarke, utility magnate, who built up the company, to redeem the stock. The Dawes bank loaned the Webster corporation, one of Clarke's financing outfits, 2 million dollars on the stock, and he can redeem it if he pays off the loan, Jones said.

The RFC would come into direct control of 1,000 related companies if it foreclosed on the holding company, Jones said. By instructing the receiver of the old Dawes bank how to vote the corporation's stock, the RFC has already ousted the old board of directors and assumed virtual control of the company.

SEC. ICKES COOL ON PLAN TO LIFT GASOLINE PRICES

Washington, D. C., March 28.—(AP)—Secretary Ickes today expressed doubt that the proposal to raise gasoline prices by purchase of surplus stocks would succeed. An alternate proposal, that if gasoline prices were not increased within 30 days the price of crude oil should be reduced 20 cents a barrel, was attacked by Wirt Franklin, president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America.

Ickes said purchases of surplus gasoline had been tried in the east Texas field before the federal tender board was set up, and that "it didn't work very well." The proposals for withdrawal of surplus stocks had come from several quarters within the industry, and from a committee which made a special study of the oil code.

Franklin urged "the oil men of the country to get together on a constructive program unless they wish to invite possibly ruinous conditions in the immediate future."

COPPER CONFERENCE AGREES ON CONTROL OF FOREIGN OUTPUT

Main points of the agreement follow:

"A curtailment amounting to 240,000 tons of copper per year from current production will be made effective by June 1.

"An organization has been created to compile complete statistical information to the end that while an adequate supply of copper will be provided at all times, the accumulation of excess stocks will be avoided.

"Coöperation in foreign markets of producers other than those who have actively participated in the conference has been assured.

"Uniform trade practices governing sales, deliveries, and terms of payment will be adopted.

"Each producer reserves freedom of action within the above limitations. There will be no pooling of sales or fixing of prices, but an effort will be made to insure stable markets and avoid wide fluctuations in price.

"Subject to certain contingencies the term of the accord is for a period terminating on July 1, 1938."

TREASURY CUTS WEEKLY BILL SALES IN HALF

Washington, D. C., March 28.—[Special.]—With a working balance of $1,465,063,128 in the general fund, revenue collections exceeding estimates, and expenditures temporarily below the level expected, the treasury decided today to restrict its weekly sale of treasury bills to $50,000,000 for the present, or about $25,000,000 less than maturities which they are intended to meet.

This will mean paying off about $25,000,000 of maturing bills in cash from the general fund each week, while the new program is followed. For some time the treasury has been marketing $100,000,000 of the bills weekly to meet maturities of $75,000,000, the additional $25,000,000 having gone to swell the general fund balance out of which current expenditures are paid.

The treasury announced that preliminary figures indicated that about $1,500,000,000 of the $1,850,000,000 block of fourth Liberty bonds called for redemption on April 15, had been converted into new 2⅞ per cent bonds when the books on the exchange subscriptions were closed at midnight Wednesday.

BANKERS WANT POSTAL SAVINGS DISCONTINUED

French Lick, Ind., March 28.—(AP)—Discontinuance of the postal savings system by the federal government was recommended here today by Otto Kotouc, president of the Nebraska Bankers' association, in an address before bankers of the middle west.

The postal savings system has served its purpose, Kotouc said. With the coming of federal deposit insurance there should be no further intrusion along this competitive line by the government, he added.

James E. Davidson, president of the Michigan Bankers' association, also spoke against the continuance of the postal savings system.

China Takes Control of 2 Biggest Banks

BY JOHN POWELL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, March 28.—The Chinese national government became master of its own financial household today when the government assumed control of the country's two largest private banks, namely, the Bank of China and the Bank of Communications, which were placed under a joint management by the central bank.

T. V. Soong, former finance minister, who has been in partial political retirement for two years, emerged as manager of the Bank of China with a directorate of his own choosing, while Chang Kiang-su, former manager and one of the country's leading financiers, retired to become vice governor of the central bank.

See Control of All Banks.

While it was not announced today, previous legislation gives the official central bank the sole right of note issue, hence the development not only gives the government ownership and control of the three largest banks, but it is locally believed will ultimately lead to state control of practically all of the country's leading private banks.

The development is the direct outcome of the present currency and financing crisis which made the consolidation necessary in order to weather the storm. Dr. H. H. Kung, finance minister, as head of the central bank, becomes governor of the Bank of China also and probably will assume a similar position with the Communications bank.

Work on International Loan.

Dr. Kung denied that the government had approached the British for a 10,000,000 sterling [about $50,000,000] loan, but said negotiations for an international loan were proceeding satisfactorily. He also announced that United States Minister Nelson T. Johnson shortly will visit Nanking from Peiping, presumably for a financial discussion.

The central bank is rapidly opening branches in interior provinces, sending out bullion and banknotes by airplane.

Judge Orders More Speed in Utility Hearing

Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson yesterday served notice on attorneys arguing on a proposed plan for reorganization of Middle West Utilities company that he will permit no more repetitions and lengthy speeches in the protracted hearing. The court hopes to dispose of the case by May 1.

Plainly near the end of his judicial patience at the haggling and lack of progress, Judge Wilkerson set April 11 as a date for a hearing to dispose of the question of validity of claims of the banking creditors.

"No excuses go," the judge asserted. "There is ample time to get ready to argue the motions or get somebody to do so."

Another Hearing April 22.

April 22 has been fixed as the date for final hearings on the fairness of the reorganization plan submitted by creditors. At that time the court will have the report of Walter Shaw, former member of the Illinois public service commission [now Illinois commerce commission] whom he appointed a special advisor.

Neither Samuel Ettelson nor Thomas V. Sullivan, attorneys who have filed objections to the bank claims, attended yesterday's hearing, so it devolved into arguments on objections by Attorney Irving H. Flamm, representing $47,000 in notes—$40,000 of which are still on deposit with the Dewey noteholders' committee, which has indorsed the reorganization plan.

Flays Objecting Attorney.

Robert N. Golding, attorney for the committee, referred to Flamm's efforts as "amateurish" and "ignorant."

"If anybody thinks he can win a better deal from the banks," he declared, referring to the settlement under attack, by which the banks returned approximately one-third of their collateral to the company, "let him go ahead.

"I know I'm laying myself open to charges of corruption and selling out the noteholders to the banks. But the present amateurish efforts do not affect me much.

"He asks that your honor set aside this settlement, admitted to be beneficial by the United States District court and upheld by the Court of Appeals. He would have all collateral returned to the banks and start all over, taking a chance on getting a better deal."

Golding argued that the advantage would be all with the banks, more now than when the settlement was made.

BANK CLEARINGS RUN 13.3 PER CENT ABOVE YEAR AGO

New York, March 28.—[Special.]—An increase of 13.3 per cent over last year lifted bank clearings for the week ended March 27 to $5,006,828,000, the fifth consecutive advance, Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., reported today.

The total, compiled from reports from 22 leading cities in the United States, compared with $4,409,243,000 a year ago. In the preceding week this year a gain of 14 per cent lifted the total to a new 1935 high.

Clearances in New York City rose 14.8 per cent over last year at $3,386,850,000, while the aggregate at centers outside of New York, $1,619,978,000, was 11 per cent higher than in 1934.

The total last week was $978,664,000 under the previous period, whereas a year ago for the same two weeks there was a reduction of $842,198,000, the report disclosed.

BANK RECEIVER FIGHTS OUSTER BY STATE CHIEF

Thomson Criticizes Central Control.

John M. Thomson last night began a fight to prevent losing his receivership of the Kenwood State bank. Thomson was notified yesterday of his replacement by William L. O'Connell, receiver for all except three of Cook county's 140 closed banks, and that O'Connell will seek a court order affirming his appointment today before Circuit Judge John Prystalski.

The Kenwood bank's assets would "wither and die" if "pigeonholed in the O'Connell central office under State Auditor Barrett's receivership consolidation plan," Thompson charged. He challenged the auditor's office to show where depositors would gain by any net economy through the change.

Planned Another Payment.

Thomson said that he asked three weeks ago for permission to pay another 10 per cent dividend [30 per cent has been paid], but that the auditor has ignored his request, "presumbly so that the O'Connell régime may reap the credit."

The receiver also intimated bad faith in the suddenness of ouster proceedings, that he had an understanding that there would be a chance to discuss the matter first, and will ask a continuance this morning to marshal depositors to his assistance:

Depositors representing $148,000 of the $264,000 deposit liability at the time of closing have signed a petition asking that he be retained, Thomson said.

"If they leave me alone I can pay out almost in full," he asserted. In addition to funds now available to bring repayments to 40 per cent, unsold bonds have a market value of $52,000—enough for another 20 per cent, he said.

Source of Returns.

Enough for another 15 per cent is anticipated by Thomson from the stockholders' liability suit. Thus, he figures, repayments should reach at least 75 cents on the dollar within a year or less.

"The only leg they have to stand on is economy," said Thomson. "But I hold that it is impossible to liquidate a small bank like this in the proper way from a central office. You can't collect unless you go out after it—and that is exactly what won't be done if it is stuck in a pigeonhole downtown."

Thomson also intimated that transferring the receivership may work to the disadvantage of depositors through more lenient settlement of debts to the bank. He said that numerous obstacles had been placed in the way of his making certain collections, and also declared it unfair to have the bank liquidated by the central receiver, because the latter employs in his office the former assistant cashier of the bank against whom he reports a judgment for $5,000.

The Lansing State bank today will pay 5 per cent, or $16,355, to depositors, and the Hegewisch State bank depositors will receive 7½ per cent.

STOCK ADVANCE FAILS; RAILROAD NEWS BEARISH

Net Gains and Declines Evenly Divided.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 28.—What seemed to be developing into a recovery movement on the stock exchange cracked up this afternoon on news of the Milwaukee railroad's reorganization decision.

Prices broke major fractions to a point or more from their highs, wiping out substantial plus signs in many cases to replace them with net losses on the day.

Volume was a little larger on both the up and down swings, the total running to 613,040 shares.

Milwaukee Action Factor.

The Milwaukee railroad's action was by no means a surprise to the trading fraternity, but it served to emphasize anew the plight of the roads, the dubious conditions facing them from a trafic standpoint and the willingness of the government to see reorganizations take place.

Other news was mixed and had little apparent effect on speculative sentiment. No visible heed was paid to the further break in Belgian currency, Belgium not being an important trade rival of this country on balance.

Early trading was marked by a drop of 7 points in United States Smelting, making a two day fall of 15 points for that issue since the announcement of the reduction of its dividend. This brought down the other silver and metal shares generally, but had no appreciable effect on the rest of the market.

Speculative sentiment was improved gradually by the better behavior of the utilities, Consolidated Gas and many of the lower price shares of the division strengthening their positions materially.

Rail News Checks Gains.

The improvement continued in a more or less desultory fashion until well along in the afternoon, when word went round of the move to reorganize the Milwaukee railroad.

Selling in the carrier shares became pronounced on the news and continued to gain momentum until well along toward the close of trading. The final gong found Atchison, Union Pacific, Kansas City Southern, Central of New Jersey, Southern railway, and other shares down 1 to 2 points with fractional losses in most of the others.

Farm implement and building stocks drifted lower. The oils were buoyed in the early dealings by a show of strength in Standard of New Jersey, but the close found them in the ruck.

Liquor shares perked up a bit after the National Distillers board authorized payment of a 50 cent dividend, but lost strength in the last hour of trading.

EXCHANGE FIGHT BITTER, STRAW VOTES OPPOSED

New York, March 28.—[Special.]—Because of the bitter fight being waged over the presidency of the New York Stock exchange, now held by Richard Whitney, the exchange nominating committee today took the unprecedented step of requesting members "not to vote any straw ballots at this time." The announcement was printed on all financial news and quotation tickers.

The committee's action was aimed at a poll of members on the choice of a president of the exchange undertaken early this week by an afternoon newspaper. It struck also at the action of a group of Whitney's supporters who had circulated on the floor of the exchange cards pledging members to vote for the renomination of the incumbent.

Governors of the exchange, at a special meeting tomorrow, will vote upon amendments to its constitution establishing a system of absentee balloting designed to broaden members' voting rights and to discourage control of the exchange by active minorities.

Crude Petroleum Stocks Show Increase Last Week

Washington, D. C., March 28.—(AP)—Stocks of domestic and foreign crude petroleum on March 23 were reported today by the bureau of mines at 322,556,000 barrels, a net increase of 380,000 over the preceding week. Stocks of domestic crude decreased 5,000 barrels and foreign crude increased 385,000. Daily average production decreased slightly, from 2,655,000 barrels to 2,640,000. Imports increased over the preceding week from 64,000 barrels to 93,000 barrels. Daily average crude runs to still declined from 2,540,000 to 2,520,000 barrels.

RESERVE BANKS NOW FREE FROM "ASSET MONEY"

Put Funds in Treasury to Redeem Currency.

Provision for retirement of the last federal reserve bank notes, known as "asset money," was made during the last week by the central banks of the federal reserve system. The weekly reserve statement, issued last night, disclosed that the banks have discontinued listing the notes as liabilities.

Created during the banking moratorium of 1933 by special congressional action, the notes were designed to supply the country's currency needs if a scarcity should develop. The currency was never widely used as had been expected, although circulation reached a total of 189 million dollars in October, 1933. For several months the circulation has been declining steadily.

Boston Bank Retires Least.

A week ago only $100,000 was listed as liabilities of the reserve banks. The Boston reserve bank was the last to make provision for retirement of the notes.

The method of retirement is for the federal reserve banks to deposit with the treasury "lawful money" in amounts sufficient to cancel their asset notes. As the notes are turned in at the banks they are turned over to the treasury for redemption. Actual retirement of the notes from circulation will not be completed for an indefinite period.

The report of the reserve member banks in Chicago showed that the annual flight of cash balances from Illinois to escape the April 1 tax assessment had started. Out-of-state corporations with cash balances in Chicago banks customarily withdraw such funds to avoid possible tax levies and replace them after April 1.

Chicago Demand Deposits Fall.

Demand deposits of Chicago fell 69 millions last week. At the same time demand deposits of the New York banks rose 42 millions.

Some firms and individuals are temporarily investing funds in tax exempt short term government securities to escape assessment, the report indicates. The Chicago banks sold 67 millions of government paper during the last week. Part of this is believed to represent short term securities sold to customers who are fearful of the assessor.

The sale of government securities was responsible for a decline of 49 millions in total bank credit outstanding in Chicago last week. Other investments increased moderately as did commercial loans which were 4 millions above the preceding week.

Income Tax Payments Reflected.

The combined reserve statement disclosed another decline in member bank reserve balances of 76 millions and a corresponding increase in treasury deposits and cash with the central banks. The shift is largely the outgrowth of transfer of funds growing out of income tax payments.

Monetary gold stocks of the country increased 9 millions last week, bringing the current total to 8 billion 563 million dollars.

WILDCAT GUSHER SOAKS MICHIGAN AREA WITH OIL

Ithaca, Mich., March 28.—(AP)—Oil well drillers struck a wildcat gusher on a Montcalm county farm this afternoon, and tonight as hundreds bid frantically for land leases and state troopers hurriedly threw up fire lines, the new well went on a rampage, spouting hundreds of barrels of oil over the landscape.

The gusher broke this afternoon before the operators were equipped to cap it for a pipe line connection, and tonight they said they would be forced to wait until morning before trying to check the flow.

Oil was smeared over the countryside tonight for a distance of a mile. A brisk east wind scattered it over neighboring farm lands. A schoolhouse three quarters of a mile away was soaked.

As the fire hazard increased the state police ordered all fires extinguished within a radius of three miles. The operators, who made the strike for J. W. Leonard, a Pennsylvania driller, estimated that it was the state's biggest gusher since the Porter oil fields came in three years ago. Employés and oil company executives estimated the well was shooting 300 barrels an hour at $1.02 a barrel.

SUGAR

NEW YORK, March 28.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw was unchanged today at 3.05c per lb for spots and 3.10c for later deliveries. It appeared that there was nothing available in any position below the 3.10c level. Refiners showed little interest in nearby supplies, although they were interested in later deliveries. These sales were confirmed: 49,000 bags of Cubas for April; May shipment at the 3.10c to refiners; 25,000 bags of Cubas to an operator for late May shipment at 3.12c.

Futures advanced 3 to 4 points to new high levels for the season, but on the rise offerings increased and there were partial setbacks. The market closed 1 to 2 points net higher on active positions in the No. 3 contract, and 2 to 3 points higher in the No. 1. Sales were 5,850 tons in the No. 1, and 10,800 in the No. 3.

In refined prices were unchanged at 4.70c for fine granulated.

COFFEE

NEW YORK, March 28.—(AP)—Coffee was steadier on trade and European buying promoted by private reports of a temporary reduction in the daily port receipts permitted to enter Santos. Santos opened 2 to 4 points higher and closed 8 to 9 points higher. Sales 11,000 bags. No. 7 opened nominal and closed 1 to 5 points higher. Sales, 11,000 bags.

MINNEAPOLIS FLOUR.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., March 28.—(AP)—FLOUR—Prices were unchanged today. Shipments were 20,256 brls. Pure bran was quoted at $25.00@25.50 and standard middlings at $25.00@25.50 per ton.

DENIES HIDDEN LOAN IN DETROIT BANKERS' TRIAL

Official Refutes Charge of Speculation.

Detroit, Mich., March 28.—[Special.]—Guy K. Bard, special assistant attorney general, strove unsuccessfully today to make Thomas A. Kennedy, secretary of the officers' loan committee of the First National Bank-Detroit, admit a $212,000 stock loan was made irregularly by the three bank officials on trial in Federal Judge Ernest A. O'Brien's court.

Kennedy insisted a record of the loan was available to all members of the bank's loan committee, and therefore they should have been aware of it. The government contends, however, that the loan was illegally made for "speculation" with bank funds and that it was concealed in the government reports.

While key witnesses were not called, minor witnesses were heard today in the trial of the highest executive officers of the defunct First National bank—John Ballantyne, John H. Hart, and Herbert L. Chittenden.

The key witnesses included Mark A. Wilson, who had been mentioned several times as having criticized the $212,000 loan, which is the basis of criminal indictments; R. L. Hopkins, representative of the controler of the currency, who also criticized the loan, according to witnesses, and James Thayer McMillan, president of the Detroit and Cleveland Navigation company and a former First National director.

In the records of the officers' loan committee the only reference to the loan was a one line entry, according to Thomas A. Kenny, secretary of the committee. The entry bore the date of March 6, 1931, the day after the money was loaned to Clarence D. Blessed and Herman A. Leitner, junior officers of the bank, and for investment in Detroit Bankers stock.

Detroit Bankers was the holding company that controled the First National. The line read: "Blessed-Leitner trustee loan $212,000, J. H. H.," with the notation that Detroit Bankers stock was collateral. The initials, Kenny told the court, were Hart's.

Kenny testified that officers who attended the officers' loan committee meeting March 6 should have been aware of the $212,000 item. Some of the officers listed as being in attendance that day were among those who testified in court Wednesday that they knew nothing of the loan until months afterward.

It was established that the records of the executive committee for 1931 did not contain any reference to the loan.

Franco-American Double Taxation Treaty Ratified

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, March 28.—The senate tonight ratified the Franco-American double taxation treaty which was signed by former Premier Andre Tardieu and former Ambassador Walter E. Edge in 1932. The treaty prevents double taxation falling on American firms operating in France, exempting them from payment of certain French taxes against income or profits upon which they must pay to the United States government.

U. S. AND HAITI SIGN TREATY TO REDUCE TARIFS

Washington, D. C., March 28.—(AP)—The United States today signed a reciprocal trade treaty with Haiti—the fourth such pact since passage of the tariff bargaining act by congress nearly a year ago. Other treaties have been signed with Cuba, Belgium and Brazil, but only the Cuban agreement has gone into effect.

The new accord by which Haiti reduced tarif rates on 13 American industrial and agricultural products, must be ratified by the Haitian congress. Haiti also agreed not to raise existing rates on 19 articles and promised to reduce the tarif on lard, radios, and automobile tires at a later date.

In return the United States assured Haiti of continued free admission of coffee, cocoa, beans, bananas, sisal, logwood, and ginger root, and reduced duties on rum and some tropical fruits, including fresh pineapples.

By cutting the duty on rum from $5 to $2.50 a gallon, the treaty permits Cuba to ship rum to the United States under a $2 per gallon tarif, as Cuba enjoys a 20 per cent preferential entry.

Contingent Liabilities—The companies report various contingent liabilities in respect of pending lawsuits, claims, guarantees, Federal taxes, etc. The corporation's general counsel advises that, in his opinion, the maximum real liability which may result therefrom will not exceed $2,500,000.00.

NOTES: (1) The net current assets of subsidiary companies operating in foreign countries have been converted to United States dollars at the rates of exchange at December 31, 1934.

(2) Employes' stock purchase accounts consist principally of unpaid balances on allotments amounting to $4,085,299.00 covering 104,274 shares of stock of The Texas Corporation, which are held by a trustee. The allotments are subject to cancellation at option of employes and payments thereon to date of cancellation are refundable with interest.

(3) Properties, plant and equipment are stated at recorded costs except properties of certain subsidiaries, which as of dates of acquisition were reduced to values determined by company and/or government engineers.

(4) Under the terms of the Death and Disability Plan for Employes, the right is reserved to withdraw or modify such plan at any time and no provision has been made by the companies for future liability under the plan. Full provision has been made for awards made to December 31, 1934.

(5) The Texas Corporation, incorporated Delaware, August 26, 1926, acquired through share for share exchange stock of The Texas Company (Texas). Earned surplus includes a credit of $124,692,837.80, representing the consolidated earned surplus of the latter company and subsidiaries at date of acquisition.

Auditors' Report

TO THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS, THE TEXAS CORPORATION: We have made an examination of the consolidated balance sheet of The Texas Corporation (a Delaware corporation) and subsidiary companies as at December 31, 1934, and of the statements of consolidated income and surplus for the year ended that date. In connection therewith, we examined or tested accounting records and other supporting evidence of the company, its domestic subsidiaries and certain of its foreign subsidiaries and obtained information and explanations from officers and employes of the companies; we also made a general review of the accounting methods and of the operating and income accounts for the year, but we did not make a detailed audit of the transactions. With respect to the foreign subsidiary companies whose accounts were not examined by us, we were furnished with reports of other independent auditors.

In accordance with the action of the Board of Directors, the following changes in accounting procedures were effected for the year 1934:

1. All intercompany and interdepartmental profits were eliminated from the book value of inventories, including profits taken on transportation and certain minor auxiliary operations which were not eliminated in the preceding year. The elimination of such items resulted in a reduction in the book value of inventories at December 31, 1933 of $3,947,036.25 by a charge to earned surplus of that amount, and a credit to profit and loss for the year 1934 of $487,688.59.

2. In 1934 the company included in profit and loss the unrealized profits and losses resulting from the conversion of the net current assets of foreign subsidiaries into United States dollars. In the preceding year the unrealized conversion profit of $5,716,513.83 was credited to earned surplus. The net unrealized conversion loss for 1934 amounted to $406,887.32.

3. The net loss on property retirements (excess of depreciated value over salvage or realizable value, including dismantling and removal costs) amounting to $1,870,336.84 for the year 1934 was charged to the reserve for depreciation. In the preceding year the retirement loss of $1,918,969.09 was charged to profit and loss.

4. As of January 1, 1934, the company adopted the policy of capitalizing labor and service costs of drilling producing wells and amortizing such costs on the basis of 8% per annum (the rate used in depreciating well casing). The amortization charge for 1934 amounted to $116,827.48 and represents the amortization of drilling costs capitalized only for the year 1934, these costs having been charged to expense in prior years as incurred.

If drilling costs had been charged to expense in 1934 as in prior years, the net profits would have been reduced $2,578,094.40.

Subject to the foregoing comments, in our opinion, based upon the examination referred to above, and the acceptance of the reports of other independent auditors for the subsidiaries examined by them, the accompanying consolidated balance sheet and related statements of consolidated income and surplus fairly present, in accordance with accepted principles of accounting, the financial position of the companies at December 31, 1934 and the results of their operations for the year ended that date. Further, in our opinion, such accounting principles have been maintained consistently during the year under review, and, subject to the foregoing comments, consistently with the preceding year.

GRAINS EASIER; NEW MONETARY CRISES FEARED

Break in Cotton Prices Is Additional Factor.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Wheat and other grains incurred moderate reactions yesterday in Chicago and other principal world markets. Suspension of business by the stock exchange in Belgium gave rise to the belief that new developments are imminent in the international monetary situation and caused unsettlement in most of the speculative markets. An early break in cotton of $1 a bale was followed by moderate liquidation in grains here, which sent prices down slightly.

The range of wheat prices was within a cent a bushel. At the end of the day the May delivery was selling at 93¾ cents a bushel, or a half cent below Wednesday's quotation. Conspicuous weakness developed in rye prices with losses in futures amounting to 1½ cents a bushel.

Rye Imports Depress Prices.

Importations of foreign rye have been depressing prices for some time, although no new importations were reported yesterday. The decline was attributed to speculative selling by operators who were hedging their sales by purchases of other grains.

The hesitation in the Liverpool wheat market, which has been advancing steadily for several days, encouraged liquidation here. The recession in Liverpool prices was under a cent a bushel.

News from the winter and spring wheat belts yesterday indicated that the dust storms which had provided the background for Wednesday's sharp market advance had generally subsided. Storms were reported at various points but they lacked the fury of the preceding day. Needed rain was not received, however, and the weather forecast held no promise of early relief.

Volume of Trade Restricted.

Trading in all grains was restricted in volume. Speculators show an unwillingness to stay with the market. At the first sign of impending political or monetary disturbances there is a rush to cover commitments on both sides of the market. A further decline in the open interest in wheat was reported yesterday, indicating that much of the demand Wednesday was short covering rather than new buying.

Final prices on the May futures with comparative quotations were as follows:

	Yesterday.	Weds.	Wk. ago.
Wheat	$ .94¾	$ .95¼	$ .94⅛
Corn	$ .78⅞	.79¼	.78⅛
Oats	.44⅜	.44⅝	.44
Rye	.54⅜	.56	.55⅛

ROOSEVELT'S FORMER AID RAPS BANK BILL

New York, March 28.—[Special.]—Prof. Oliver M. W. Sprague of Harvard declared tonight that the passage of the omnibus banking bill, now before the house banking and currency committee, would result in the "complete subservience" of the federal reserve board to "the political control of the White House."

Prof. Sprague, who resigned in November, 1933, as economic adviser to the treasury in protest against President Roosevelt's monetary policies, spoke at a banquet of the New York Credit Men's association.

PRICES OF LARD FUTURES DECLINE 10 TO 15 CENTS

Provision futures fluctuated in a rather erratic manner yesterday in keeping with the character of the news. Weakness in grains, hogs, and cotton led to selling of lard futures, with the finish at net losses of 10 to 15 cents, although the finish was at a fair rally from the inside figures. Bellies gained 7½ cents on buying credited to strong interests. Cash, loose and leaf lard were quoted at $13 at the close, with bellies at $16.45 per 100 pounds. Prices follow:

MARCH AND APRIL BUTTER SELL AT HIGH FOR YEAR

Consumers will be forced to pay higher prices for butter and eggs as the result of continued small production, traders claim. Reacting to much below normal receipts of both commodities, prices for futures on the Chicago mercantile exchange soared yesterday with March butter advancing 1 cent per pound to 33⅝ cents, closing at the top and deferred deliveries were up ¼ cent to ⅜ cent. Both March and April sold at a new high for the year.

October egg futures finished ½ cent per dozen higher at 24⅝ cents, equaling the best level of the year, while other futures were up ⅛ cent to ⅜ cent.

Collections of eggs in the midwest last week, as shown by reports to the mercantile exchange were 28 per cent less than last year. Pacific coast production was off 16.7 per cent. While New York reported a liberal movement of butter into cold storage, largely representing imports, the American association showed production last week was 12 per cent less than a year ago. Sales of egg futures were 168 cars and of butter 71 cars. Prices follow:

SHARP RECESSION IN COTTON ON EUROPEAN SELLING WAVE

An avalanche of English and European selling developed in American cotton markets at the opening today and the first sales showed a drop of over $1 per bale from Wednesday's finish. Uneasiness created by the unfavorable Anglo-German conversations, closing of the Belgian exchanges and the monetary situation were given as the cause of the selling wave. The break brought in short covering and commission house buying and a moderate rally followed, but the close was at net losses of 10 to 20 points in Chicago, the latter equal to $1 per bale. Other markets were off 11 to 21 points.

Announcement by Secretary Wallace that processing tax of 4.2 cents per pound had a better prospect of being raised rather than lowered tended to create bearish sentiment. Spot cotton closed 10 points lower with New Orleans, New York, and Galveston at 11.25 cents and Houston at 11.30 cents per pound. Prices follow:

TEXAS OIL CORP. REPORTS BIG GAIN IN NET EARNINGS

Unjust Taxes Assailed in Annual Report.

High taxes on petroleum products were assailed in the annual report of the Texas corporation and subsidiaries issued yesterday by C. B. Ames, chairman, and W. S. S. Rodgers, president. The company showed an outstanding improvement in earnings, reporting net profits of $5,545,205 after all charges, compared with a deficit of $491,004 in the preceding year.

The company's report revealed that net sales for the year totaled $268,214,921, while gross operating income for the year was $272,618,752, compared with $236,890,376 in 1933.

The consolidated balance sheet as of Dec. 31, 1934, shows current assets of $151,840,852 against current liabilities of $32,468,389. Cash and marketable securities amounted to $30,578,178. Properties, plant, and equipment were valued at $264,733,011 after depreciation. Total assets were $474,842,418.

Charge Taxes Unjust.

"Petroleum products continue to bear an unjust share of the cost of government," said Ames and Rodgers in their signed statement to stockholders. "Gasoline and lubricating oil taxes paid or accrued by your company during the year amounted to $63,175,156 and it is estimated that the total gasoline tax in the United States in 1934, including both state and federal, was $730,000,000.

"The tax on gasoline exceeded the average price received for gasoline at the refinery, or in other words, it was more than a 100 per cent sales tax on the wholesale price of the commodity," the report continues.

"The only reason for a sales tax on gasoline which does not apply to commodities in general, is that this tax, paid by the motorist, is levied for highway purposes. However, this revenue is being freqently diverted to uses having no connection with the highways, and many millions of dollare are being taken from the motorist on the theory that it is to support highways when in fact it is used for other purposes.

More Than 100 Taxes.

"Total taxes paid or accrued by your corporation to taxing authorities during the year 1934 amounted to over 70 million dollars. It is estimated that the petroleum industry is burdened with more than 100 different taxes."

Gross production by the corporation for the year was 36,196,201 barrels, the report shows, compared with 35,748,378 in 1933. The number of producing wells at the end of the year was 6,742. Acreage in the United States, owned in fee, was 766,176, under lease 4,904,520, and holdings in foreign countries 744,884. The company's runs of crude oil to stills in the United States during the year were 70,928,086 barrels, the largest in the history of the company.

Dean H. Mitchell Elected Director of South Shore

Dean H. Mitchell, vice president and general manager of the Northern Indiana Public Service company yesterday was elected a director of the Chicago, South Shore & South Bend railroad, filling a vacancy, at the annual meeting of the stockholders in Michigan City, Ind. Other directors were reëlected.

HOGS DECLINE, THEN REACT ON STRONG BUYING

Hog prices broke 10 to 15 cents yesterday under pressure of the heaviest Thursday receipts since Feb. 7, attracted here by the midweek price rise, but before the close of the session most of the earlier cuts had been regained. All local interests were active buyers.

Favorable reports from the wholesale market for fresh pork which moved up 50 cents to $1 per hundred pounds, coupled with an advance estimate of only 8,000 hogs for today, provided the trade with sufficient incentive to restore prices.

There was a more liberal showing of the new crop pigs of good quality, weighing 210 to 230 pounds, and these topped the price list at $11.35, including the processing tax.

Erratic price movements in the cattle market the last few days caused farmers to hold back supplies yesterday, and only 5,000 were offered. No strictly choice grades were available. Packers bought the meager receipts, mostly common to fair quality native steers, with a sprinkling of shipments from the far west and from Canada, at prices strong to 25 cents higher. No cattle were good enough to bring more than $12.50, a load of 1,238 pound native steers and a shipment of 1,300 pound bringing that price.

Strong to 15 cent higher prices were paid for lambs, with all interests eager buyers of good stock around $8.25.

Two Concerns Raise Lead to 3.65 Cents Per Pound

New York, March 28.—(AP)—The American Smelting and Refining company and the St. Joseph Lead company today advanced the price of lead 5 points to 3.65 cents a pound New York.

CANCO AMERICAN CAN COMPANY

COMMON STOCK

A quarterly dividend of one dollar per share has been declared on the Common Stock of this Company, payable May 15th, 1935, to Stockholders of record at the close of business April 24th, 1935. Transfer Books will remain open. Checks will be mailed.

R. A. BURGER, Secretary.

Utility securities have shrunk $3,500,000,000 in value since January 1, 1933, largely as the result of government attacks. All securities listed on the New York Stock Exchange gained $18,600,000,000 during the same period

This loss in value of utility securities is five times the Nation's annual residential electric bill.

● The Rayburn-Wheeler Bill now proposes to abolish utility holding companies, and so complete this destruction of the savings of millions of investors. It also proposes to put local electric and gas companies under strangling control from Washington. This is a direct invasion of the rights of the States which now regulate their own utility companies with their own commissions. The threat of this bill is a definite brake on recovery.

If you wish to protect your investments and your utility service, write your Representatives and Senators immediately and protest this effort to erect another costly bureaucracy on the ruins of utility companies and utility investments. Ask them to inform you promptly of their attitude on the bill.

New York, March 28.—[Special.]—The bond trading community took greater interest today in the distribution of $61,000,000 of new refunding bonds than in the market for listed securities. The market followed no uniform trend.

Treasury issues were a shade lower without apparent reason, as pertinent news from Washington was either neutral or slightly bullish. This group of bonds might easily have received strength from the treasury's announcement that on next Wednesday the discount bill offering will be only $50,000,000, compared with a maturity of $75,000,000 and with offerings of $100,000,000 in each of the last five weeks.

Believe Banks Heavily Loaded.

Some observers, however, were inclined to attribute the treasury's action not so much to increasing revenues as to evidences in the last two issues that bankers are saturated with that type of security.

The treasury's admission that approximately $375,000,000 of Fourth Liberty 4¼s had not been converted into new bonds up to the closing of the books last night did not surprise any one. The figures conformed to generally accepted estimates.

High grade corporate bonds were quiet and little changed. Traders awaited the result of the day's offerings of 4 per cent railroad and public utility bonds, the former at a small premium and the latter at par. The new Pacific Gas and Electric bonds quickly sold up to a premium of 1⅛ points.

Foreign Section Weak.

Many weak spots appeared in the foreign market, including Australian 4½s and 5s, Austrian 7s of 1957, Belgian bonds, the Polish group, including Warsaw 7s, and several Danish bonds. Kreuger & Toll 5s responded to a strong demand.

Transfers totaled $11,273,000, or slightly more than on the preceding session.

United States Leather.

Investors' Guide: Please give me a report on United States Leather company.—M. F. C.

Answer: United States Leather company is the leading domestic tanner of sole and heavy lether, accounting for about 25 per cent of total production.

The company has during recent years followed the policy of concentrating operations, disposing of excess plant facilities and using the proceeds to retire the preferred stock. During the year ended Oct. 31, 1934, for instance, it purchased 1,000 preferred shares at average cost of $69.96 a share, which have been retired. On Feb. 7, 1935, it was announced that certain timber and stripped lands had been sold for $760,000.

Since tanning takes time, the corporation normally carries a heavy inventory. Earnings consequently are usually sensitive to fluctuations in lether prices. Inventories on Oct. 31, 1934, were $8,925,000.

For the quarter ended Jan. 31, 1935, net loss was $8,000, against net income of $10,000 for the corresponding period of the preceding fiscal year.

For the year ended Oct. 31, 1934, net loss was $1,911,000, against net income of $981,000, which was 2.22 times preferred dividend requirements but only two-thirds of class A requirements, for the preceding ten months. Loss for 1932 was $1,806,000, against loss of $1,109,000 for 1931.

The management believes that operations for the quarter ended April 30, 1935, will result in a profit. Inventories were written down to market prices on Oct. 31, 1934, and benefits should result from higher prices. The first quarter loss was the result of heavy orders placed during earlier months at lower prices.

Current position on Oct. 31, 1934, was strong. Current assets were $10,903,000 and current liabilities were $623,000. Profit and loss deficit was $943,000.

Capitalization consisted of 74,755 shares of $100 par preferred, 249,743 shares of $4 dividend noncumulative participating class A stock and 397,010 shares of no par common. Nothing has been paid on the preferred since Sept. 16, 1933.

Chicago, Terre Haute and Southeastern Railway.

Investors' Guide: I would like to sell for cash my 2½ shares of Chicago, Terre Haute and Southeastern Railway company stock. Is it worth anything? If so, where can I sell it and for how much?—F. A.

Answer: On the basis of a contract made in 1921 Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railroad company has a standing offer of $10 a share for this stock. This can be accepted by sending your stock to the trust department of First National bank of Chicago.

So far as we know the stock has no other market.

ILLINOIS BOARD FINISHES RAZING OLD BUILDINGS

Chicago Work Is Turned Over to Mayor's Body.

BY AL CHASE.

After ten months of razing defective buildings throughout Chicago, the Illinois state housing board will cease demolition work on April 1, according to Alfred K. Stern, chairman. With the winding up of the emergency program the campaign for the elimination of substandard buildings will be turned over to the mayor's committee, under direction of Herman N. Bundesen, president of the board of health.

Although the state board will cease its demolition program, it will continue to secure property owners' consent for buildings to be removed by the mayor's committee on substandard housing.

Will Handle Negotiations.

Negotiations now under way will be handled by the staf. It would not be possible, Stern said, to close the demolition work so abruptly, owing to the tremendous amount of correspondence carried by the state board.

At present the state organization has approximately fifty buildings waiting for wrecking crews. With the deadline drawing near, sixteen buildings were turned over to the state board yesterday. All contracts signed before midnight of Sunday, March 31, it was stated, will be accepted.

In the ten months of the campaign, the state housing board has wrecked 609 structures and has encouraged owners in the destruction of 604 and the repair of 509.

City Departments Aid Work.

Meanwhile, the health and fire departments have been engaged in a similar campaign, begun last fall, and have razed 380 buildings. This makes a total of 1,639 demolished and 509 repaired out of a total of 3,827 buildings listed by the board as requiring demolition, and 3,459 as in immediate need of repairs.

The survey work of the state housing board, it was stated by Stern, will be continued. So far, 7,286 defective buildings have been found.

TWO DIRECTORS ADDED TO BOARD OF BUTLER BROS.

Stockholders of Butler Brothers, large Chicago wholesale mercantile and chain retail store company, voted to increase the size of the board of directors from twelve to fourteen at their annual meeting yesterday. New directors elected were: Cecil D. Southard, Wesley M. Dixon, and Leland K. Neeves.

Frank S. Cunningham, president, in commenting on the change in bylaws which authorized the increase in the size of the board, said the purpose was to enable the company to have in greater degree the benefit of constructive and informed criticism from men who have the outside viewpoint.

The board of directors elected Frank J. Kearns, former credit manager of the Minneapolis division, treasurer of the company to succeed Edward Sheehy. Sheehy, who has also been a vice president and director, will continue in these capacities.

All other officers of the company were reëlected.

$125,000 BRINGS FIVE $1,818,000 IN UTILITY FIELD

Albany, N. Y., March 28.—(AP)—The legislative utility investigating committee today traced profits of $1,818,000 from transactions with companies of the Associated Gas and Electric holding system to Howard C. Hopson, dominant figure in the system, and members of his family.

The committee showed the profits were obtained over a six year period of an original investment of only $125,000.

The figures were revealed by Stuart Ross, accountant for the committee which is investigating public utility companies, under examination by John E. Mack, committee counsel.

Ross testified that Hopson and four sisters invested the amount in H. C. Hopson and company, a partnership which did work for the gas and electric operating companies of the associated system in rate cases.

KENNECOTT NET EARNINGS RISE SHARPLY IN 1934

New York, March 28.—[Special.]—The Kennecott Copper corporation today reported consolidated net income of $5,719,854 for 1934 after the deduction of all taxes, depreciation, and charges, but before depletion, equivalent to 53 cents a share on the capital stock. It compared with a net income before depletion of $2,444,706 in 1933, or 21 cents a share.

Current assets as of Dec. 31, 1934, amounted to $57,893,756 and current liabilities were $5,982,347, compared with $54,848,668 and $5,882,750, respectively, at the close of 1933. Cash and government securities at cost, which is below the present market price, amounted to $27,519,889, compared with $23,071,658 on Dec. 31, 1933.

Structural Steel Orders Rise from January Slump

New York, March 28.—(AP)—Fabricated structural steel bookings during February compared favorably with the volume in the same month last year, according to reports to the American Iron and Steel institute. The large drop in bookings during January, however, the institute stated, keeps the record of business to date this year under last year's average.

Report Coal Output Gains Over Week and Year Ago

New York, March 27.—(AP)—Coal production in the United States during the week ended March 23 is estimated by the National Coal association at 9,350,000 tons compared with 8,903,000 tons in the previous week and 8,657,000 tons in the same week last year.

BOND NOTES

Investment dealers reported yesterday that the offering of $45,000,000 Pacific Gas and Electric company first and refunding 4 per cent bonds has been a marked success. It was stated that the group selling the bonds closed the books before the close of business and that no allotments are being made against additional subscriptions.

The new Swift 3¾ per cent first mortgage bonds, traded in over the counter on a when-issued basis, were quoted yesterday at 101¼ bid, 101½ asked. The entire issue of $43,000,000 has been taken up largely by banks and insurance companies from Salomon Brothers & Hutzler, acting as selling agents of the company. This deal, the first large piece of industrial financing to be handled under the securities act, was notable for the cautiousness with which the investment house acted in handling it in order to conform with every detail of the new law. On the other hand, the Chicago banks buying the bonds moved just as warily in order to obey the provisions of the banking act of 1933, which limits bank investment activities.

The Public Service Company of Northern Illinois yesterday was authorized by the Illinois commerce commission to borrow $10,712,500 from Chicago banks at 3 per cent interest to refund 6¼ per cent bonds maturing July 1, 1937. The loan authorized would be used to take up such of the series G bonds as are not exchanged for series H bonds under the company's conversion plan. The greater part of the bonds is expected to be converted.

The Chicago Union Station company first mortgage 4 per cent bonds, due July 1, 1963, were quoted yesterday at 103½. The bonds were offered at 99½. This issue, totaling $16,000,000, was another piece of refinancing which was absorbed in the market without delay.

A syndicate headed by the First National bank, New York, was awarded a new issue of $1,500,000 city of Buffalo, N. Y., work relief bonds, dated April 15, 1935, and due April 15, 1940. The price paid was 100.24 for the bonds as 2⅛s. The syndicate will offer the bonds today at a price to yield 2.25 per cent.

Sales of Canadian bond issues, with the exception of treasury bills, totaled $2,064,900 in March, compared with $10,609,042 in March, 1934, according to the Dominion Securities corporation. The dominion sold $15,000,000 of discount treasury bills on March 21.

Among the companies reported in La Salle street as likely to engage in refinancing to take advantage of the low interest rates are Commercial Credit Trust, Cleveland Electric Illuminating company, and National Dairy Products. It was pointed out that any utility company having bonds bearing coupons from 5 to 5½ per cent offers a refinancing possibility. The same applies to companies with preferred stock of 7 per cent or higher.

SPEYER FIGHTS PROFIT CHARGE IN FRISCO CASE

New York, March 28.—(AP)—Financial and legal giants swung into action here today as James Speyer, diminutive and peppery railroad banker, defended the relations of his firm with the bankrupt St. Louis-San Francisco Railway company.

In a hearing before Special Master Van Vechten Veeder, counsel for the trustees of the Frisco succeeded in showing that Speyer & Co., former bankers for the road, had profited to the extent of $1,719,000 through stock transactions and commissions incident to the purchase of 275,000 shares of the Rock Island in 1926.

At the same time the banker appeared to have headed off attempts of counsel for the trustee to show that he, himself, his family or firm had made any profit of consequence out of the capital reorganization of the Frisco in 1928. Speyer was able to adduce records showing that his interest in holdings of the securities which benefited from the reorganization were small and that losses about balanced gains.

REPORTS BANKS FAIL TO FIGHT CONTROL BILL

Washington, D. C., March 28.—[Special.] — Running short of witnesses, the house banking and currency committee decided today to begin on Monday its redraft of the noncontroversial portions of the omnibus administration banking bill. Public hearings will be resumed briefly during the week, however.

On the question of the lack of witnesses, one committee member said that "bankers don't want to get their necks out" by appearing in opposition to the bill.

Chairman Steagall predicted that it would take a long time to complete committee work on the bill, and said that the committee should hasten as much as possible. The draft under consideration was prepared by federal reserve board experts, under the direction of Marriner S. Eccles, governor of the board.

Great Lakes Coal Trafic Placed at 36,500,000 Tons

Cleveland, O., March 28.—Great Lakes coal trafic for the coming season probably will total 36,500,000 tons, H. M. Griggs, manager of the ore and coal exchange, said recently. He estimated that 35,250,000 tons of cargo coal would be carried and 1,250,000 tons of vessel fuel. Griggs said that bituminous coal on American docks at the head of the lakes March 1 totaled 3,269,394 tons, about 700,000 tons more than a year ago, but slightly lower than the average for the last five years.

Colorado Fuel and Iron 'Technical Corner' Ended

New York, March 28.—(AP)—New York Stock exchange officials today announced that the "technical corner" which had loomed in Colorado Fuel and Iron company preferred stock had vanished. It had been reported in brokerage circles late yesterday that an insufficient supply of the shares for borrowing purposes had developed but today found an adequate supply forthcoming. Only 20,000 shares are outstanding.

MACHINES OPEN RECOVERY ROUTE, SAYS HARRISON

No Barrier to Workers, He Asserts.

That modern machinery has given more jobs than it has taken was argued last night by R. E. W. Harrison, chief of the machinery division of the department of commerce, before the annual machine shop practice meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, Chicago chapter. Improvements in production equipment were demonstrated at the meeting held in the auditorium of the Engineering building, 205 West Wacker drive.

"Increased mechanization is not a barrier to reëmployment, but is one of the ways out of the depression," Mr. Harrison declared. "Although it is obvious that a given machine may eliminate hand labor, often in a spectacular way, the machine year by year has contributed to a larger volume of national employment. The crash of 1929 was due to financial rather than technological factors."

Mr. Harrison pointed out that with the continual improvement of industrial equipment, the number of employed persons in this country, increased from 38 millions in 1910 to 49 millions in 1930. In the same period the number of farm workers decreased from 12½ millions to 10½ millions, while industrial workers went from 11½ millions to 15½ millions, and service workers from 14 millions to 23 millions.

HELP WANTED—MEN.

Miscellaneous.

There's an old story—

that many a man who could make $7,500 a year or more never gets into that class because he has an inferiority complex. In other words, he's scared out.

There's a good moral to that story. And here's a case in point. I have an opening right now for two good men in electrical unit business with unlimited opportunity. But I can't afford to offer these places to any fellow who would be scared to death if he found he was making a percentage rate of $7,500 a year.

The money is here to be made. Others are making it. If you feel that your ability is below average or that you'll always be in the rut of low-bracket earnings, save your time.

If, on the other hand, you wouldn't mind stepping into the real money class, I'll be glad to give you an interview. 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Mr. Jones. Rm. 618, 203 N. Wabash-av.

WHAT TYPE OF MAN IS REQUIRED TO make $75 a week by the end of a year, with no previous experience? He must be intelligent and industrious, vigorous and dependable.

This company has helped place almost countless men in positions of security, permanency and profit without their investing a penny. It takes approximately $5,000 of this company's resources and electric. unit equipment to establish a man in earnings. The commissions paid are generous, the training brief, the method practical.

I invite men who can measure up to genuine opportunity, fortified by a dependable background of continuous trade gains ever since 1928!

Ask for Mr. Bentley at Chateau, 330 N. Austin-blvd., Oak Park, today, March 29, at 3 p. m. Inquire at desk in lobby.

WITHIN THE NEXT FEW DAYS THIS highly successful manufacturer of electrical machines and units will select and finance in business a few North Side men who have initiative and good references. If you wish to realize ever-mounting commission checks and will work hard for genuine and permanent success, I shall be ready to talk it over in Room 205 at 4800 Milwaukee-av., at 11:15 a. m. sharp, Friday, March 29. Be on time and be prepared to put in about 90 minutes if it appears we can get together. I cannot use men under 26 or over 40.

"Operators Wanted"

Prepare at DeLEE with Mme. Louise

Exclusive beauty shops want operators who have been trained the DeLEE way, under Mme. Louise. Mme. Louise, internationally famous hairdressing and beauty culture expert, will aid personally in training you for a BETTER POSITION and a larger income.

At DeLEE you will find the ideal "set-up"—capable instructors who have had years of teaching experience, and up to date 100% equipment. Classrooms are colorful, light, and airy.

A RECOGNIZED SCHOOL.

The DeLEE University of Beauty Culture is the only beauty school which has been permitted to incorporate as a University in Illinois. DeLEE meets all requirements of the Department of Education and Registration. Why be satisfied with an old fashioned "trade school" training, when the DeLEE "university type" of schooling is available at no greater cost? Previous experience or a high school education NOT necessary. Day and evening classes. Tuition reasonable and payments can be arranged to suit your convenience.

A visit to DeLEE won't obligate you. It will open your eyes. Come in TODAY.

BURNHAM

(For 64 years the world's largest beauty school)

The easy-to-learn Burnham System quickly enables you to become a skilled beauty operator. Plenty of living models. You learn by doing rather than by studying. Each teacher a specialist. Fewer pupils per teacher. 64 years' knowing how to teach gives you a flying start.

SEE FOR YOURSELF WHY MORE GIRLS ENROLL AT BURNHAM'S THAN IN ANY OTHER BEAUTY SCHOOL.

Wonderful opportunity for those who enroll now. Pay for MOST of your tuition after graduating. You can take advantage of many money-saving offers. Our advice to every girl who wants to take up beauty culture is to visit Burnham's NOW. Call, phone, or write for Free Beauty Book T. Open every day and on Monday, Wednesday, Friday evenings.

A Marinello Story for Girls Like You

ONE DAY LAST FALL A GIRL just like you read our ad, mailed the coupon, and from our reply learned of the wonderful opportunities offered Marinello beauticians in the beauty profession.

IMMEDIATELY she enrolled in our school and found the work so interesting and delightful, in the large sunny class rooms equipped just like regular beauty shops, that the time quickly passed and before she realized it graduation time had arrived. How thrilled she was when she received her certificate. Now she is earning a GOOD SALARY as a successful Marinello operator and has already made plans to open a shop of her own this summer. You can do the same.

Visit Our School—or Write today for interesting Free illustrated booklet and set of photographs describing the complete course of training offered by MARINELLO—the World's largest and finest system of beauty culture.

"1001" REASONS.
YOU—WILL—ENJOY—LIVING—AT
The Bryn Mawr Apt. Hotel.

ONE REASON—HARMONY.
During the past 3 years most of us have experienced many disappointments. To keep on fighting requires strength—constructive thinking—considerable rest and sleep—the right kind of environment—HARMONY, in other words.
Of the 400 people, who are now living at the BRYN MAWR, most of them are here because they know they are surrounded by "their kind of people"—men and women who are trying to get somewhere—who enjoy life—who get a good grip on their sense of humor and hang on to it—who entertain—but who know what the management means when it says, "moderation in all things."

USED AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE.

HOW TO BUY a GOOD USED CAR

1. Select a dealer upon whose integrity and reputation you can rely completely.
2. Set a price range within which you can sensibly afford to purchase.
3. Decide beforehand on one or two makes of long standing and good reputation.
4. When you find the car meeting your requirements, check the serial number to be certain of the year.
5. Give the car a thorough driving test and check the tires, brakes and other mechanical parts of the car.
6. Don't be misled by trick advertising or high pressure salesmanship.
7. Finally, make certain that you have selected a dealer to whom you can return for satisfactory treatment if anything unforeseen develops.
